Security Fund Mortgage Notes.

These notes are not the promise-to-pay of "Home Builders" or of this subsidiary—The Security Fund. They are the notes given by the party who made the mortgage as security for the notes themselves. In other words, Security Fund Mortgage Notes, which are in sums of $100, $250, $500, $1000, etc., are the notes of the mortgagor issued through the Title Guarantee and Trust Company as Trustee and upon which they were developed by "Home Builders" in its building and other operations. The Security Fund guarantees both mortgage and interest. In every case they are first mortgage with security of 2½ worth of property for each $1 of mortgage. Insurance carried to face of loan.

It were like going to a bank and buying first mortgages secured loans, after it had done all of the detail work of making and passing upon the security, title, etc., then to guarantee of the mortgage and interest.

NATION MOURNS THE DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN.

The Light of a Sunny Character Goes Out Forever.

James Schoolcraft Sherman,

Vice-President of the United States, and candidate for re-election, who died in Utica, N. Y., of uraemic poisoning. The Vice-President had been ill for some time, and the end was not unexpected. Doubt is expressed in dispatches received last night that, owing to the lateness of the day, the Republican National Committee will undertake to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by Mr. Sherman's death.

Too Early to Say, However, the Turks Have Lost Their Last Chance.

BY PAUL LAMBETH.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Wireless from Chicago to The Times.]

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Yet again have the Bulgarians won a great victory. A message received from Sofia at 1:30 this morning, states that after two days fighting, the Bulgarians have completely routed the main Turkish army. The Turks are said to have retreated in disorder. It is too early to say at present whether the Turks have lost their last chance, but in view of the fact that Sofia advices never have shown any tendency to exaggeration there can be little doubt that Nazim Pasha has suffered defeat. We shall know very soon whether he has been crushed or able to withdraw sufficient forces along the coast road towards Constantinople and by inoculating himself in Chatalja, the lines will be able again to face his victorious foes.

The Bulgarians, who have richly earned the title of the Japanese of the Balkans, may have been disappointed in the hope of achieving Adrianople, owing to the clever dispositions of Nazif's forces, but they certainly follow up their advantage and give the retreating Turks no rest. Latest estimates put the strength of the Turkish army at 256,000 men, whereas it is doubtful if the Bulgarians would exceed 150,000, and the victory won in spite of this big disparity of numbers is a memorable achievement in modern annals. Most of the news about the battle was previously received from Turkish sources and as usual announced that the Turks were successful and there was great satisfaction at Constantinople in consequence.

It is clear that owing to the movement of the Bulgarians up to the coast of the Black Sea the Turkish army, to avoid being outflanked, is at Kirk-Kilisseh, also moved eastward, and their position at the commencement of the battle probably extended from the Tchorlou on the west through Cherkeskul to Hademja and the mountains by the coast while the Bulgarian line reached from Lule Burgas to Vira and also to Midia on the Black Sea.

GREAT VICTORY WON BY BULGARS.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

SOFIA, Oct. 31, 1:30 a.m.—After two days fighting the Bulgarian army has gained a complete victory over the principal Turkish forces. The Turks have retreated in disorder. The town of Lule Burgas has been taken.

Public attention has been centered on the operations around Adrianople and the movements of the Bulgarians against Lule Burgas. This town is an important point in the Turkish second line of defense, which stretches from there westward to Demotika. Its capture would indicate that this second line had been broken. Should this be the case the Turks probably would retreat to Tchorlou, where they possibly might make a stand.

PLOT TO MASSACRE EUROPEANS IN TURKEY.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 30.—According to trustworthy information a plot has been discovered at Beirut, Syria, to massacre the leading European residents. In response to the appeal of the French Consul there, a French warship is now cruising in Syrian waters.

The Servian legation in London has received a dispatch announcing that the headquarters of the Servian army was today transferred to Uskub.

MORE SHIPS FOR BEIRUT.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—[By Cable and A. P.] As a matter of precaution the government will dispatch tomorrow additional ships to Beirut, from which port they can readily reach any menaced point, and protect foreign subjects. France and Great Britain are acting together in this matter, the latter sending ships to Smyrna, where the Turks have been landing troops from Asia Minor.

Charles Becker,

Former lieutenant of the New York police force, whose dejected countenance as he hears the jury bring in a verdict of guilty shows that for a moment, at least, he lost his iron nerve. He is now in a death cell at Sing Sing directing his fight for an appeal.

BECKER ALONE IN DEATH CELL.

EXECUTION WILL BE STAYED PENDING APPEAL.

With Stolid Countenance and Head Erect, He Faces Several Hundred Curious Persons in Sing Sing and Waves Adieu to His Wife in Warden's Office.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OSSINING (N. Y.) Oct. 30.—Former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker is in the "death-house" at Sing Sing Prison tonight under sentence to die in the electric chair during the week of December 9, the convicted murderer of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal. He was brought here from New York today immediately after sentence was pronounced upon him by Justice Goff in the courtroom where he was found guilty six days ago.

Becker's execution will be stayed, however, by the filing in the interim of a notice of appeal from the verdict. In this lies Becker's only hope of escape from death. His last words before the gates of the prison were shut behind him this afternoon were:

"I come here an innocent man. I never had a chance. I was railroaded. But the fight has only begun. I expect a reversal of the verdict and a new trial."

Becker, manacled to a deputy sheriff, arrived at the prison at 1:30 o'clock after a twenty-minute walk through the streets of the village surrounded by several hundred persons curious to see him. With stolid countenance and head erect, Becker withstood the ordeal without losing his composure.

A window of the warden's office framed a woman's tear-stained face as Becker marched up the prison walk. It was that of the convicted man's wife, who had accompanied him from New York and had driven ahead of him from the railroad station. Becker waved his hand sadly and the woman threw a kiss.

An hour later, after the formality of taking the prisoner's pedigree had been disposed of, Becker was in his death cell in solitary confinement clad in prison garb and entered as prisoner No. 62,499. Ten other condemned murderers occupy cells in the "death-house" with him.

Mrs. Becker was allowed to see her husband through the steel screen of his cell door before she departed, but was forbidden entrance. She purposes to make her residence in Ossining during her husband's confinement and will be allowed to visit him daily, but not to enter his cell.

ZELIG'S SLAYER PLEADS GUILTY.

ESCAPES ELECTRIC CHAIR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Red Phil Davidson, slayer of Big Jack Zelig, the gang leader, will escape the electric chair. At the opening of his trial today he withdrew his former plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder. The penalty may be life imprisonment. A jury was obtained in record time. Justice Goff then called to the stand physicians who had examined the defendant and on their testimony that he was weak mentally, the plea of second degree murder was accepted. Sentence was deferred.

J. F. McIntyre, Becker's chief counsel, who suffered a nervous collapse after the close of the trial was unable to be in court today. His condition is serious but not critical.

MUDDLED BY DEATH.

Politicians Are All Confounded.

Ballots Now Printed and the Name of Sherman May Remain Thereon.

Suggestion Is Made That Electoral College Nominate a Successor.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The bulletins tonight announcing that Vice-President Sherman was dying, followed later by the news of his death, cast a shadow over the capital, where "Sunny Jim" had been a great favorite. His popularity was not marked by party lines and long before he was thought of for a place on a Presidential ticket he had formed personal friendships among political opponents that continued unbroken.

When the split came in the Republican ranks a few years ago the insurgents maintained their regard for the presiding officer of the Senate—and these were times that smashed personal friendships along with the severing of political ties.

EFFECT OF HIS DEATH.

In connection with the general interest that was aroused over the Vice-President's condition when it became known that his illness in all probability would result fatally—and interest that would have prevailed at any time—there has been deep concern over the effect his death would have on the present political situation. It has been perfectly obvious that there is a possibility of complications of a political character connected with his passing within a few days of the election that would not be presented were the day of voting for electors not so near at hand. It is regarded as altogether too late now for the Republican National Committee to exercise any power it may possess of filling a vacancy on the Taft-Sherman ticket.

Had Mr. Sherman died a few weeks ago it might have been possible to set the party machinery in motion and name another man for whom the Republican electors would vote in the Electoral College.

BALLOTS PRINTED.

Inasmuch as the official ballots have been printed in many of the States in accordance with the certification of the nominations made at the national conventions, it is probable the names of Taft and Sherman still will be at the head of the Republican column everywhere throughout the country. It will make no vital difference so far as preserving the entity of the Republican national ticket is concerned in case the Republicans win at the polls next Tuesday, although the ticket that was to be voted for is broken by death.

The electors who are voted for Tuesday do not meet in their respective States until January and the Republican members of the college will have it in their power to vote for a candidate for Vice-President regardless of the nomination made at Chicago last June. In all probability the machinery will be set in motion after the election Tuesday to name some particular man for whom all the Republican electors chosen will cast their ballots for Vice-President.

TO FILL THE VACANCY.

The selection of the individual to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Sherman's death is likely to be influenced largely by the result of the popular vote November 5. If the result then shows that the Republicans are to have a majority in the Electoral College the task of selecting candidates might be far easier in some respects than it would be in the case of other expressions from the people. If it was shown that one of the other parties were to have the Presidency after March 4, it would make no great difference who was selected for the empty honor of being voted for by a minority in the Electoral College. But if, perchance, no party has a majority in the Electoral College, thereby throwing the election of a President and Vice-President into the House of Representatives and Senate respectively, the problem of agreeing on a Vice-President to be voted for perfunctorily in the Electoral College would be a most delicate one.

It is a foregone conclusion that the present House of Representatives will be unable to choose a President if

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

UTICA (N. Y.) Oct. 30.—After a long illness Vice-President James Schoolcraft Sherman died at his home in this city at 9:42 o'clock tonight of uraemic poison, caused by Bright's disease. He had been sinking since early morning and it was realized that death was a question only of a few hours. There was slight relief shortly after 7 o'clock, caused by an apparent improvement in the condition of the kidneys, but it did not prove real or lasting and at best gave only temporary hope.

At 9 o'clock the patient's temperature rose to 106. From that time his condition rapidly passed from bad to worse until the end.

Mr. Sherman was unconscious when the end came and had been in that condition several hours.

All the members of the immediate family were witnesses to the final scene. In addition to Mrs. Sherman, there were in the death chamber their three sons, Sherrill, Richard U. and Thomas M. Sherman and their respective wives; R. M. and Sanford Sherman, brothers of Mr. Sherman, and Mrs. L. B. Moore and Mrs. H. J. Cookinham, sisters of Mrs. Sherman.

DOCTOR'S STATEMENT.

Soon after Mr. Sherman's death, Dr. Fayette H. Peck, the attending physician, issued the following statement:

"The Vice-President died at 9:42 p.m., without regaining consciousness for a moment. He was perfectly quiet. He died in the presence of his wife, her brother and sister, his two brothers and his three sons and their wives. He had been entirely unconscious since 7 o'clock, when he had a period of partial consciousness lasting for about fifteen minutes. He died in a uraemic coma as a result of Bright's disease, heart disease and arterio sclerosis."

Mrs. Sherman bore up bravely under the shock of her husband's death, as also did the other members of the family.

A few of the intimate friends of the family called tonight to express their sympathy, among them Dr. A. H. Holden, pastor of Christ Reformed Church, where the Shermans worship.

Soon after the Vice-President's death it was announced the members of the family wished to be left undisturbed tonight and that no arrangements for the funeral would be made before tomorrow.

Dr. Peck remained at the Sherman home for a time and notified several of Mrs. Sherman's friends by telephone that the end had come.

UNIVERSAL SORROW.

The announcement of the Vice-President's death spread quickly through the city. Universal sorrow was expressed and immediate steps were taken for the proper recognition of the sorrowful event. Mr. Sherman was regarded as the first citizen of Utica and all differences growing out of politics died with him.

The Mayor gave out a statement voicing the general grief and the bell at the City Hall, as well as many church bells tolled out the news.

Not only did the Republican organization take proper recognition of the event, but the Progressives announced their intention of cancelling all meetings until after the Vice-President's funeral. Gov. Johnson, who so long as Mr. Sherman lived was his rival for Vice-Presidential honors, was to have spoken here tomorrow night in behalf of the Progressive ticket, but his address, like all other events of the kind, has been deferred.

The Democrats signified their intention of removing a Wilson and Marshall banner which had been flung across one of the city streets and of suspending all political activity until after the funeral.

MAYOR'S TRIBUTE.

In the course of his tribute, Mayor Baker said:

"Mr. Sherman has long been identified with the business interests of Utica. He was ever alert in taking

MRS. CLEVELAND ENJOYS FREE MAIL PRIVILEGE.

Postoffice Department in Doubt Whether Her Contemplated Change in Name Through Marriage Will Abrogate Congressional Statute Extending Special Grant to Her.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Whether Mrs. Cleveland when she marries Prof. Preston will lose the privilege of "franking" her mail that is customarily granted all widows of ex-Presidents, was the question which the Postoffice Department today sidestepped with the declaration "they would not cross that bridge until they came to it."

By a special act of Congress several years ago, the department was authorized to accept as prepaid all mail countersigned by Mrs. Cleveland, and issued formal instructions to postmasters requiring them to recognize her signature.

New orders will have to be issued instructing recognition of the new signature when Mrs. Cleveland becomes Mrs. Preston, if the "franking" privilege is continued. It was the opinion here today the only way Mrs. Cleveland could lose the mailing frank was by repeal by Congress of the statute granting her the courtesy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to a report issued today by the Department of Agriculture, girls make better farmers than boys.

The department a few years ago organized boys' and girls' clubs to encourage young folks to raise crops. There are 25,000 girls enrolled in the clubs today. This year in Oklahoma alone girls raised and canned more than ninety varieties of fruits and vegetables, beating the boys hollow.

Order Is Made by Secretary of the Treasury Who Feels He Has Abundant Authority for His Act Under Under the Existing Statutes—Follows Example of Twenty-six States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Use of the common drinking cup has been prohibited on all interstate railroad trains by a quarantine order issued today by Secretary MacVeagh. The order was promulgated upon the recommendation of Surgeon-General Blue of the public health and marine hospital service, and is one of the most advanced steps ever taken by the Federal government in protecting the health of the people.

Hereafter, all railroads will be prohibited from furnishing common drinking cups. Every person will either have to furnish his own cup or do without a drink. The order is similar to the law which is in effect in twenty-six States.

THE CITY.—Two automobiles collided on Los Feliz road last evening, and one woman was killed and all the other occupants of the cars injured. A mistaken signal was responsible for the accident.

Gen. M. H. Sherman returned yesterday from a six-months' tour of the world. He saw the Chinese trouble at short range, and believes China will settle down to an enduring republican form of government. Everywhere he found people interested in Southern California.

Lieut.-Col. McKinstry will hold a hearing this morning in regard to improvements at the harbor. The government will be asked by the city to aid in strengthening the east inner lines, to dredge the channel to a point east of Wilmington, and plan for the diversion of river silt.

The husband of the young socialite woman who filed charges against Guy Eddie, suspended City Prosecutor, testified yesterday that Eddie and an attorney called on him relative to the charges, and that Eddie asked the man's aid, declaring he would do anything he could in return.

According to Rear-Admiral Coutts, paymaster-general of the navy, the Mare Island navy yard may have to be moved to a place where the great battleships can be supplied with immense quantities of fresh water without trouble, and there is a prospect of its being removed to Los Angeles Harbor.

A Salt Lake man is here investigating proposed sites for a $1,500,000 stockyards and packing plant. He believes this city is destined to become as great a meat distributing center as are Kansas City and Chicago.

S. C. Graham, member of the Public Service Commission, read a defense of the commission's plan for the distribution of the surplus water of the Los Angeles aqueduct at the City Club luncheon yesterday. Meyer Lissner assumed the beard of unfairness to the voters.

Bishop Archibald Rolyska, living in Milwaukee, has filed notice of contest in the probation of the will of his father, the late Frank H. Rolyska of Bangor, Me. The son alleges the will is a forgery, executed while the wealthy lumberman was mentally unsound.

Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles forest reserve, received word yesterday that the fourth nursery at Converse Flats has been designated as one of two government experimental stations for investigation of forestry conditions in this State.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.—The new principal of the Pasadena High School has introduced aviation in a regular course, and has appointed the physical director as instructor.

Extensive improvements to cost a large sum of money are planned by by the Edison Electric Company in its plant on the inner harbor at Long Beach.

A Los Angeles fish company, known as a so-called trust, has won its fight with the Independent fishermen in San Diego and Mexican waters, and the price of fish there is expected to be increased.

A new-born baby was tossed from a Pullman car window near Bakersfield yesterday morning, and detectives are endeavoring to find the mother and his slayer.

The report of an expert on the gas rate at San Bernardino is likely to influence the action of the City Council. A lower rate is expected to be adopted, in which event a fight from the gas companies is looked for.

The Ontario Chamber of Commerce has re-elected its officers, and in an enthusiastic meeting laid plans for a campaign of prosperity.

PACIFIC SLOPE.—William J. Johnson, boxing instructor for a Sacramento club, has accepted the position of Chief of Police of that city.

Edward Salyards was jailed at Tacoma yesterday on a charge of defrauding the National Bank of Commerce out of $4356. He was arrested in Denver.

Because of the shortage on the soft wheat yield in Eastern States, hard wheat grown in eastern Washington is finding a ready market in Montana and Kentucky.

Mrs. H. C. Abeley, after her return to Long Beach from Minneapolis, agreed to the conditions for the dismissal of the contest of the will of her late husband, the millionaire lumberman, retaining personal property taken to California, except that she returns securities to Minnesota.

Ivan McGregor of Stockton has confessed to an attempt to blackmail Mrs. E. C. Long, a neighbor. McGregor is in jail and will be turned over to the Federal authorities.

Elijah Benton Hill of San Pedro has succeeded in locating at Van Buren, Ark., a sister from whom he has been separated almost fifty years.

The City Council of Seattle has engaged an expert to make an estimate of the cost of establishing a municipal telephone system, it being the intention to submit to the voters a proposition to issue bonds for such a system, even though the State statute will have to be amended by the Legislature to authorize it.

A movement has been started for the erection of sufficient new State buildings at Sacramento to permit the housing of all State officers at the capital.

A sharp controversy has arisen between the officials of Oakland and the men in charge of the Panama-Pacific Exposition regarding an alleged pledge by Oakland to the exposition fund.

GENERAL EASTERN.—Former President Roosevelt last night addressed an audience in Madison Square Garden that filled the auditorium from floor to roof, and made a last appeal before election to vote the new party into power. He was greeted with a bedlam of noise that did not cease for almost an hour.

Mrs. Louisa Lindhoff of Chicago has been placed on trial charged with poisoning her fifteen-year-old son, to get the money on his life insurance policy.

Five nuns and a child perished and three others were injured in a fire that yesterday destroyed a Catholic orphanage at San Antonio, Tex. The sisters and clergy performed deeds of valor in rescuing the children from the burning building, and the sister superior fell back into the flames to death with a babe in her arms.

A girl baby was yesterday born to Mrs. David M. Morris of New York, whose husband was drowned in the Titanic wreck while the couple were on their honeymoon.

In the dynamite conspiracy trial at Indianapolis Detective Foster yesterday testified that Herbert S. Hockin, secretary of the ironworkers, had declared it would be as much as his life is worth to give evidence against the other defendants.

Two newspaper reporters in testifying in the Lawrence textile strike cases, yesterday gave the first detailed account of the shooting of Annie Lopizzo, for whose alleged murder three men are on trial at Salem, Mass.

Medinah Temple was dedicated last night by the Shriners at Chicago. It is the largest building of its kind in North America, and cost $650,000.

A man named Gus T. Angeles was arrested in Denver yesterday, charged with having committed a murder in Milwaukee last May.

Rodney B. Swift, testifying in the International Harvester case yesterday, said it was the usual practice for the company to employ attorneys to defeat obnoxious bills before State legislatures.

In his speeches in New Jersey yesterday Gov. Wilson urged the election of a Democratic Legislature in order that William Hughes might be sent to the United States Senate.

The confession of a chief steward reported by Rear-Admiral Osterhaus implicates the stewards of many other ships of the Atlantic fleet, and may expose a widespread system of graft.

WASHINGTON.—Girls make better farmers than boys, according to a report issued yesterday by the United States Department of Agriculture.

FOREIGN.—Sixty women of Sydney, N. S. W., have gone to jail rather than submit to the payment of fines for wearing long hatpins.

Queen Eleanor of Bulgaria has assumed the dress of an ordinary nurse in the military hospital at Philippopolis, and is attending the sick and wounded brought in from the battlefields.

Officers both of the United States and European countries are seeking Nestor Wilmot, managing director of a Ghent railway company, whose disappearance was followed by the announcement of a $6,000,000 shortage on the company's books.

FINANCIAL.—The report that Austria and Russia have reached an understanding regarding the Balkans sent down wheat in the Chicago pit yesterday, the bears being quick to take advantage of the movement.

The Balkan war cloud hung heavy over Wall street yesterday, but there was a rally in the closing hour. The call loan rate again went up to 6 per cent.

AERIAL RECRUIT KILLED.

Biplane Collapses at Height of Two Hundred Feet and Hurls Bavarian Officer to Death.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

MUNICH (Bavaria) Oct. 30.—Lieut. Moritz Hamberger, a Bavarian military aviator, was killed today on the aviation ground at Oberwiesenfeld.

Lieut. Hamburger, who had only recently been assigned to the aerial corps, was making a flight around the aerdrome in his biplane when it collapsed and fell from a height of more than 200 feet.

The cause of the accident is unknown.

SORROW REIGNS IN THE CAPITAL

Washington Is Grief Stricken Over Sherman's Death.

Bacon Has Charge of the Senate's Proceedings.

President Taft and Others Wire Their Condolences.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—News of Vice-President Sherman's death, though it had been expected hourly, was received with profound sorrow in official Washington. At the capitol, where every attache considered him a friend, at the government departments, where he was a frequent visitor among the Cabinet officers, and among the diplomatic corps, where he had many close friends, the announcement caused genuine regret.

Immediately on receipt of the news Col. Daniel N. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, dispatched formal notification to Senator Bacon, temporary President of the Senate, now in New York on his way back to Georgia after a campaign tour, and asked for instructions.

President Taft and the Cabinet probably will attend the funeral.

Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court is expected also to assign two Associate Justices to represent the court.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

President Taft will issue a proclamation directing that for thirty days all the United States embassies and legations abroad shall observe mourning. The flags over the White House, the dome of the Capitol and the other public buildings in Washington will be half-masted tomorrow and until the day of the funeral. From the Navy Department and the War Department orders were flashed to all army posts, ships at sea, navy yards and insular possessions to put flags at half-mast on the day of the funeral.

Many members of the diplomatic corps are expected to attend the funeral services, though not officially.

NO PRESIDING OFFICER.

The Vice-President's death leaves the present Senate without any regular presiding officer. The late Senator Frye's place as President pro tempore never has been filled. Neither Senator Gallinger, the candidate of the regular Republicans, nor Senator Bacon, the candidate for the Democrats, has been able to command the necessary vote. The progressive Republicans on each ballot have prevented an election. Meanwhile, during the Vice-President's several-months' absence, the Senate has been presided over by Senators Gallinger and Bacon alternately, by common agreement.

By this agreement Senator Bacon is to preside over the Senate when Congress reassembles on December 2, and until December 16. Therefore Senator Bacon is charged with the duties of his office now and he will make the arrangements for the Senate's participation in the funeral ceremonies.

According to the Constitution the succession to the Vice-Presidency now goes to Secretary Knox of the State Department, who also figures as a Presidential possibility should the election throw the contest into the House.

Former President Extends Sympathy of Himself and His Wife to Mrs. Sherman.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Just after he left the Madison Square meeting, Col. Roosevelt was informed of the death of Vice-President Sherman. The colonel immediately sent the following telegram:

"Mrs. James S. Sherman, Utica, N. Y.: Mrs. Roosevelt and I are greatly shocked and concerned at the sad news of your husband's death. We beg you to accept our most sincere sympathy.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Department of Agriculture Proposes a Quarantine on All New England Christmas Trees.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Prepared to protest against the proposed enactment of a quarantine on Christmas trees and other holiday greenery produced in New England, State officials of Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts have gone to Washington. Today they will appear at the Department of Agriculture and endeavor to prove that the forest products used at Christmas time do not carry the eggs of the destructive gypsy and brown-tail moths.

A new provision in the agricultural bill authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to quarantine any State, territory or district where there is a dangerous plant disease or insect. The department has found that gypsy moth eggs may be transported on Christmas trees and greens.

Muddled by Death.

the election is thrown into that body. There are twenty-two States controlled by the Republicans and twenty-two by the Democrats. The delegations from Maine, Nebraska, New Mexico and Rhode Island are evenly divided politically, so these four States would be unable to cast ballots for the Presidency, each State being allowed one vote as determined by a majority of its delegation and a majority of all the States being required to effect an election.

This situation would mean that a Vice-President, chosen by a majority of the Senators—if the Senate was able to elect one—would succeed to the Presidency after March 4. The Senate is limited in its choice of a Vice-President to the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for that office in the electoral college.

IN THE SENATE.

It has been regarded as very doubtful, in case the pending election be thrown into Congress, whether the Senate as now constituted would be able to show a majority for any one of the nominees for Vice-President who were named by the sectional conventions of the Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties last summer. Much would depend upon the filling of the vacant seats in Illinois, Colorado and Nevada and the politics of the Senator who would be chosen to succeed Sanders in Tennessee.

Should the normal Republican majority continue in the Senate there would be enough Progressives to have prevented the election of Sherman if he were alive and been one of the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes from the electors. So, in the event the voting next Tuesday decrees no election in the electoral college the idea of the Republican leaders of the country will be to agree on some man to be voted for by the electors in January who will be able not only to command the regular Republican votes in the Senate, but the votes of the Progressives as well.

NAMES SUGGESTED.

In this connection names have already been suggested, those of Gov. Hadley of Missouri, Senator Borah of Idaho and John Wanamaker of Pennsylvania most frequently. Either of these men might be expected to appeal strongly to the Progressives, although Gov. Hadley has aroused a good deal of resentment following his floor leadership of the Roosevelt cause at Chicago in June by refusing to go with the Bull Moose party and by announcing his support of the Republican national ticket. But contingencies arising out of the possibility of the election being thrown into Congress is a far cry at best.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

What of the effect of Mr. Sherman's death or the more immediate popular election next Tuesday? That is really the all-important question of the hour. The effect of the untimely breaking up of the Republican national ticket, it must be said in all candor, will not be so pronounced as it would be were the general political conditions different from what they really are. Washington has been convinced for some time that the chances in the triangular fight are strongly in favor of the Democratic ticket. If the Progressive ticket were not in the field, the situation would be wholly different, but as it is, and even as it would be to a large extent were only two major tickets in the field, the people vote primarily for the head of the ticket.

If the death of Mr. Sherman has any material effect on the casting of popular votes it is likely to be felt more than anywhere else in the State of New York, where Mr. Sherman's personal following has been very strong. In some sections of the Empire State in particular many votes for the Taft electors might have been influenced by the candidacy of Vice-President Sherman as the Chief Executive's running mate. In fact, one of the arguments used at Chicago against "turning down" Mr. Sherman in favor of a candidate for the Vice-Presidency who might have been received with greater favor by progressive Republicans, was that it would arouse great resentment among members of the party in New York, who were friends of the running mate of four years previous.

ENTIRELY NEW.

There never has been a situation exactly like that confronting the voters of the country on the eve of a general election. The nearest approach to a precedent affecting the vote in the electoral college was that of the death of Horace Greeley, Democrat and Liberal candidate for President in 1872, who died between the time of the popular election that year and the meeting of the Presidential electors.

There might be some difficulty over selecting a man who would solidify the votes of the electors who had been morally pledged to vote for Mr. Sherman, but as previously set forth, the problem might be entirely different in case the ultimate election were to be thrown into Congress from what it would be in case the Republicans had a clear majority in the Electoral College.

Therefore it would seem that all the National Committee can do after the coming election is to assume the functions of proposing a method by which the Republican electors can come into accord with respect to a candidate for the Vice-Presidency in case it becomes vitally essential to do so. It might be proposed that the electors themselves hold a national convention prior to the time they are required to meet in their respective States to cast their formal ballot and nominate a candidate of their own choosing.

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Oct. 30.—The city of Sacramento launched a campaign this morning to bring back to Sacramento all the State offices now located at San Francisco and other parts of the State.

The action came with the filing of a report of the special commission named by the last Legislature to investigate the need of a new State library and courts building. It was decided to go before the coming session of the Legislature with a proposition, whereby two additional blocks of land adjoining the present capitol site are to be purchased, the city of Sacramento to pay one-half the purchase price and the State the other half. On this land it is proposed to erect two new buildings, one for the splendid State library collection and the other for the courts.

The commission, consisting of the Judges of the Third District Court of Appeals and the State library trustees, indorsed the project and a committee of Sacramento citizens promised that the city would do its share.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—A statement of the finances of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition was filed here today with President Charles V. Moore by Rodney S. Durkee, comptroller of the exposition. A full report of income, expenditures and subscriptions from the beginning of business in December, 1909, until September 30, 1912, is included. The more important items are as follows:

This is 38.16 per cent. of the total. Forty per cent. of the total was called for at the time of the statement.

Expenditures for real estate, $305,246; expenditures for buildings and grounds, $340,342; total, $645,588; unexpended balance, $630,044.

No statement of administrative and overhead charges is made in the abstract of the report given out. In commenting on the showing the comptroller writes:

"Especial attention is called to the pledge of the cit yof Oakland for $1,000,000, on account of which we have received no signed subscriptions and no payments of any kind. It appears to me that immediate steps should be taken to have this pledge fulfilled."

STOCKTON, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ivan McCrager, a young farmer residing four miles south of this city, occupies a cell at the County Jail following his signed confession of an attempt to blackmail Mrs. E. C. Long, whose ranch adjoins that of his father. The offense being against the Federal law, McGrager will be turned over to the United States authorities in San Francisco.

Recently Mrs. Long received a letter threatening her with death if she did not, at a given hour, place a sack containing $1000 at a fence post in a lonely ravine near the McCrager ranch. She gave the letter to the Sheriff and he had a stack of metal washers placed at the post and the spot watched, but no one showed up. Determined to run down the culprit, Sheriff Riecks and a handwriting expert of San Francisco visited the ranch yesterday and took a specimen of McGrager's handwriting. Suspicion was directed against him from the fact that he was seen near the spot where the money was to be concealed and from other circumstances.

After comparing the handwriting with the threatening letter, the expert advised the arrest. Shortly after being taken into custody, young McCrager confessed. He said he did not intend to get Mrs. Long's money but was seeking to annoy her in retaliation for past differences between the two families. A singular feature in connection with the case is that Rollie Long, son of the victim, was under suspicion and the officers were on the verge of arresting him when the expert made his report.

Coalinga Operator Does Not Like Adverse Testimony in His Suit and Uses His Fists.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Not satisfied with the testimony in the case he had filed against the Lost Hills Oil Company, E. W. Robinson, a wealthy oil man of Coalinga, literally took matters into his own hands at the City Hall today and administered a beating to F. K. Vogel, a witness for the defense.

Vogel had been on the stand all morning testifying in the interests of the Lost Hills Company.

When Judge Dehy adjourned court for the noon recess Robinson followed Vogel to the hall. A remark passed and the next moment Vogel was sprawling his length along the floor with a severely battered face, where Robinson's huge fists had landed.

"You will lie, will you?" was all Robinson was heard to say before the drubbing was given. Deputy sheriffs from several courts rushed to the scene and prevented any further trouble.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Judge Aylett R. Cotton, whose life has been prominently interwoven with the history of California and Iowa, died today in this city. He was 86 years old, having been born in Austintown, O., November 29, 1826.

Mr. Cotton was admitted to the bar in 1848, in Clinton county, Iowa. In 1849 he came to California, traveling by ox team. He was a miner until 1851, when he returned to Iowa, where he held numerous political offices, and in 1871 was elected to Congress from the Second Iowa District, serving for four years.

In 1882 Judge Cotton returned to San Francisco and began the practice of law. He left three sons, W. W. Cotton, chief counsel of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company in Portland, Or.; Aylett, R. Cotton, Jr., assistant district attorney of San Francisco county; Stewart W. Cotton of San Francisco, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Warren of San Francisco.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following negotiations, in which the Attorney General of Minnesota has taken a hand, a settlement of the dispute over the estate of the late H. C. Akeley, Minneapolis millionaire lumberman, has been reached.

It was announced here today the estate will be probated in Minnesota without opposition by Mrs. Clara Rood Royce Akeley, the widow, who has demanded that the estate be probated in California. Mrs. Akeley left Minneapolis shortly after Mr. Akeley's death and had a box of securities and stock belonging to him sent to California.

It has been agreed between Mrs. Akeley and Mrs. J. P. Quirk of Minneapolis, Mr. Akeley's daughter, that Mrs. Akeley shall retain personal property now in California and estimated to be worth $37,000. Of the estate probated in Minnesota, Mrs. Akeley will get one-third and Mrs. Quirk two-thirds. Under the California law one-half the estate would go to the widow.

Mrs. Akeley has agreed to return the securities shipped to California. All legal action begun by Mrs. Quirk will be dismissed. The agreement was reached after Mrs. Akeley returned to Long Beach, Cal., after a conference in Denver with Mrs. Quirk's attorneys.

MARSHALL EASILY AMUSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MANKATO (Minn.) Oct. 30.—Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, ridiculed President Taft here this afternoon.

"Mr. Taft's recent utterances regarding the possibility of a panic in this country if we Democrats win at the polls next week certainly is amusing," said Gov. Marshall. "When Mr. Taft takes to crystal gazing and sees a panic in the wake of Democratic victory, he forgets that no one ever saw a fat medium, just as no one ever has seen a cadaverous Cupid. Mr. Taft in the role of a medium is about the funniest thing that has occurred in this campaign. He reminds me of one of Charles Dickens's characters named Joey Bagstock, whom Dickens spoke of as being devilishly sly. If you are not familiar with Joey Bagstock, I urge you to look him up."

Gov. Marshall spoke at Winona tonight.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] "The State of Illinois, one of the most important pivotal States in the United States, will go Democratic next Tuesday by something in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million votes. Wilson and Marshall will carry the State and the entire Democratic State ticket will be elected."

This prediction was made by Arthur W. Charles, chairman of the Democratic Committee:

"Not only will the national and State tickets carry in Illinois," continued Mr. Charles, "but we will elect at least twenty of the twenty-seven Congressmen in Illinois. We will carry the Danville district, defeating 'Uncle Joe' Cannon, and the Tenth District, including Lakeview, Edgeworth and Lake county, where George Edmund Foss, Republican, is now Congressman."

HISTORIC WABASH FOR SALE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The old wooden frigate Wabash, of Civil War fame, for the past forty years receiving ship at the Boston navy yard, is to be sold. Built in Philadelphia in 1854 of 4600 tons displacement, she was, until 1859, flagship of the United States Atlantic and Mediterranean squadrons. During the Civil War she captured several Confederate privateers and, after three days' bombardment, forced the surrender of Ft. Fisher, N. C.

"CASCARETS" BEST FOR THE BOWELS

Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—[Adv.]

NAVAL GRAFT IS DISCLOSED.

Two Men Indicted With Him Pleaded Guilty.

Steward's Confession Implicates Many Ships.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 30.—The United States government in the Federal Court today began presentation of its case against Edwin F. Meyer, former principal clerk in the Puget Sound navy yard storekeeper's office, who is charged with conspiracy to defraud the government. The amount of which the government was defrauded, is alleged to be $50,000. J. A. Kettlewell and P. H. Wheeler, indicted with Meyer, have pleaded guilty and served prison terms.

Kettlewell was formerly chief clerk to the navy pay officer in the navy office in Seattle, vested with powers of sending out requests for bids on supplies and of recommending the approval or rejection of bids received. Wheeler is said to have been sales agent for a machinery house in this city.

In the government's complaint, Meyer, Kettlewell and Wheeler are charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States through the issuances of requisitions for supplies by Meyer, the tampering with such bids as were received by Kettlewell, and the making of bids far in excess of a fair market value on the supplies by Wheeler.

Meyer's defense, outlined today, will be that the presence of the Pacific battleship fleet at the yards in 1908 and the visit of the round-the-world fleet to Seattle resulted in rush orders for supplies and the temporary abrogation of the rules under which supplies are purchased by the navy.

STEWARD CONFESSES GRAFT.
MAY INVOLVE ENTIRE FLEET.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A system of graft in the commissary department of the navy, which may reach every ship in the Atlantic fleet, has been revealed by a secret investigation by a court of inquiry. Rear-Admiral Osterhaus reported today to the Navy Department that the investigation has resulted in the confession of G. T. Davis, chief commissary steward of the battleship Louisiana. Admiral Osterhaus's report is very brief and contains no details further than that Davis in his confession has implicated the stewards of other ships of the fleet—at least six—and several contractors.

It is said that after Davis had been suspected of illegal transactions in the handling of government supplies, Capt. Welles of the battleship laid a trap in which, officials say, Davis was caught. Capt. Welles arrested Davis and preferred charges against him to Admiral Osterhaus. The investigation by the court developed not only the charges against Davis, but what is said to be a system of illegal dealings by commissary stewards on many other ships.

WIFE MAY RECOVER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—W. P. McComas, a wealthy mining man who has been held since his wife was found yesterday in their apartments suffering from a wound in her head inflicted by a bullet from a revolver, was given his liberty this evening. The police detectives are convinced that the woman attempted to take her own life. The physicians said tonight that Mrs. McComas probably would live.

NEW FRIENDS FOR NEW BILL.

FAVOR MOTHERS' PENSION LAW IN KEYSTONE STATE.

Thirty Thousand Federated Women See in Proposition a Potent Factor for Keeping Together Children Around the Hearthstones of Homes Stricken by Misfortune.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, through Miss Jane W. Pressly, vice-president, today endorsed the proposal to compensate destitute mothers and to preserve their homes, and announced that its 30,000 members would fight for a mothers' compensation law. Miss Pressly is here to confer with local members of the State Legislature in an effort to gain their support of the proposed measure.

Without a single exception, she said, they pledged themselves to support the bill.

RECEIVED WITH APPLAUSE.

"The State Federation of Pennsylvania Women met at Williamsport October 15, 16 and 17," said Miss Pressly. "At that meeting the proposal to have the State pension mothers was laid before the body and was received with applause. All the women there had been taught by experience covering countless specific cases that if families in which the bread winner has been stricken could be assured food and clothing for the smaller children, regularly provided, the problem of the suffering, poorly-nourished and delinquent child would be in a fair way to be solved."

A single mail delivery today brought thirty-eight letters endorsing the "mothers' pension" plan. They were from city officials and members of the Legislature.

Girl Baby Comes to Brighten Life of Woman Who Escaped Husband's Fate at Sea.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Announcement was made here today of the birth of a girl baby to Mrs. Daniel W. Marvin of Riverside drive. Mrs. Marvin and her husband were returning on board the Titanic from their honeymoon trip to Europe when the liner went to the bottom. Mr. Marvin met his death and Mrs. Marvin was saved.

It was said at her home that the mother and daughter were doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin's marriage attracted some attention in New York because of the fact that a moving picture concern was employed to take a complete set of pictures of the ceremony. At the time of the marriage the bride was only 17 years of age and the bridegroom a year older.

MUNICIPAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

Seattle Will Submit Proposition to Voters Even Though Legislature Must Cure Omission in Statutes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 30.—The City Council has engaged an eastern expert to make an estimate of the cost of establishing a municipal telephone system.

It is the Council's intention to submit to the voters on March 4 next, a proposition to vote bonds for such a system. The State public service code authorizes municipalities to operate water, light, power and street railway plants, but is silent as to telephone systems. If the omission stands in the way of the municipal telephone system, the State Legislature at its session next January, will be asked to amend the public service code.

A SUITABLE setting for the magnificent table reproduced above, is to be found only in a most sumptous home. Splendidly massive, with the solid oak showing an antique finish, which seems to have successfully defied the use of centuries, this piece is an authentic adaptation from the Jacobean style produced during the Seventeenth century.

¶ Characteristic of this period is the heavy carved moulding, the fine checkered inlay of holly and ebonized oak over the leg-arch, and the gunmetal pulls —while thoroughly up-to-date are the deep drawers and writing leaves that slide above them on each side, and the most unusual width and length of the top.

¶ As motif for a handsome library where the walls are paneled and the furnishings are in keeping, this table should satisfy the most exacting.

¶ High-grade furniture in wide variety is to be found in our Art Galleries—which occupy the entire mezzanine floors of the center and South buildings. Visitors are most cordially welcomed.

WILSON WANTS TEAM WORK.

Could Do Nothing Without Democratic Senate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BURLINGTON (N. J.) Oct. 30.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson admittedly took a long look ahead today and made a vigorous appeal in two counties hitherto Republican to send Democrats to the New Jersey Legislature, which convenes January 1 next. While the Presidential nominee touched often on national issues, he chiefly directed his energy in three speeches toward overcoming the present Republican majority in the State Legislature to insure the choice of a Democratic Governor to succeed himself in the event of his election to the Presidency and to obtain also a Democratic Legislature on joint ballot to send William Hughes to the United States Senate.

The Governor declared he was not asking the suffrage of the people in his own behalf but for two instruments, a Democratic Legislature and a Democratic party in the nation.

WORK FOR HUGHES.

"I am not standing alone," he said at Wildwood. "I am not the Democratic party. I cannot as President or as Governor do anything but what great bodies of free men assist me to do; and if they are Wilson men in Cape May county, they will vote the Democratic ticket. If you cannot vote for these gentlemen for the Legislature do not vote for me. I am not a candidate for a pedestal. I am not a candidate to be set up in lonely dignity to suffer the intolerable disappointment of being alone, unable to do the great things which the American people will expect of me, if they honor me with their suffrages. If you cannot back me up, do not put me up all by myself and then desert me. If you believe in me, make it possible for me to do something.

"Do not elect me captain unless you are going to give me a team. For if I am captain and either of these Republican scrub teams is put alongside of me, I cannot do anything at all. They will not know what there is to be done and they will not believe me if I tell them. What I leave with you, therefore, is this suggestion, it is a team or nothing."

PROTECTION FOR ENGLAND.

Santa Barbara Man Says Britain Must Have a Tariff to Compete With Germany.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] England to save her fast declining manufacturing supremacy in competition with Germany will be forced within two years to adopt a protective tariff in place of her traditional policy of free trade, according to Adam Mott, a wealthy pioneer merchant of Santa Barbara, who is visiting his sister here en route home. His daughter, Elsie, accompanied him.

Mr. Mott had not been back for forty-five years and could scarcely express his amusement at the change of the Germany he knew from a purely agricultural to an almost wholly manufacturing country.

"Berlin," he said, "when I saw it last, was a town of 200,000; now it is a city of two millions. Villages that had 1000 to 5000 population have developed into manufacturing towns of five times that population.

"All Germany is prosperous in spite of the rains, which have wiped out the crops. I never saw the country so rich and contented. The only place I saw poverty to any extent was in England, where it was pitiful. The Germans are manufacturing more and selling for less than the English and there is bitter antagonism between them. In self-defense England will be forced very soon to put up a high protective tariff to protect her manufacturers."

MOTHERS DAY, NEW STYLE.

This Year it Will be the Day of the Presidential Election in Capital of California.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Election day will be mothers' day in Sacramento, if plans now being perfected by the various political organizations carry. Both Democrat and Progressive committees are arranging to have a string of nurses on hand on that day to relieve mothers while they go to vote. The plan is for mothers to call headquarters when they are ready to vote and a nurse will be sent to care for their babies.

FINAL WORD OF DEMOCRATS.

AN APPEAL TO VOTERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The last assortment of printed matter that will be mailed to voters by the Democratic National Committee before election left the headquarters today. It included a last appeal of Chairman Joseph E. Davies for his followers to "keep a stiff upper lip and get out to the polls" and encouraging reports from Iowa by Martin J. Wade. Mr. Davies added a prophecy that the United States Senate and House would be Democratic after March 4. He predicted that Illinois would name two Democratic Senators, Idaho and Colorado two, and Montana one.

COLONEL AGAIN IN THE ARENA.

Roosevelt Thunders Final Appeal to Voters.

A Bedlam of Noise Greets Former President.

Body Guard Keeps Strangers at Distance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A crowd that jammed Madison Square Garden from floor to roof and overflowed through three blocks of surrounding streets greeted the leaders of the Progressive party tonight at the mass meeting marking the first public appearance of Col. Roosevelt since the attack made upon him in Milwaukee October 14.

Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, candidate for Vice-President, and Oscar S. Strauss, candidate for Governor of New York, speaking to the immense crowd before Col. Roosevelt reached the hall, paved the way for a great demonstration for the former President.

SEA OF BANDANAS.

A sea of waving bandanas and a great chorus of yells greeted the candidates as they appeared on the platform, and it was 8:20 o'clock before Senator Joseph M. Dixon, chairman of the National Committee, could present Mr. Strauss as the first speaker.

Roosevelt reached the hall at 9:15, while Gov. Johnson was still speaking. Showing no physical evidence of the shock of his attempted assassination in Milwaukee, he faced a Progressive political rally which gave many thousands of his fellow New Yorkers a chance to accord him an unroarious welcome.

CHEERS, SONGS AND MUSIC.

For forty-two minutes the ex-President stood at the edge of the high-perched speakers' platform, unable to make himself heard above the din of cheers, songs and band music. His gestures to the crowd for silence served only to intensify the noises, and when after twenty minutes of cheering, Col. Roosevelt made a determined effort to begin his speech, the immense audience was swung off into another period of cheering by the beginning of the chant "We Want Teddy; We Want Teddy."

The attention and silence that greeted the address by Col. Roosevelt were as marked as the demonstration that preceded it. At the first attempts to interrupt with applause the Presidential candidate motioned imperatively with his hand for silence, and he accompanied this gesture with a shake of the head which made the crowd realize his desire to be allowed to speak without interruption.

STUCK TO HIS TEXT.

Col. Roosevelt adhered to the text of his prepared speech, changing scarcely a word throughout. His voice was full and strong, penetrating the extreme corners of the amphitheater. His right hand, because of the wound in his right side, was scarcely moved in gesture, although he tapped with it emphatically several times upon the railing. He gestured vigorously with his left arm.

The crowds about Madison Square Garden were orderly, but the police exercised extreme care to prevent any confusion. Six men were arrested within and without the hall for refusing to obey the strict orders as to open aisles and against overcrowding.

USED FIRE ESCAPE.

Col. Roosevelt when he arrived was strongly guarded and although the flashlight men got a picture or two it was from a distance, for no one was allowed to approach when the colonel left his automobile. He was escorted into the building by way of a fire escape and left the building by the same route. He insisted upon standing in his effort to bring the crowd to order. The demonstration lasted forty-two minutes.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

Col. Roosevelt after a request to the police to keep order in the hall, spoke as follows:

Friends, perhaps once in a generation; perhaps not so often, there comes a chance for the people of a country to play their part wisely and fearlessly in some great battles of the age—long warfare for human rights. To our fathers the chance came in the mighty days of Abraham Lincoln, of the man who thought and toiled and suffered for the people with sad patience and kindly endeavor. To our forefathers the chance came in the troubled years that stretched from the time when the first Continental Congress gathered to the time when Washington was inaugurated as first President of the republic. To us, in our turn, the chance has now come to stand for liberty and righteousness as in their day these dead men stood for liberty and righteousness. Our task is not so great as theirs. Yet it is well-nigh as important. Our task is to profit by the lessons of the past and to check in time the evils that grow around us, lest our failure to do so may cause dreadful disaster to the people. We must not sit supine and helpless. We must not permit the brutal selfishness of arrogance and the brutal selfishness of envy each to run unchecked in its evil course. If we do so then some day smoldering hatred will suddenly kindle into a consuming flame, and either we or our children will be called on to face a crisis as grim as any which this republic has ever seen.

BEING WISE IN TIME.

It is our business to show that nine-tenths of wisdom consists in being wise in time. We owe to our nation if we let matters drift; if in our industrial and political life we let an unchecked and utterly selfish individualistic materialism riot to its appointed end. That end would be widespread disaster, for it would mean that our people would be sundered by those dreadful lines of division which are drawn when the selfish greed of the "have" is set over against the selfish greed of the "have-nots." There is but one way to prevent such a division and that is to forestall it by the kind of a movement in which we are now engaged.

Our movement is one of resolute insistence upon the rights, and full acknowledgment of the duties of every man and every woman within this great land of ours. We war against the forces of evil, and the weapons we use are the weapons of right. We do not set greed against greed, or hatred against hatred. Our creed is one that bids us be just to all; to feel sympathy for all and to strive for an understanding of the needs of all. Our purpose is to smite down wrong. But toward those who have done the wrong, we feel only the kindliest charity that is compatible with causing the wrong to cease.

PREACHING HATRED.

We preach hatred to no man, and the spirit in which we work is as far removed from vindictiveness as from weakness. We are resolute to do away with the evil, and we intend to proceed with such wise and cautious sanity as will cause the very minimum of disturbance that is compatible with achieving our purpose.

Do not forget, friends, that we are not proposing to substitute law for character. We are merely proposing to buttress character by law. We fully recognize that, as has been true in the past, so it is true now, and ever will be true, that the prime factor in each man or woman's success must normally be that man or woman's own character—character, the sum of many qualities, but above all, of the qualities of honesty, of courage and of common sense. Nothing will avail a nation if there is not the right type of character among the average men and women, the plain people, the hard-working, decent-living, right-thinking people who make up the great bulk of our citizenship. I know my countrymen. I know that they are of this type. But it is in civil life as it is in war. In war, it is the man behind the gun that counts most, and yet he cannot do his work unless he has the right kind of gun. In civil life, in the every-day life of our nation, it is individual character which counts most; and yet the individual character cannot avail, unless in addition thereto there lie ready to hand the social weapons which can be forged only by law and by public opinion operating true and operated upon by law.

NO NEW PRINCIPLES.

Again, friends, do not forget that we are proposing no new principles, the doctrines we preach reach back to the golden rule and the sermon on the mount. They reach back to the commandments delivered at Sinai. All that we are doing is to apply these doctrines in the shape necessary to make them available for meeting the living issues of our own day. We decline to be bound by the empty little cut-and-dried formulas of bygone philosophies, useful once, perhaps, but useless now. Our purpose is to shackle greedy cunning as we shackle brutal force, and we are not to be diverted from this purpose by the appeal to the dead dogmas of a dead past. We propose to lift the burdens from the lowly and the weary, from the poor and the oppressed. We propose to stand for the sacred rights of childhood and womanhood. Nay, more, we propose to see that manhood is not crushed out of the men who toil, by excessive hours of labor, by under-payment, by injustice and oppression. When this purpose can only be secured by the collective action of our people through their governmental agencies, we propose so to secure it. We brush aside the arguments of those who seek to bar action by the repetition of some formula about "State's rights," or about "the history of liberty being the history of the limitation of governmental powers," or about the duty of the courts finally to determine the meaning of the Constitution. We are for human rights, and we intend to work for them in efficient fashion. Where they can be best obtained by the application of the doctrines of State's rights, then we are for State's rights.

FACTS VS. FORMULAS.

Where in order to obtain them it is necessary to invoke the power of the nation, then we shall invoke to its uttermost limits that mighty power. We are for liberty. But we are for the liberty of the oppressed, and not for the liberty of the oppressor to oppress the weak and to bind burdens on the shoulders of the heavy-laden. It is idle to ask us not to exercise the power of the government when only by the power of the government can we curb the greed that hits in high places; when only by the exercise of the government can we exalt the lowly and give heart to the humble and the down-trodden. We care for facts, not for formulas. We care for deeds, and not for words. We recognize no sacred right of oppression. We recognize no divine right to work injustice. We stand for the Constitution. We recognize that one of its most useful functions is the protection of property. But we will not consent to make of the Constitution a fetish for the protection of fossilized wrong. We call the attention of those who thus interpret it to the fact that in that great instrument of justice, life and liberty are put on a full level of property; indeed, are enumerated ahead of it in the order of their importance. We stand for an upright judiciary. But where the judges claim the right to make our laws by finally interpreting them; by finally deciding whether or not we have the power to make them, then we claim the right ourselves to exercise that power. We forbid any men, no matter what their official position may be, to usurp the right which is ours; the right which is the people's. We recognize in neither court nor Congress nor President any divine right to override the will of the people expressed with due deliberation in orderly fashion and through the forms of law. We Progressives hold that the words of the Declaration of Independence as given effect to by Washington and as construed and applied by Abraham Lincoln, are to be accepted as real and not as empty phrases. We believe that in very truth, this is a government by the people themselves; that the Constitution is theirs; that the courts are theirs, that all the governmental agents and agencies are theirs. We believe that all true leaders of the people must fearlessly stand for righteousness and honesty; must fearlessly tell the people what justice and honor demands. But we no less strongly insist that it is for the people themselves finally to decide all questions of public policy and to have their decision made effective.

THE PLATFORM.

In the platform formulated by the Progressive party we have set forth clearly and specifically our faith in every vital point at issue before this people. We have declared our position on the trusts and on the tariff; on the machinery for securing genuine popular government; on the method of meeting the needs of the farmer, of the business man and of the man who toils with his hands, in the mine or on the railroad, in the factory or the shops. There is not a promise we have made which cannot be kept. There is not a promise we have made that will not be kept. Our platform is a covenant with the people of the United States, and if we are given the power, we will live up to that covenant in letter and in spirit.

We know that there are in life injustices which we are powerless to remedy, but we know also that there is much injustice which can be remedied and this injustice we intend to remedy. We know that the long path leading upward toward the light cannot be traversed at once or in a day or in a year, but there are certain steps that can be taken at once. These we intend to take. When, having taken these first steps, we shall see more clearly how to walk still further with a bolder stride. We do not intend to attempt the impossible. But there is much, very much, that is possible in the way of righting wrong and remedying injustice; and all that is possible we intend to do. We intend to strike down privilege, to equalize opportunity, to arrest justice from the hands that do injustice, to hearten and strengthen men and women for the hard battle of life. We stand shoulder to shoulder in a spirit of real brotherhood, we recognize no difference of class, creed or birthplace. We recognize no sectionalism. Our appeal is made to the easterner no less than to the westerner. Our appeal is made to the southerner no less than to the northerner. We appeal to the men who wore the gray just as we appeal to the men who wore the blue. We appeal to the sons of the men who followed Lee, no less than to the sons of the men who followed Grant; for the memory of the great deeds of both is now part of the common heritage of honor which belongs to all our people, wherever they dwell.

We firmly believe that the American people feel hostility to no man who has honestly won success. We firmly believe that the American people ask only justice; justice each for himself and justice each for all others. They are against wickedness in rich men and poor men alike. They are against lawless and murderous violence, exactly as they are against the sordid materialism which seeks wealth by trickery and cheating, whether on a large or a small scale. They wish to deal honestly and in good faith with all men. They recognize that the prime national need is for honesty; honesty in public life and in private life; honesty in

FRIEND OF THE DOG IS DEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Alexander Smith of Barrington, Ill., known throughout the Middle West as an exhibiter of blooded dogs, is dead.

BISHOP CONSECRATED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FARIBALT (Minn.) Oct. 30.—With clergy of the Middle West prominent in the Episcopal church present, the services of consecration of Suffragan Bishop Don Frank McElwain were held here today in the cathedral. Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, the presiding bishop, acted as chief consecrator, assisted by Bishops Mann of North Dakota and Edsall of Minnesota.

SNEED IS GRANTED BAIL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—J. Beal Sneed, slayer of Al Boyce near Amarino, Tex., today was granted bail by the Court of Criminal Appeals under $20,000 bail. Boyce eloped with Mrs. Sneed to Winnipeg, Can., a year ago. Sneed killed Boyce's father in Ft. Worth last winter over ensuing complications.

DOGS A POLITICAL ISSUE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Charles F. Gunther, former City Treasurer, and also an Alderman, in a plea against the muzzling of dogs before the City Council Health Committee last night, declared that the canine as an issue could elect or defeat any man seeking a municipal office. The committee approved a plan which provides that every dog on the street shall wear, not a license tag and a muzzle separately, but a muzzle upon which is affixed a plate bearing the license number.

TELEPHONE MAN DROPS DEAD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—C. P. Weinman, vice-president and general manager of the Northwestern Telephone Company, dropped dead yesterday at his hunting lodge near Maine, Minn.

FIRST TO ASK DEPORTATION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—If James Fenion were an artist, an actor or an opera singer, he would not have recourse to the courts, but he declares through his attorney that he is simply a wagon driver and therefore feels that he should be deported and should receive a $1000 judgment against his employer. It is the first case in the history of Federal courts in Minnesota where any one has asked for deportation. Fenion in his complaint filed in the Federal Court yesterday against J. C. Wilson, charges violation of the immigration act. The complaint declares that in 1911 Wilson induced Fenion to migrate from his home in Greenock, Scotland, to the United States, promising that he would give him a job as delivery wagon driver at $12 a week. According to the complaint it was understood that the transportation expenses were to be paid back out of Fenion's wages. Fenion became dissatisfied and brought suit under the law whereby none but actors, opera singers or artists may come into the country under such a labor agreement without violating immigration laws.

THE END OF A ROMANCE.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] A rude ending came to a romance involving Col. Herman O. Kletzsch, a member of the Governor's staff, rich hotel owner and a leader in German society circles, and Charlotte Krause, leading woman in the Milwaukee Chicago German stock company in the seasons of 1908 to 1910, when it was announced that Col. Kletzsch's repeated requests for a postponement of their wedding had finally caused the breaking off of the affair. A cash settlement is hinted in the explanations by the young woman's relatives of the final abandonment of marriage plans, but the amount is not stated.

POUSSE CAFE OF DISEASE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Wilfrid H. Osgood, assistant curator of mammals and birds at the Field Museum, returned to Chicago yesterday after nine months in Peru and the Amazon Valley, bringing 2000 specimens. M. P. Anderson of the museum staff remains behind for more fauna. The whole 2000 specimens are new to American collections. Mr. Osgood crossed South America by pack mule, carrier, canoe, steam launch and steamer and found the Andes a sort of pathological pousse cafe—fevers, yellow, scarlet and black, prevailing according to altitude. "It was no picnic," said Mr. Osgood. "On the coast there was bubonic plague, heart failure at 15,000 feet, beri beri at Iquitos, and yellow fever, black water fever and malaria of various shades all the way down. At night the vampires sucked blood from the mules till the mules nearly died from weakness. Our own toes were never safe. On the Amazon we shared our steamer with 400 live turtles weighing 200 pounds apiece. But it paid after all. We brought back humming birds, seven and one-half inches long, and the hide of a 'spectacle bear'—black with white marks resembling eyeglasses."

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

DELICIOUS FRUIT LAXATIVE
BEST FOR LITTLE ONES.

Sweetens Their Stomachs and Cleans The Liver nd Waste-clogged Bowels Without Griping.

Every mother immediately realizes after giving her child delicious Syrup of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the children. Nothing else regulates the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of tender bowels so promptly, besides they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting naturally, eating regularly and acting naturally, it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated; give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the foul, constipated, clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatica, it cannot be harmful.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.—[Adv.

SISTERS DIE FOR ORPHANS.

Mother Superior Perishes With Babe in Arms.

Bishop Shaw and Two Priests Rush Into Flames.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Oct. 30.—Striving their lives to rescue the sixty-seven orphan children in their charge, five Sisters of Charity perished in a fire that destroyed St. John's orphanage today. One baby died in its death with Mary of the Cross, mother superior of the institution, who left her place of safety in a vain effort to save the child. Another orphan is missing and it is feared it did not escape.

Flames broke out in the building early this morning. Roused from their sleep, the nuns marshaled their charges to fire escapes, remaining at their posts until flames barred the way to safety. One of the sisters, Maria Montes, was killed by jumping.

SLOT CHILDREN TO SAFETY.

Three sisters escaped. Instructed to place the first column of frightened children out of danger, they gained the ground in time to escape the crash of falling walls.

The children owe their lives to the daring and self-sacrifice of the nuns. While attaches of the orphanage hospital hurried to the burning edifice and dashed through bursts of flame to help in the rescue work, many of the orphans would have been cremated in the dormitories if the nuns had not braved the first outburst of fire and piloted them to places of safe egress.

THE DEAD.

The dead are:

MOTHER MARY OF THE CROSS, as she was Mother Superior of the asylum. She was Mary Rostiter, native of Wexford, Ireland.

MOTHER FRANCES PASTEUR, native of France.

SISTER MONICA MONTEZ, native of Mexico.

THE INJURED:

The injured are:

Sister Mary Kostka Farrell, native of Kildare, Ireland.

Miss A. De Temple, an employee, native of Germany.

Miss Standish, an employee.

The girl's origin is not yet known.

Sixty-seven orphan children ranging in age from 3 to 12 years, and nuns were in the building when the flames broke out. Marshaling their charges to hurry them to safety, the Sisters of Charity remained in the blazing orphanage until the building began to crumble and fall.

MARVELOUS COURAGE.

The death of the Mother Superior, Mary of the Cross, was the sequel to a demonstration of remarkable courage. She returned to the burning dormitory when she heard the cry of a child who had been overlooked in the hurry and excitement. A few moments later she appeared at a window in the front of the building with the babe in her arms.

FELL BACK IN FLAMES.

Fire Chief Wright attempted to save her but he failed. A ladder was placed against the unsteady wall and the chief scaled it, but before he reached her the Mother Superior, with the child, fell back into the flames.

The three nuns who escaped helped in saving the children from the blazing structure. They were marching across the yard when the walls began to fall.

Sister Kostka in jumping from the third floor window to reach a life net, evidently lost her balance. Her body struck the railing on the second story. Her back was broken and she was severely burned.

LEAPED TO DEATH.

Sister Monica Montes lost her life by jumping. After the children had been piloted to the fire escape on the west side of the blazing building she returned to take a last look in the dormitory. Her escape was cut off, but she made her way to the east side, where firemen stood below with a net spread. She leaped but missed the net. Death was instantaneous.

Mother Frances Pasteur and Sister Claver Stevin and Leacadia Nolan were unable to escape from the building. They perished in the flames.

While one child is known to have been put to death, another is missing, and it is feared it, too, perished.

Right Rev. Bishop J. W. Shaw carried out several children, some of whom were mere babies and unable to help themselves.

Father Hume, the chancellor, and Father Duffy, chaplain, repeatedly rushed into the building to return with some child found groping helplessly about in the smoke. When the flames died and the first apparatus reached the orphanage the fire had spread throughout the entire structure. The roof had crumbled. The building belonged to the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR! NO SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACH OR INDIGESTION.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly, ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

Chicago Now Has Largest Building of Its Kind in North America—It Seats Five Thousand.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Medinah Temple, the new $650,000 home of the Chicago Shriners, was dedicated today by William J. Cunningham of Boston, Imperial Potentate of the Shrine for North America. The temple is the largest of its kind in North America. It covers half a block at the corner of Ontario and Ohio streets, and is built of concrete reinforced with steel and brick exterior.

The building cost the local Shriners $500,000, and the ground on which it stands $150,000. The auditorium has galleries have a seating capacity of 5000. The stage is seventy feet wide with a proscenium arch forty feet high.

Defaulter May Have Ended Life in Mid-Ocean.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 30.—Gus T. Angeles, alias Kostopulos, 27 years old, was arrested late today on the charge of a brutal murder in Denver. The man was arrested in a barber shop by local detectives.

He is accused of murdering a woman on May 4. He is said to have robbed her and then slashed the face almost beyond recognition. The murder is said to have taken place in the barber shop which Angeles was running at the time. He then fled, but was found working in a shop in Milwaukee. He weighs 130 pounds and is five feet and five inches in height, has brown hair and eyes, and is of medium build. Angeles denies that he is the man wanted.

TRAGEDY IN MID-OCEAN.

Fugitive Charged With Six-Million Dollar Theft May Have Jumped From Atlantic Liner.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Search of the French line steamship Niagara upon her arrival here today failed to disclose Nestor Wilmart, managing director of the Terneuzen Railway Company of Ghent Belgium, whose disappearance was followed by the announcement of a shortage of $6,000,000 in the company's books. It had been reported that he was on the vessel.

Detectives who searched the ship were informed by Capt. Juhan that when two days out from Havre, a passenger booked as Louis Labarque jumped overboard and was drowned. The suicide was said to have occurred shortly after the receipt of a wireless message requesting that Wilmart be held.

Neither the Belgian Consul here nor the police are convinced, however, that the suicide was Wilmart and the search for him will be kept up.

San Pedro Man Locates Sister Whom He Had Not Seen for Almost Fifty Years.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

FT. SMITH (Ark.) Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Elijah Benton Hill of San Pedro, Cal., today located his sister, Mrs. Evelyn Hill Whyack of Van Buren, after a separation of nearly fifty years.

Hill recently wrote to Mayor Fagan Bourland of this city asking that a search be made for his relatives here, and today Mrs. Whyack identified him as her brother. Their father was killed while at home in Crawford county on a furlough during the Civil War. Shortly afterward their mother died and the children became separated. Hill was taken to an orphanage in Springfield, Ill., and when he became 17 years old, he removed to California. He had since vainly endeavored to find his relatives.

KAISER REWARDS FAVORS.

Autographed Portraits and Orders for Those in Charge of Reception to German Squadron Last June.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor Gaynor and ex-Mayor Low, who was chairman of the Mayor's Committee to welcome the German squadron last June, are to receive autographed portraits of the German Emperor, according to cable dispatches received today by Herman Ridder, chairman of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Ridder will receive a letter in the name of the Kaiser thanking him for his large part in the reception of the squadron. The Kaiser also has conferred the Order of the Red Eagle of the Fourth Class on Gen. Howard Carroll, the Red Eagle of the Fourth Class on Paul Lineck of the German consulate and the Crown Order of the Fourth Class on Messrs. Michael and Anderson of the German embassy at Washington.

Stomach Trouble of 12 Years' Standing Gives Way to Duffy's

MR. FRED F. ZINK.

Mrs. Fred F. Zink, 2228 Saratoga St., New Orleans, La., writes:

"My husband suffered with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but, thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 180 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."

Duffys' Pure Malt Whiskey

If you have dyspepsia or indigestion in any form you should use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment.

Sold in sealed bottles only by druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a large bottle. BE SURE YOU GET DUFFY'S. Doctors' advice and medical booklet free on application.

PERKINS'S TRUST PAYS TO KILL LEGISLATION.

Witness Says It is the Usual Thing for the Harvester Combine to Employ Lawyers to Defeat Bills it Doesn't Like—Corporation's Profits Sixteen Million Dollars in Three Years.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Testimony that the International Harvester Company in 1903 paid a law firm a fee of $8000 to defeat a bill in the Kansas Legislature designed to prohibit the corporation from using an exclusive agency clause in its contracts with its commission-selling representatives, was given today by Rodney B. Swift, former head of the law department of the McCormick Harvester Company and later connected with the Consolidated company, in the hearing of the government's dissolution suit.

Mr. Swift testified he was instructed by Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the Harvester company, and Charles Deering, chairman of the Executive Committee, to go to Kansas and "fix it up." The witness said he arranged with W. H. Rossington of Topeka, Kan., to prevent the passage of the bill and that Rossington's law firm presented a bill for $8000, which was paid by the company. He said Rossington was obliged to make a trip to Chicago before he received the money. Swift declared that Attorney Rossington, who died several years ago, told him that he had expended the money in preventing the passage of the bill in the Kansas Legislature.

THE USUAL THING.

"Was the procedure in the Kansas matter unusual?" Attorney Grosvenor for the government asked.

"It was not unusual to employ attorneys in such matters," replied the witness.

Counsel for the government questioned the witness in regard to the binder twine branch of the business and asked if several States had not gone into the manufacture of the article.

"In 1901 a bill was introduced in the South Dakota Legislature to provide for the establishment of a State binder twine factory to be operated by prison labor," said the witness.

"Was the bill passed?" inquired Attorney Grosvenor.

"Not at that time," replied the witness.

"Did the International Harvester Company take steps to prevent the passage of that bill?"

"I have been told it did," said the witness.

Swift testified that the profits of the McCormick Harvester Company aggregated $16,000,000 for the years 1900, 1901 and 1902, although the corporation was capitalized for but $2,500,000.

HOW MONEY PILES UP.

Rodney B. Swift, former head of the law and experiment department of the McCormick Harvester Company, gave a detailed account of the organization.

Mr. Swift said early in 1902 he went to New York with Cyrus H. McCormick and met J. P. Morgan, George W. Perkins, Attorney F. L. Stetson, Attorney Cromwell and Mr. Stewart, head of one of the large trust companies.

The witness said Stetson assured them the combination could be formed without violating the law. Mr. Morgan said he would finance the proposition. Attorney Cromwell said the combination could be legally formed.

In July, 1902, the witness made another visit to New York with Cyrus H., Harold, and Stanley McCormick and after two weeks of conference, final plans for the organization of the International Harvester Company were decided upon.

George W. Perkins represented J. P. Morgan & Company. At these conferences, said Mr. Swift.

The witness said that the McCormick Harvesting Company was capitalized for $2,500,000, and in 1900, 1901 and 1902 its profits aggregated $16,000,000. He said that in the thirteen years prior to the consolidation the company paid dividends aggregating 443 per cent. He said the book value of the company's property in 1889 was $12,000,000, while in 1902 it had grown to $50,000,000. This increase, he explained, piled up from the earnings.

CRYSTAL BALL IN EVIDENCE.

CHICAGO SEERESS USES GLOBE TO FORETELL EVENTS.

Police Captain Describes Finding Nat Peirce in Home of Woman Charged With Wholesale Homicide. Life Insurance Policies Play an Important Part in the Trial.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] The crystal ball, in which Mrs. Louise Lindloff declares she can read the future, and the life insurance policies on which she collected $4500 following the death of members of her family, were introduced in evidence today at the trial of the seeress and spiritualist, where she is charged with the murder of her fifteen-year-old son, Arthur.

This move in the States case came while Capt. Barnard Baer of the Fillmore street station, who had charge of the investigation, was on the witness stand.

The policies on the life of Arthur were among those introduced, but the payment has been withheld by the insurance company pending the outcome of the trial. The others were those on the lives of Julius Gesunke, Mrs. Lindoff's first husband, and her daughters, Frieda and Alma.

Capt. Baer identified the red box containing arsenic rat poison, found in the Lindloff home by Anthony McSwiggan. It is charged by the State that the poison in this box was used by Mrs. Lindloff in the crimes of which she is accused. The witness said Mrs. Lindoff's business was that of a medium and crystal-gazer.

The police official was subjected to severe cross-examination at the hands of Attorney Archie Guerin, but he remained unshaken in his testimony. Mrs. Lindloff listened attentively to the evidence, and showed no signs of nervousness.

"Following a conference with Coroner Hoffman he and I went to the Lindloff home," Capt. Baer said in response to Prosecutor Smith's question.

"Deputy Coroner Davis went with us. I told Mrs. Lindloff that there were suspicious circumstances surrounding her son's death, and she said she was willing to answer questions."

The captain said Mrs. Lindloff made a living by being a "medium, crystal-gazer and giving electrical treatments." It was in this connection that the crystal ball, for which Mrs. Lindloff claims she paid $500, was introduced.

"Is this the ball she showed you?" asked Assistant State's Attorney Smith, holding the article in his hand.

"Yes," was the answer.

"Detective McSwiggen searched the pantry and came to me with the red box. Mrs. Lindloff said: 'The rats were coming on our porch and I used it on them.' I gave the box to the Coroner and ordered Mrs. Lindloff placed under arrest."

New Yorkers Each Week Drink up a Good-sized Lake of Champagne, Beer and Whisky.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That New York is a thirsty town is shown by the following weekly consumption by New Yorkers: 30,000,000 quarts of beer; 40,000 quarts of champagne and 500,000 quarts of whisky. The figures are furnished by Rev. J. Harry Smith.

TURKS FIGHT FURIOUSLY.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A big battle, perhaps the decisive one of the war, is proceeding somewhere to the east of the line from Constantinople to Adrianople, between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies and heavy fighting also is taking place around Adrianople itself.

Beyond the fact that a clash has come, however, the Turkish and Bulgarian armies are keeping the outside world ignorant as to how things are going with them. No news has come except the dispatch from Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, saying:

"The position is favorable to the Turks."

While admitting that they have to depend on mere rumors and suppositions, military critics here are inclined to believe that the Turkish army is at last ready to take the offensive and has a chance of retrieving itself.

The Bulgarian troops have obviously suffered a check in the vicinity of Adrianople as dispatches from Sofia report the arrival there of many wounded from the front and it is announced that the Bulgarian plan of storming the great fortress has been delayed until reinforcements arrive. The Turkish commander's plan is not clear, but it is believed he will attempt to relieve Adrianople and its garrison of 50,000 man while at the same time holding the Bulgarians on his left flank.

The rumors that Bulgarian troops had reached the sea are unconfirmed.

Zekki Pasha is gathering the remnants of his army at Monastir to meet the advancing Servians and the allied Bulgarian column. It is thought he may make another Plevna of Monastir and prepare himself there for a long siege. The failure of the ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid to arrive at Constantinople whither he was being removed from Salonika, seems to confirm the report that the railroad between these two cities also has been interrupted.

From Belgrade comes reports that the Servian victory over the Turks at Veles was accomplished by the cavalry, which divided the Turkish force, while the Servian artillery drove them from their positions.

Turkish troops defeated by the Servians and Montenegrins in the district of Novipasar are arriving in hundreds in Bosnia, having crossed the frontier. Col. Charles A'Court Repigiton, one of the best-informed military writers, in an article to The Times today, after a silence since October 25, says that the military situation in the Balkans has been so hopelessly confused that it has been useless to attempt any appreciation of it.

SAYS THEY AGREE.

Wilson Declares Many Republicans Are of Same Mind as Democrats in This Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WILDWOOD (N. J.) Oct. 30.—Woodrow Wilson, while campaigning through Southern New Jersey today, declared that a great many Republicans agreed with the Democrats without actually calling themselves Democrats.

"You don't have to join an organization in order to support it," he said. "What brought about a division in the Republican party?" he asked. "It was the operation of the consciences of certain men in that party who saw that the government at Washington as well as the governments in many States had been used for the promotion of special private interests and who made up their minds it had to stop.

"Men like Bob La Follette have not gone out of the Republican party for nothing. Mr. La Follette has not literally gone out of it, but he is fighting the policies of President Taft. A man who will not abate a single inch of his principle is a man we must admire, whether we call ourselves by the same name or not."

Floating Citadel.

MEETS EMBRACE OF OLD OCEAN.

World's Greatest Dreadnought Is Launched.

New York Is Cheered by Multitude of Americans.

President Taft and Other Dignitaries Are Present.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Fifty thousand proud American throats cheered in a wild shout of ecstatic joy when the super-dreadnought, New York, the world's greatest warship, hit the water today.

What you might call the larva of a super-dreadnought found its sea legs out of the Brooklyn navy yard promptly at 11 o'clock. It was on the very dot of the hour that the giant hull of the New York began sliding backward into the water, leaving a monstrous gap in the skyline of the navy yard. Later it lay helpless against its pier, born, but asleep.

If someone should press a button and the public library should back down into Bryant Park, the effect would not greatly differ from that produced when Robert Stocker, senior naval constructor at the navy yard, turned a little valve and the New York slid off her ways.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

Naval Constructor Stocker did his work down in a little hole under the ten thousand tons of steel comprised in the New York's hulk. After receiving the last of any number of reports from workmen at the blocks and wedges along the 573 feet of the ship's body, he gave Naval Constructor J. E. Baily, who has had charge of the construction of the New York, and Chief Carpenter Lord the word to throw down the levers that lined the walls of their little cell. As he himself gave the valve handle a twist about a gallon of water trickled to the ground, and the super-dreadnought was on her way.

In the meantime up above in the bunting-bedecked stands besides President Taft and Gov. Dix and any quantity of admirals and generals and other men and women of great public prominence, Miss Elsie Calder, daughter of Congressman William M. Calder, stood prepared to splinter a bottle of champagne on the vessel's beam. The bottle, encased in silver mesh to keep the glass from flying, hung by a cord from the rail at the starbord bow. The cord was smothered in gay ribbons, as was the bottle itself.

As a series of whistles blew Miss Calder grasped the neck of her missile firmly in both hands, while little Kathleen Fitzgerald, daughter of Congressman John Fitzgerald, who attended her as flower girl, watched her with a heart that thumped right behind her big blue eyes.

DREADNOUGHT CHRISTENED.

A great many hearts in the immediate neighborhood were thumping, too, but it secret. Many a voice cried excitedly, "She's starting," and a deafening whistle from a warship to port somewhere filled the world with sounds. Miss Calder brought the bottle down hard twice against the steel plates, crying in a voice which the whistle absolutely submerged, "I christen thee New York."

Did the bottle break? Eye-witnesses were skeptical as they watched in vain to see the foaming champagne bedew the big ship's plates, while she slid away with ever-increasing momentum, the bottle dangling from her nose. A petty officer in the bow grabbed the be-ribboned line, swung the bottle out and let it back hard against the vessel again. Then he drew it up and completed the job by smashing it against the bow with his own hands. Later Miss Calder said:

"Indeed I did break the bottle. The crowd, of course, did not see it. It was not until it was half over you could see the wine pour out.

"The whole trouble was confusion in the signals. When there was one signal I was to get ready. On the second whistle I was to break the bottle.

"The first whistle blew and I got ready. But there was no second whistle.

"Some one yelled, 'Hit it,' and it was not a navy man. I did hit it. I know I did. I hit in the middle of the prow and the bottle broke."

WHAT SHE IS LIKE.

Her cost, exclusive of armor and guns, is $6,000,000.

Armament ten fourteen-inch guns, twenty-one seven-inch rapid-fire guns, four three-pounders, two one-pounders, two rapid-fire field guns, two 30-caliber maxims.

One fourteen-inch gun costs $62,000 and $50,000 to mount.

Is 1000 tons larger than the Wyoming or Arkansas.

Ninth vessel of dreadnought type launched by United States navy.

Keel laid September 11, 1911, is 62 per cent. completed and will be finished before May, 1914.

Will be manned by sixty-three officers and more than 1000 men.

Drink Habit Never Stands Still

The Appetite for Alcoholic Stimulants Grows Stronger With Each Drink of Liquor Taken Into the System.

Hundreds of men and women in Los Angeles and vicinity, drink to excess, and do not realize it. They think because they take only a few drinks each day, socially or to make them feel more comfortable, that they do not belong to the class who have the drink habit. But when they try to stop drinking they find everything goes wrong. They cannot eat, sleep or attend to social or business duties satisfactorily without just so much alcohol. The appetite, craving and necessity for the accustomed alcoholic stimulation is irresistible and never stands still. A few drinks makes everything right again, and the drinkers continue to poison themselves, until the craving becomes so much stronger, each day, than the will-power to resist, that they cannot stop without medical assistance. They cannot stop because the system is poisoned with alcohol which must be eliminated and its effect neutralized before the drinker is again master of himself.

When this stage of drinking is reached investigate the Neal Drink Habit Treatment, which is administered at fifty-three Neal Institutes in the principal cities of the United States, Canada and Australia. The Neal treatment is a harmless, vegetable remedy, always administered internally—no painful, dangerous hypodermic injections—which eliminates the alcohol from the system and neutralizes its functional effect upon the body tissues in three days' time.

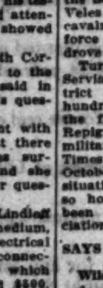
Dr. Hartman Invites Doctors to Visit His Office



S. B. Hartman, M. D.

In my last article I referred to the fact that many doctors have used Peruna and have offered to write me testimonials if I would pay them for their trouble.

The publication of these facts has caused some comment, especially some comment from correspondents. The doctors themselves especially emphasize the subject. I give an extract from a characteristic letter written by a doctor. He says:

Dear Doctor Hartman: I have read what you say about the regular physicians using Peruna and their attitude toward written testimonials. I think you treat them generously by not condemning them for making such offers. I know from personal experience that most of the regular drug houses are willing to pay for that sort of work. I wish, however, you had given the names and addresses of the doctors you refer to in your article. Your statements would have been much more convincing if you had done so. You will excuse me if I express some doubt as to the good standing of the physicians that you refer to. Do you mean to say that you have in your files the letters which you quoted from in your last article? Will you let me see those letters if I should call at your office? I am the editor of a medical journal and would be glad to take the matter up as a news item interesting to physicians.

To this letter I made the following reply:

My dear Doctor: I am glad you are interested in my article concerning the doctors and their attitude toward Peruna. I assure you that I have the letters that I quoted in the article and that you are perfectly welcome to examine them if you will call at my office. And at the same time I have many other letters quite as remarkable as those, that you may examine. In fact, I will open to you my files, which are so arranged that hundreds of thousands of letters covering the last twenty years, are available. You may spend as much time as you please in looking over the correspondence. To each letter I have received, filed in alphabetical order, is appended a copy of the answer they received. You being the editor of a medical journal, I should especially appreciate if you would spend some time in looking through my files. I am sure you will find the most remarkable letters you ever looked at. They tell the story of thousands of invalids who have been afflicted with some chronic catarrhal disease and have found complete relief by taking Peruna. If I should publish them all they would make a library equal in volume to any law library in the city.

Come right along, Doctor. You shall not only see the two letters referred to in my former article, but I guarantee that you will see scores of others equally as interesting and valuable. Bring as many other doctors with you as you please.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons inquire for The Old-time Peruna. They want the Peruna that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Peruna is now called Katarno. If your druggist or dealer does not keep it for sale write the Katarno Company, Columbus, O., and they will tell you all about it.—[Adv.

Choosing a Home Lot is Simple If You Calmly Consider The Facts.

These Are the Facts About Arlington Square

Verify Them and You Will Buy There

When you buy in ARLINGTON SQUARE you cut out the broker's profits. They go to the buyer in lower prices and easier terms because it is platted, improved and sold direct to the people by the owner.

It is at 39th street, in a pretty part of the active Southwest, where values are multiplying fastest. When you consider how much farther the city has grown, the nearness of 39th street is obvious. When you consider it is intersected by Arlington, a thoroughfare famous for its beautiful types of bungalows, the character of ARLINGTON SQUARE should be clear to your mind. A grammar school is within easy walk at 36th street. Accommodations were added in July for 400 pupils more, showing the rapid growth of that residential section. A new school of eight rooms is under construction at Western and Santa Barbara avenues. The Manual Arts High School is near. The new Exposition Park adds another ornamental feature to that important locality.

A Most Pleasing Choice Awaits You Now

I don't invite you to go out and see a string of mule teams grading. On the contrary, ARLINGTON SQUARE is finished—and finished right. Many beautiful homes are built and being built. The improvements are high-grade. The parkings are planted with palms and acacias. It has cement curbs and wide walks. Gas, water, electricity and other improvements are there ahead of you. You don't have to wait for them nor to wish in vain.

Please arrange for Kimball pianos for the use of artists in their rooms at Hotel Lankershim while in Los Angeles, for Signor Agostini, Signorina Amini Matini, Francesco Nicoletti, Rita D'Arle, G. Martino, Giovanni Reano, E. Pineschi, N. B. Marco, Maestro Bavagnoli, and Tarquinia Tarquini and other artists of the Lambardi Grand Opera Company, as they prefer this make. If these cannot be furnished please wire.

PATRIZI,
Manager Lambardi Grand Opera Co.

257 AM-26

Again the famous Kimball is selected by the operatic celebrities of the Lambardi Opera Co., who are appearing at the Auditorium Theater. This is additional evidence of the unquestioned position of superiority which the Kimball piano occupies in the musical world today.

And it is of double significance, following so closely, as it does, on the heels of the sale of sixteen Kimball pianos to the Native Sons of the Golden West for their magnificent new building in San Francisco.

Nineteen years ago the Jury of Awards at the World's Fair at Chicago made this report "The W. W. Kimball Co. deserve the greatest commendation for superlative merit and variety of exhibits, and also for having attained the highest standard of instrument." Three years ago the International Jury of the Alaska-Yukon Exposition said: "Kimball Upright and Grand Pianos typify the highest perfection in tone, scale, action and design in American piano making."

With such overpowering endorsements at home and abroad, those who are about to buy a piano may feel sure a Kimball piano will do well to secure the instrument of those who know, and those who know are unalterably for the Kimball.

Kimball Pianos, Uprights, Baby, Parlor and Concert Grands, and their latest creation—the Acmelodic Player Piano—as well as Kimball Reed Pipe Organs, are sold in Western America exclusively by

DONIZETTI'S MASTERPIEC

"Lucia" Lives and Thr Opera Lovers.

Bride of Lammermoor S Fascinates.

"La Boheme" a Brilliant Su cess.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Nothing could better demonstra the popularity of "La Boheme" th ovation that greeted the playe of yesterday's matinee.

Owing to unavoidable circu stances, "La Boheme" has been giv three times. The continued succe of these performances is largely d to Signora Amina Matini, who co sented to appear as Mimi on each o casion.

Armanini, who twice played R dolph with great credit, was succee ed by the famed Agostini, who se for before sang with more brilliant the difficult part of the poet, a scored one of the greatest successe so far.

Last night an appreciative audien gathered to hear "Lucia."

"LUCIA."

Innumerable operas have been wri ten; many have lived a season, o two have seen a few years of succe and then have died and been for gotten.

Few, indeed, are those who hav survived the generation that had fir crowned them.

Est Gaetano Donizetti can be reck ed counted as an immortal compose one great men can only be sure o existing renown when their name still remain familiar and honored aft a half a century.

The great composer was born (w as before the dawn of the nine enth century and it is now seventy- seven years since Naples received with great enthusiasm the first production of "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Three-quarters of a century ago Donizetti conducted in person the first presentation of that play in Paris. It is recognised by the most cel brated musicians of our generation as a masterpiece of the great Italian composer.

The hidden reason of its continued popularity is unquestionably to be found in the general somber tone of the music, through which like sudden gleams of sunshine in a stormy winter afternoon the exquisite arias of Lucia, the sextet of the second act and the tomb song of the third, strike the imagination and the senses, by their contrast.

The Bride of Lammermoor fascinates as our grandmothers and still appeals to younger generations, but Edgar and good Walter Scott is no longer worshipped as of old. We have wandered far from the simple and wholesome pathos of the Scotch novelist. And yet Lucia lives and attracts as much today as ever thanks to Donizetti's musical inspiration, not through the rather commonplace libretto of Cammerano.

The Lambardi company is about to give a number of novelties in the form of new operas next week, and a selected number of standard productions.

It will not give anything more enjoyable than the satisfying performance of last night.

The music was exquisite; the harp solo by Signorina Lucia Mufieri was a rare treat, and the flute cadenza in the third act, executed by the soloist Frank Rosel, was one of the best given anywhere.

As to scenic effects, this company has not before attempted to give such an elaborate and historically correct background to its singers.

The principals and the chorus were dressed in a manner suited to the time and action that lent an added charm to the performance.

We have heard here many Lucias; it will be difficult to duplicate Signorina Malvina Pereira of the Lambardi company.

She possesses not only a pleasant personality, but a dramatic quality of voice, combined with an exquisite method of voice that the audience enjoyed over and over.

In "Regnava nel Silenzio," the accompaniment of love and sorrow in the duet, "Chi mi frena," the immortal sextet and the delightful aria, "Oh! quante che si sentì," she won the admiration of all intelligent music lovers.

Nicoletti also proved a great baritone of superior range and power.

Alice, the sympathetic attendant of Lucia, was played with delicacy and sweetness by a young and slender actress, Sophie Charlebois.

Tenors all dislike to play the part of Edgar of Ravenswood. That complicated, difficult role was taken by Guiseppe Giorgi, the renowned impersonator of Carlo in "I Pagliacci." Giorgi is no exception to his brother tenors; his Ravenswood was far less satisfactory than his Lucia.

For the first time in Los Angeles Lucia will be given tonight.

The star of the organization, Tarquini, who has been spoken of as a second Tetrazzini in voice, but not in figure, will appear in the role of Conchita she created in Milan last February.

The cast follows:

Conchita, Tarquinia Tarquini; Dolores, Sophie Charlebois; Ruffus, Frances Pineschi; Estella, Frances Kelsey; A Mother, Maddalena Theodore; The Superintendent, E. Pratti; Diego G. Armanini; The Inspector, Diego; A Fruit Seller, B. Martini; Juanita's Mother, L. Zarini; Garcia, Proprietor of the dance hall, G. Fiorini; Henrietta, M. Maggi.

San Francisco Board of Health Says It Should Not Be Sold in Bulk.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—If a recommendation made unanimously today by the Board of Health is approved by the Board of Supervisors, no more bulk milk may be sold in San Francisco by delicatessen shops, grocers, or other retailers. The proposed ordinance provides that milk in bottles of one quart or less must be sealed in sealed bottles and that the milk in the bottle and printing on the seal must be the same.

HOCKIN STAYS IN LIMELIGHT.

Detective Says He Declined to Be the Goat.

Attorney Admits He Destroyed Check Book.

Reporters Tell the Story of Lawrence Violence.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—Robert J. Foster, a detective, testified at the trial of the forty-five accused "dyna- mite plotters" today that Herbert S. Hockin, one of the defendants, made the following statement to him:

"I'm not going to be the only goat. When you take me, you'll take the whole bunch. I'll be satisfied if I get off with a few years, but I will not go on the stand. It would be worth my life for me to testify against the others."

Foster testified that Hockin spoke while the Federal grand jury last winter was investigating alleged il- legal transportation of dynamite on passenger trains, and just before Hockin, who is secretary of the In- ternational Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, turned over the keys of the union's office so that the government might procure J. J. McNamara's letter files.

Foster, formerly on the police force in Louisville, Ky., said as a special investigator for the National Erectors' Association he came to Indianapolis to help search for evidence.

PROMISE TO HOCKIN.

"I met Hockin several times while the grand jury was in session," said Foster. "He promised to procure out of the iron workers' office any letters that had incriminating evidence in them. He repeated he was not the only one in the case, and did not pro- pose to be the goat for all of them. After he turned the office key over so we might procure the letters at night, I told him I appreciated what he had done and he wouldn't lose anything by it. So far as he was concerned, I said, we had enough on him already and that no doubt he would like to have company. At one time in the office he pointed out a bundle of let- ters and said, 'Here are some from the California end.' They were signed by Olaf A. Tveitmoe of San Fran- cisco."

Hockin, formerly of Detroit, has a desk in President Frank M. Ryan's room in the union headquarters. He succeeded McNamara as secretary and in Ortie E. McManigal's confes- sion he is accused of being an In- stigator of dynamiting plots.

Cross-examined by an attorney for the defense, Foster testified he was at present under indictment charged with assault on President Ryan. The charges were that Foster entered Ryan's office and drew a revolver on him. Foster also admitted having been dishonorably discharged from the army.

CHECKBOOK DESTROYED.

Leo M. Rappaport, an attorney, was asked if he had destroyed evi- dence after John J. McNamara had been indicted in Los Angeles. Rappa- port said he went to Los Angeles six days after McNamara's arrest and took with him a check book and a bank book. He talked with Mc- Namara in jail about the check book and on returning to Indianapolis he destroyed the book. It was the pri- vate account of J. J. McNamara which the government charges showed dis- bursements for dynamiting purposes made by McNamara out of the $1000 a month allowed him as secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers.

When objection was made to his explaining further, Judge A. B. An- derson said:

"It calls for an explanation. You say you destroyed evidence when you knew McNamara was under indict- ment and that you did it under his instructions. You knew McManigal had confessed?"

"Yes, it commonly was reported that McManigal had confessed, but it was not known then that either of the McNamaras was indicted."

EYE WITNESS' STORY.

SAW STRIKERS WITH GUNS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM (Mass.) Oct. 30.—That a crowd of strikers, armed with revol- vers received rounds of cartridges from one of their number a few min- utes before Anna Lopizzo was killed in Lawrence last January, and then proceeded to the corner where the woman was shot, was the testimony given today in the trial of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso.

Daniel A. Minehan, a Lawrence newspaper reporter, said he was standing at Union and Common streets on the evening of January 29 just before the Lopizzo girl fell at Union and Garden streets.

"I saw about forty or fifty men standing under an arc lamp," said Minehan. "I heard several shots fired and saw six or seven of the men pass cartridges around to the others and saw them load their revolvers. A few minutes later I heard shots fired at that corner."

It was at that time that Anna Lopizzo fell.

Albert G. Warner, a Boston news- paper reporter, testified he saw the shot fired that killed Anna Lopizzo. The shot, he said, was aimed at Po- liceman Benoit, by a man about six feet tall and smooth shaven.

MURDER PUZZLES POLICE.

Bloodhounds, Jealousy and Rob- bery Figure in Case of Baltimore Heiress Slain With Door Knob.

[By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Bloodhounds, jealousy, robbery and confusion were the essential com- ponents of today's investigation in the murder case of Sophia Singer, the 20- year-old Baltimore heiress, who was found in her room beaten to death with a door knob. With the attempt of the police to trace the movements of the supposed slayers immediately after the death of the girl by means of bloodhounds, and the supposed recognition of Charles D. Conway, circus clown and high diver, and his wife, Beatrice Ryall, a vaudeville per- former, in an interior Indiana town, came several peculiar revelations con- cerning Miss Singer herself.

One was to the effect that she was one of the American claimants to a $50,- 000,000 estate in France now held by the government and in litigation. A second was her brother's declaration that love of gaudy clothes had ruined his sister. A third was the fact es- tablished that the woman had sent off two secret letters half an hour before she met death.

The police advance a number of theories to supply a motive for the murder, but frankly confess them- selves puzzled.

Are You Sick?
Manology
Will Cure You

What is MANOLOGY? MANOLOGY is the Gospel of healing, the most wonderful book of this era, and is a Balm for every ill. It is the Greatest and most Powerful Curative Agent, performing veritable Mir- acles in bringing Health to the afflicted. Dr. S. A. Richmond is the author and pro- mulgator of MANOLOGY. His wonderful cures, based on the knowledge of Manology, have astounded the people. Professors, Phy- sicians, Ministers of the Gospel and critics of every sort are dumfounded in the pres- ence of his astounding success. Hundreds are being continually cured where others have failed, giving sight to the blind, hear- ing to the deaf, making the lame walk, and curing every disease that afflicts the human family.

Stories of cripples hobbling on their crutches into trains from all parts of the country, bound for Los Angeles, and later, returning to their homes carrying their crutches under their arms and sounding the praise of the great doctor, are told daily in Los Angeles, and are spread broadcast throughout the land.

Many come on crutches and go away leap- ing and shouting for joy, thankful that Dr. Richmond has found the key to Manology that heals every known disease. Ear Trump- ets are laid aside, Trusses, Bandages, Braces, Canes, Crutches, Pipes and Tobacco, Mor- phine Habit, etc. quickly, speedily and permanently cured. Drugs of every kind and character are laid aside as of no fur- ther use. Case after case could be cited including every Known disease—Cancer, Tumors, Rheumatism, Asthma, Consumption, Constipation, Kidney Disease, Nerve Disor- der, Dyspepsia, Stomach Troubles, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia—each and every one are cured by this wonderful power of Manology healing. Skepticism melts away like dew in the light of Dr. Richmond's facts.

Wonderful it appears to be, according to the testimony of hundreds who have been healed right here in Los Angeles. Dr. Rich- mond cures all who wish it without money and without price. When asked, "How do you live?" the Doctor replied: "By teaching the laws of life, and by selling my litera- ture, lessons and books on MANOLOGY."

BEST LOT BUY IN ONEONTA PARK DISTRICT.

Here's a rare opportunity for some one looking for a snap. Don't take my word for it that this lot is $200 under value; investigate yourself. If you want a beautiful building site, or a sure profit investment look this up. It's a case of needing the money; 50x150, east front, level as a table; fine homes all around it, splendid locality, street work all done, gas, electricity, fine view mountains and valley. Block and half from eight car lines, twenty minutes out, high ground (nearly 700 feet,) which means health and comfort, quality building up wonderfully. You can't buy the adjoining lots for less than $1500. For few days only I offer this at $1150; $150 down, balance monthly. I defy you to beat it anywhere in the entire Oneonta Park district. Better hurry.

OWNER, 320 Security Bldg. Phone A3501.

FOR SALE— Acreage for Subdivision.

I AM THE OWNER OF A CERTAIN PIECE of acreage that is surrounded by very active subdivisions. The district itself is probably the most beautiful of any of the suburbs of Los Angeles and the only available acreage is this piece of mine and one other which is priced at over 25 per cent. higher than my list price. This property, at the figure I will put upon it, is probably the best bargain in acreage that can be picked up in Los Angeles. I need $12,500, which will be the amount of my first payment on a $70,000 deal; balance 1, 2, 3 years. I will not list this property at this figure, but I will deal with any interested party direct. Be sure of one thing; my price is cut to its lowest possible point and the cash consideration is positively fixed. I can deliver to you a real genuine bargain, but it must be on these terms only. If you can't meet them, don't waste my time or your own. Address K, box 260, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

INVESTIGATE THIS

NEW, LOGICAL CITRUS CENTER.

As forecasted in my recent advertising, BOX SPRINGS, six miles due crow line southeast of Riverside, is the present center of logical citrus activity. THREE THOUSAND ACRES for citrus culture is the record of last week's activity; more will follow, and that quickly.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF AMPLE WATER for this favored section, the fact that it is 1520 feet above sea level, and thus out of the frost belt, the deep soil of decomposed granite, the contour favoring best irrigation results, the citrus fruits already growing, showing correct citrus conditioned, the splendid climatic and soil qualities, the proximity to established citrus centers, all these things conspire to make BOX SPRINGS the COMING point for immediate activity.

I can deliver two tracts, one of 1280 acres, one of 1024 acres; that by virtue of soil, water, contour and location constitute the cream of Box Springs offerings. Price $245 an acre, with water, quarter cash, balance easy 6 per cent. Earnestly I beg you to look at this profit-making opportunity with me NOW.

A LOAN FROM US
Saves Money.
If you want money on FURNITURE, PIANOS, horses, wagons, live stock or other personal property, without giving up possession or use of same.
BORROW FROM US AND SAVE MONEY.
Our plan gives you a definite amount to pay each month, including both principal and interest, and you know just where you stand at all times, and if you find that you can pay before the loan expires you will receive a substantial rebate on the total cost. In this way a loan can be paid off much quicker and cost much less than the customary loan providing for payment of interest only. The reputation we have firmly established with those who know us.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

Times Branch Office, No. 617 South Spring street.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Seeking Dead Man's Sons.

Charles Wheeler, a furnace worker, who died recently in Chicago, having previously lived in Detroit, is supposed to have two sons in California. It is now desired to get in communication with them, and any information concerning them should be sent to Dr. George Carpenter, No. 405 Trude building, Chicago.

Prominent Brazilian Coming.

Dr. Candido Mendes de Almeida, chief representative of Brazil at the recent International Congress of Chambers of Commerce, has notified the local body that he will pay a visit to this city before returning home, and arrangements are being made to entertain him while here.

District Patriotic Association.

A meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at No. 517½ South Broadway for the purpose of forming a patriotic association of all the different branches of the Grand Army of the Republic and other patriotic orders. Special invitations have been sent to all of them by Mrs. Minnie Powell, Department Patriotic Instructor for the Woman's Relief Corps.

New Chief Operator.

David F. Ingold, newly-appointed chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company at the local main office, was a very busy man yesterday receiving congratulations and hearty handshakes from his many friends. Ingold succeeds A. C. Parsons, transferred to San Francisco. For the past year Ingold has held the position of late night chief operator, and his success in that position was recognized by officials in placing him in full charge.

Reservoirs on Upper Colorado.

George H. Maxwell of this city and Messrs. Baker and Smith of Yuma appeared before the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. They urged the importance of appointing a commission to take up the question of securing a government appropriation for building reservoirs on the upper Colorado, to impound the flood waters and save the Imperial Valley from floods, and at the same time bring a vast additional acreage under cultivation. A commission of seven was authorized and the Newlands regulation bill was also indorsed.

Death of Mrs. Packard.

Mrs. R. S. Packard, wife of R. S. Packard, connected with The Times circulation department, died Tuesday morning in the Hospital of the Good Samaritan, aged 35 years. The funeral services will be conducted at the Sutch chapel, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, to which the friends are invited. Interment will be private. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, 8 years of age. Mrs. Packard, whose maiden name was Millard, was born in Chippewa Falls, Wis., and came to this city with her husband about one year ago. She was a member of the Friday Morning Club and had many friends. Her father, B. S. Packard, and a brother, are living at Valdez, Alaska.

Guenther Funeral.

The funeral of the late Fritz Guenther was largely attended yesterday afternoon at the chapel of Cunningham & O'Connor, followed by cremation at Rosedale Cemetery. The service in the chapel was conducted by Rev. Paul Bahnke of the German Evangelical Church, who pronounced a eulogy upon the life of the deceased. Guenther, who was 64 years of age, had resided in this city since 1875, and was, perhaps, best known as the developer of Murrieta Hot Springs. The floral tribute was very fine, and the attendance of friends of the family spoke of the high regard in which he was held.

LEADS IN MAIL SERVICE.

Postoffice Department Authorizes Installation of Six Machines Here for Christmas Rush.

If present plans do not miscarry this city will be the only municipality in the United States to have day and night automobile mail collection service. Beginning December 1 and closing June 30, 1916, the service will be used here.

Postmaster Harrison received authorization yesterday for reception of bids for six automobiles, five for active service, one for reserve.

Sealed bids for machines will be received November 15 by the postmaster. Bids must be accompanied by a certified check of $500 and a bond of $8000. The companies are to furnish autos and drivers.

The action of the Postoffice Department comes as a result of tests made last month and the recommendation of the postmaster.

In a number of eastern cities automobiles have been used in limited numbers by the postoffice authorities, but the experiments there were not altogether successful on account of snow and ice.

"Los Angeles is an ideal place for the automobile service," said the postmaster, "for there is not a day or a night in the entire year when the machines cannot be profitably used."

Estimates based on experiments just concluded in this city are that one machine does the work of three horses.

VERY HARSH ON MOTHER-IN-LAW.

"SHE MAKES ME SICK," SAYS DALEY TO JUDGE.

Family Jar Opened for Inspection of United States District Court When Alleged Smuggling Conspirator Is Sent to Jail in Default of Boosted Bonds.

"If Your Honor please, I love my wife, but I can't stand for her mother; she makes me sick," said Arthur F. Daley to Judge Wellborn, in the United States District Court, yesterday.

Daley, who runs a rooming-house at No. 601 East Fourth street, was before the court on an application of the government attorneys that his bond of $1500 be increased on a charge of conspiracy, it having come to the notice of the United States District Attorney that Daley contemplated leaving the city and forfeiting his bond.

Judge Wellborn said it was evident that the trouble involving Daley and his wife, Ada Daley, with her mother, Mrs. M. E. White, was a family affair, but he increased the bond to $3000 just the same. Daley was unable to give it and was committed to the County Jail. Judge Wellborn declared that the fact that Daley had turned over his property to his wife, as he claimed, was proof that he was about to leave the jurisdiction of the court, and compel his wife, who had furnished $1500 in cash to a local surety company, to lose her money.

Mrs. Daley testified that there had been trouble in the family for some time on account of her mother, and that her husband had threatened to leave her and the city within a few days. Mrs. White declared that she had been ordered out of the house by her son-in-law, and that he had made continual trouble because he did not like her. After leaving the stand Mrs. White admitted she had taken possession of the bill of sale involving the furniture in the house and an automobile.

Daley was indicted some time ago by the Federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the case against W. Lung, the Chinese merchant. It is alleged by the government that Daley used the house on East Fourth street as a place where contraband Chinese brought illegally over the line were taken and hidden. Two other men accused in connection with the same offense, Noel and Mendoza, have pleaded guilty and served their time in the County Jail.

NEPHEW OF JOHNSON EXPOSES THE BOSS.

Great Gathering of Wilson Progressive Republicans Given Some Inside Facts Regarding the Roosevelt Method of Doing Things—Meeting Makes Unanimous and Striking Protest Against the Theft of California.

PLYING A THREE-EDGED sword of argument, ridicule and wit, Albert Johnson, a nephew and erstwhile enthusiastic supporter of California's wandering Executive, flayed the party of Roosevelt and Johnson in the Majestic Theater last night; held it up to the scorn of a large audience and compared the "progressive" accomplishments of the one-man party with the deeds rather than words which mark the political history of the candidate to whom the real progressive Republicans are turning in the crisis—Gov. Woodrow Wilson. It was a remarkable meeting—a gathering marked by the determination to assert the rights of American citizenship at the polls next Tuesday. Strong enthusiasm was shown for the Democratic nominee, and deep feeling manifested whenever the theft of the State by Roosevelt and Johnson was mentioned.

The vacillating character of the two leading Bull Moose, their shifting from one foot to the other, and their following of the winds which know not their own list, provided a basis for the speech of Johnson, who did not spare his own family stump in his arraignment.

The meeting, which filled the theater, was called to order by Charles E. Warner, chairman of the Progressive Wilson Republican League, who explained the purpose of the league, and read the pledge of allegiance, which is being signed by thousands of disfranchised voters from the Republican column. At the conclusion Chairman Warner announced for tomorrow night at the same time and place another meeting of protest against the disfranchisement of the Taft Republicans of California.

"My first difference with my distinguished uncle," said Johnson, "came when he declared to the women of California that he would devote ten minutes of each speech in support of the proposed constitutional amendments in an argument for equal suffrage, and then as we went over the State, and were greeted at place after place with audiences of women who had come expectant to hear their cause espoused, my uncle said not one word for the cause they advocated, and for the only amendment that was in any danger of not being carried. In San Francisco Abe Ruef tactics were employed, and a majority of 10,000 votes rolled up against the amendment, which was only saved by the farmers of the State. If any woman in California votes for Roosevelt and Johnson upon that platform she does not understand the situation.

"George W. Perkins, Roosevelt's friend, proposes to legalize monopolies by the appointment of a commission of three men appointed by the President. This would give us a system of bureaucracy more extensive than Russia has. Any monopoly should be a public monopoly, but Roosevelt says that he believes the monopoly has come to stay. If we really believe this there would be nothing left to do but vote the Socialist ticket.

DEADLY PARALLEL.

"Roosevelt was originally against the campaign-publicity bill. Now that it is a law and he can't help himself he is for it. Will you vote the so-called Republican ticket when its leaders have turned State's evidence? Do you want a party or parties in this country?" and an auditor shouted, "we don't want a king."

Continuing his deadly parallel Johnson said: "Roosevelt says that he is against the bosses yet he has always worked with the bosses. He pledged his interest and support to La Follette at one time but added that he would do nothing that would injure the chances of his friend Taft. Yet I tell you that he fought every progressive principle until he saw the trend and then he announced what he called the 'new nationalism,' but what was in reality the old populism, and now while denouncing William J Bryan as a 'demagogue' he has adopted every one of Bryan's planks save and except the currency plank.

"In Chicago he shouted that the convention was controlled by Taft's Federal office holders. There were just fifty Federal office holders in that convention, while in the second convention which nominated the colonel there were 157 office holders and in his personally conducted convention in which he nominated Taft there were 220 Federal office holders.

"'Thou shalt not steal,' he cries, yet his party has stolen a whole party name. President Taft calls his reign a 'benevolent despotism,' and so it was, for he made executive orders the law of the land. He is so unfair to Taft that he denounced him for doing the very things that Roosevelt himself proposed that he should do.

"He has denounced fifteen Presidents of the United States, among them Thomas Jefferson, and indicated thereby that he considers himself the only fit representative for White House honors. He has prattled of race suicide when great questions of state pressed. He has talked generalities and his record of constructive legislation is a blank.

"He told a committee from Senator LaFollette that he would not enter the race against him, yet at Chicago when it was apparent that the Taft forces would withdraw in favor of any other Progressive candidate except Roosevelt, though he might have written the platform, he refused to make the sacrifice, and brought himself into sharp contrast with the action of Bryan a few days later in Baltimore when he placed his party first and buried his own ambitions.

"He worked with the trusts at all times and it devolved upon President Taft to do whatever trust-busting was done. He was so angry with Judson Harmon for his decision against the Roosevelt Secretary Paul Morton that he went into Ohio and campaigned against Harmon, and on the question of veracity between the [illegible] was changed from a Republican State with a majority of 250,000 to a Democratic State with a majority of 100,000. They tell us that Harmon is a conservative, and I suppose he is, but Roosevelt is a greater conservative.

PLEDGES VIOLATED.

"He has already violated three distinct pledges respecting his candidacy and we have no assurance that he would not be a candidate for a

LIKE BALKAN ENGAGEMENT.

Man Falls While Carrying Dozen Siphons, and Immediately There Is Crash of Glass.

C. B. Brierley, 40 years old, No. 1924 Albion street, said he thought for a moment he was in the thick of a Balkan engagement yesterday when he fell while carrying a dozen siphon bottles. One after another, nine of them exploded. He sustained a two-inch laceration over the left eyebrow, a cut on the knuckles of his hand and a gash on the index finger of his left hand. The accident occurred at Seventh street and Maple avenue.

A. Ware, 33 years old, No. 1119½ East Eleventh street, turned a back somersault when a board, jerked loose from a fence by a horse, struck him in the face. He sustained a two-inch gash on the lower lip.

Second-degree burns of the fingers of the right hand were sustained by Tom Williams, 22 years old, who lives on East Third, between Los Angeles and Main streets, when he accidently thrust that member into a bucket of hot tar.

COLLIDES WHILE TRYING TO MISS.

MISTAKEN SIGNAL COSTS LIFE OF DOCTOR'S WIFE.

Automobiles Come Together on Los Feliz Road and Occupants of Both Cars Are Injured—Young Woman Is Stood on Head and Stays There. Confusion.

Two laden automobiles, colliding on the unlighted way of Los Feliz Pass at the entrance to Griffith Park last night, instantly killed Mrs. Dr. J. F. Daugherty, No. 55 Central avenue, Glendale; dangerously injured Dr. Daugherty, and jerked the four occupants of the other car into the gully beside the road.

Unique incidents attended the disaster, that was caused by a mistake in the signals governing highway traffic. Going toward their Glendale home, Dr. and Mrs. Daugherty were driving in a small machine. Leaving Griffith Park, and climbing the grade at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, was a car containing Harry Love, son of Charles Love, wealthy contractor, No. 457 Harvard boulevard; Earl V. Bothwell, son of James Bothwell, ranch owner and real estate man, No. 329 Manhattan place, and two girls, Billie Rogers of Fountain street, Hollywood, and Sadie Carpenter of Beaudry avenue.

Bothwell, 18 years old, was seated at the steering wheel with Billie Rogers beside him. Love, 22 years old, was in the tonneau with Sadie Carpenter. Their car was a heavy six-cylinder machine.

On the grade of the Los Feliz Pass a pocket in the Los Feliz road, a black and treacherous dip in the roadway, the party of four, returning from a visit to the Love ranch in the San Fernando Valley, was driving in the middle of the roadway. The car, containing the Daughertys suddenly loomed above them. Bothwell, at the wheel, began tacking to the right. Dr. Daugherty, evidently wishing to reverse the accustomed method of passing because the traveling would be better on the other side for his light car, turned sharply to the left. Before Bothwell could realize Daugherty's intention, the hoods of the two cars rammed at an angle of 40 degrees. The little car popped like pasteboard. Below the body the machinery was warped into a ball. The body of the car collapsed like a bubble. The seat was tossed forty feet. Clogged in a clump of bushes still further away was the tool box, while the hood of the engine flared up and was driven through the gasoline tank.

Mrs. Daugherty was the only member of the party not thrown clear of the debris. She was hurtled head foremost into the front axle of the Love machine, her neck was broken and she died instantly. Witnesses declared Daugherty somersaulted twice in the air, several feet above the machine. He was unconscious, but when taken to the Glendale Sanatorium his injuries were found to be a few flesh wounds and severe sprains.

In the other car Earl Bothwell was thrown through the glass wind shield and his hand was cut. He was hurled twenty feet beyond the car. Billie Rogers, sitting with him, was tossed out head foremost, landing on her shoulders against the Daugherty car. In trying to save herself, she clutched the dirt with her hands, and stood balanced on her head, her body slightly supported against the car, unable to extricate herself until assistance arrived.

The flow of blood to the head because of her predicament almost caused unconsciousness. Harry Love was revolved sideways, after the manner of a cartwheel, and his whole body was bruised. Sadie Carpenter dove out of the rear seat, after Love, and by colliding with Love's revolving legs, sustained a severe kick in the jaw. None of the four was sufficiently injured to require medical attention. The Love machine was disabled.

Mrs. Daugherty's body was taken to the Pulliam mortuary chapel in Glendale.

BUMPER CROP ASSURED.

Manager of Fruit Growers' Exchange Says This Will Be One of Country's Best Years.

G. Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, who has been in the East on a two-months' trip, making arrangements for the disposal of this year's citrus crop, returned to this city day before yesterday.

Powell visited all the important marketing centers in this country and Canada. He says prospects from one end of the continent to the other are for bumper crops and that it will be one of the most, if not the most, prosperous in the financial history of the United States.

"Business is thriving in all sections," he said, "and everywhere people are looking forward to visiting the exposition and the Pacific Coast in 1915. Moreover, almost everybody's hoping some day to own a bungalow in Los Angeles."

MARE ISLAND TO LOS ANGELES?

Rear-Admiral Cowie Says Big Change Is Needed.

Must Have Larger Docks and More Water for Navy.

Department Paymaster Pays Us Hurried Visit.

In addition to securing the harbor fortifications, Los Angeles may also get a naval station of considerable size, the one now located at Mare Island. According to Rear-Admiral Thomas J. Cowie, paymaster-general of the United States Navy, who spent yesterday in this city on his way from San Francisco to New Orleans, the Mare Island navy yard may have to be moved to a place where the large battleships, requiring immense quantities of fresh water, can be supplied without trouble.

Party of Eight Men and Women to Be Intercepted in San Francisco as Possible White Slavers.

An anonymous letter received Tuesday by Chief of Police Sebastian stating that three men and five women had taken berths at San Pedro on the steamer Avalon, for San Francisco that night, caused Immigration Inspector Connell to ask the immigration authorities of the Bay City to make an investigation upon the arrival of the Avalon today.

The letter sets out that the men hired the women ostensibly to appear in a comic opera troupe that is about to make a trip to Africa. It is believed from the circumstances that it is the intention to take the women to Africa and sell them into white slavery. Some such party actually did take passage, according to information given out at the local office.

It is the history of white slave cases in the local immigration office that much of the most valuable information comes from anonymous sources. While absolutely nothing is known as to the persons suspected, Capt. Connell thought it the part of prudence to intecept the party and have an investigation made. Descriptions of the men have been sent by mail and the information will be in the hands of the authorities in San Francisco when the party arrives.

Within the past year the office of Capt. Connell has pushed a merciless campaign against what is known as the "French crowd," of both sexes, in this city, with the result that a number have been deported.

GRAHAM'S WATER SCHEME GRILLED AT CITY CLUB.

Public Service Commissioner, Harassed and Flatly Contradicted, Admits That Bars Are Up to All But His Own Pet Cross-District Plan for Distribution of the Aqueduct Surplus—Burr Versus Henderson.

S. C. GRAHAM, member of the Public Service Commission, read forty pages of typewritten manuscript, with frequent explanations on the side, at the City Club's luncheon yesterday at Hamburger's cafe. His subject was an attempted defense of the plan of the Public Service Commission for the distribution of the surplus water of the Los Angeles aqueduct.

Graham evidently enjoyed himself for the hour or more necessary for the reading of this paper, but his audience gradually drifted away until many missed witnessing the uncomfortable half-hour which the speaker endured afterward. Question after question was pressed upon him until he had to declare that it was "not necessary to debate these questions at this time."

Meyer Lissner, former warm supporter of the Good Government members of the Public Service Commission, flatly accused the board yesterday of unfairness to the voters of Los Angeles, in not submitting at least three water-distributing propositions to the choice of the people instead of putting before them the board's own pet plan, which must be accepted or rejected with nothing else in view.

John Burr, spokesman for the delegation of San Fernando citizens present, directly denied statements made by the speaker and likewise crossed swords with President Henderson, of the board, when he tried to support the Graham statements. Burr and Henderson each asserted that their statements as to occurrences incident to water-distribution discussions in the San Fernando Valley were correct, although each was in direct conflict with the other. Burr declared that Graham's "juggling with figures" was entirely beyond his comprehension.

GRAHAM'S EWE LAMB.

T. E. Gibbon cross-examined Graham on various phases of the proposed plan and was seconded by others, until Graham finally admitted that he would be opposed to the adoption of any other plan than the one for which he is directly responsible.

Graham's paper was an exhaustive treatise on the plan for carrying the surplus waters of the aqueduct clear across into the San Gabriel Valley, over much more territory than could be served, at the expense of the city, and charging for the water as high a rate as could possibly be secured by a competitive system among land-owners—leaving the possibility of well developed tracts of land being kept without water because some other tracts might outbid for this service. This is the system which J. B. Lippincott, assistant engineer of the aqueduct, last week denounced as "commercially unsound, legally questionable and morally wrong."

"Of Designing Persons."

Bitter Fight on for Wealthy Lumberman's Estate.

Sons, Cut Off With Shilling Apiece, Contestants.

Executors Appeal from the Courts of Bangor.

Alleging that the will of his father, Frank H. Holyoke of Bangor, Me., who died at the Hotel Maryland, October 3, last year, is a forgery concocted by "certain designing persons residing in Pasadena, while the wealthy lumberman was mentally unsound, Sydney Archibald Holyoke, living in Milwaukee, has filed notice of contest in the local Superior Court. Judge Rives has set November 11 for a hearing of the contest, which promises to be bitterly fought.

At the time of his death Holyoke had been a resident of Pasadena for over a year, living at the Maryland. Previous to coming to California, he had for years been prominently identified with the lumber business in Maine, amassing an estate said at the time of his death to run into seven figures. In his will, a rather remarkable document executed in Pasadena, August 18, 1911, Holyoke cut off both of his sons, Sydney and Harry Holyoke, the latter of Boston, with but $100 each. The will gives as a reason for this action the following statement: "I make no other provision for them for the reason that for many years last past there has been no indication of any filial affection on their part towards me."

FAMILY CUT OFF.

In the fourth item of the testament, which was admitted to probate October 16, 1911, Holyoke bequeathed $1000 to his wife, Cora M. Holyoke. In explaining this bequest Holyoke states in his will that on February 5, 1910, he signed a separation agreement with his wife giving her $5000 and certain further sums, after having secured a confession that she had been unfaithful.

Shortly afterward he came to Pasadena accompanied by Frank St. Thomas, who had been in his employ for many years in a confidential capacity. On March 28, 1911, some time after his arrival in California, Holyoke gave St. Thomas a promissory note for $3500 for "value received." The latter has now presented this note as a claim against the estate.

Following the cutting off of his wife and sons Holyoke gives his entire estate, with the exception of about $50,000 devoted to Bangor philanthropies, to his two nieces, Madeline and Marjorie Holyoke, of Bangor, to be held in trust for them until both are 27 years old. The trustees are A. B. Taylor and Edwin H. Hahn, who are also named as executors of the will. To Frank St. Thomas, who is described in the will as a "faithful and trusted employee of many years' service," is left $5000.

In the notice of contest which has been filed in the Superior Court by Flint, Gray & Barker, attorneys for Sydney A. Holyoke, who it is stated also represents the other contestants, it is alleged that just prior to Holyoke's death he had been suffering for some time from an illness which had rendered him mentally unsound, and that certain "designing persons" prevailed upon him to practically disinherit both of his sons and cut off his wife with a pittance. It is further alleged that the will does not bear his signature and was not drawn up with his knowledge or direction.

FIGHT IN EAST.

An effort to break the will has already been made in the Maine courts on the grounds that Holyoke was not and never had been a legal resident of California. Attorney Edwin F. Hahn, one of the executors of the will, returned from the East last Saturday, where he has been engaged in the trial of the case as counsel for the executors. The Maine Probate Court has held that Holyoke was not a legal resident of this State, and the executors have appealed from this decision to the Supreme Court.

Whether or not the local court will await the action of the Main Supreme Court on this question of domicile, or whether it will hold that a contest is tenable here applying to that part of the estate located in this State, is a question on which attorneys for neither side would venture an opinion yesterday. Hahn & Hahn appear for the executors of the estate.

LIFE BOAT RESERVATIONS.

Japanese Trans-Pacific Liners Now Sell Seats Without Extra Charge, With Each Stateroom.

The wise little Jap steamship men have taken the initiative in an innovation that they do not seem to think will scare anybody out of taking a trans-Pacific voyage. Incidentally, it shows a life boat seat for every passenger.

It used to be that the prospective floater on the briny deep looked askance at any suggestion of life boats. What did he want of a life boat? But the not-too-recent startling events have suggested the desirability of having access to something beside the big ship.

D. F. Robertson, local manager for the Toyo Kisen Kisha and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Japanese lines, has received an assignment of tickets with coupons attached so that a voyager not only gets the number of his stateroom, but also the number of his life boat, both of which he will undoubtedly locate immediately after going aboard. If deemed advisable, he might be permitted to stretch a cord from his stateroom to his life boat, each night when he retires, so that all he would have to do would be to follow the string. The Jap leads, but Robertson says "They'll all be doin' it."

ELECTION RETURNS.

Come to the New Times Building Election Night, Tuesday, November 5th.

Up-to-the-minute returns will be received by special wires from every section of California, and every other State in the Union, and thrown upon large screens opposite the New Times Building.

The Times will also give returns by telephone to all who call.

Water Scheme Grilled.

attributed to him by Mr. Lippincott," said Graham, "that in order to obtain a ready and profitable market for the water, the distributing system will be built to cover more territory than can be adequately served by the surplus water. The other commissioners have made the same statement, but Mr. Lippincott did not refer to the fact that the commissioners have said they were in favor of this plan, not only because it would secure the greatest direct revenue for the city, but because it would result in forcing the water into use on the land, the productiveness of which would be most increased through the use of the water."

The speaker also made the point that the Public Service Commission, under the Graham plan, is recommending that a uniform rate for water be established, this rate to be paid by everyone using the water without regard to the profits of the individual land-owners securing its use, or the location of the land within the district to be supplied.

AT MUNICIPAL EXPENSE.

Graham stated that the Public Service Commission had received assurances from city officials of Pasadena that that city would make application for 500 inches of the aqueduct water and would make it a condition that Pasadena pay a part of the cost of the high line, and that other cities by or through which the high line would pass, will in all probability make the same kind of offers, yet the plan he proposed provided that the line be constructed at the expense of Los Angeles.

At the conclusion of Graham's paper, President Gibbon of the City Club, stated that there were various points upon which the paper had not touched and that it would be advisable for the speaker to explain them.

He asked the speaker to define his attitude on the granting of a perpetual right to water to the San Fernando property owners. Graham declared that he was not in favor of this. He reiterated his argument that a uniform rate for water be fixed, without favor to any locality, and that the only increase in rates should be in cases where the service implies a loss of opportunity to develop electric power.

"If you do that, do you not make the people of San Fernando Valley pay for the delivery of water out in the San Gabriel Valley?" queried Gibbon.

"Well, the people of Los Angeles would never consent to sell water to one section at a less price than to another," replied Graham.

"Has the board ever figured on what it wants to receive net, per inch?" continued Gibbon. Graham said that he did not believe this had been figured down to a definite basis.

Gibbon then wanted to know what would be the attitude of the board in case the people of San Fernando Valley would build their own distributing system to connect directly with the reservoir and apply for water at the net rate per inch.

"I would be very much opposed to letting the district near the aqueduct have water for its own use unless it paid the full rate, charged elsewhere," declared Graham. "I would oppose it, because I believe that we must consider the proposition as a whole."

Councilman Andrews urged that the solution of the difficulties of the San Fernando people in obtaining a permanent right to aqueduct water would be for them to annex to Los Angeles, but Graham explained that even in that case the water could be withdrawn from them for irrigating purposes and applied to domestic use.

LISSNER VS. GRAHAM.

Meyer Lissner declared that he did not believe the manner in which the distributing proposition had been placed before the people was fair or just.

"The Public Service Commission has followed the habit that prevails here of presenting the subject so that we must adopt or reject the whole proposition, instead of presenting alternative or various propositions," said Lissner.

"There is a consensus of opinion that part of the surplus aqueduct water should be distributed over the San Fernando valley and a part of it over the coastal plain, but there is a grave question as to whether the best interests of Los Angeles would be served by carrying it into the San Gabriel valley to the points proposed by this plan submitted to the people.

"Three propositions should have been submitted to the people, covering these phases of the general question. Why was this not done? Wouldn't you have done your duty if you had submitted your recommendation for the plan you favor and then allowed the people to choose which of the three plans they wanted to adopt?"

"Well, to begin with, I was in favor of submitting three propositions—that for the city, the San Fernando valley and the high line," replied Graham, "but after consideration we decided that it was our duty to advise the people of this city that the board had concluded that the one we have selected is the best system. The submission of more than this one would have confused the voter."

Lissner continued his interrogation: "But before we build the distributing systems we must vote bonds. When you propose the question of bonds, would it not be fair to propose two separate bond issues—one for the part upon which the people are agreed, and the other for that portion on which there is a grave question?"

"We must act once for all," replied Graham.

"Doesn't the very fact that you look to Pasadena and other points for the payment of considerable sums of money, aside from the payment of water rates, justify the argument that the people of the San Gabriel valley should pay a higher water rate than those of the San Fernando valley?" continued Gibbon.

"That is a question that I don't think it is necessary to debate at this time," replied Graham.

"Has your board considered the application of water distributing system on lines in harmony with the discussed consolidated city and county government?" continued Gibbon.

"No, we have not," replied Graham. "We consider that the city has quite enough trouble in the territory that it has already taken in—we have not considered that question at all.

Then followed a lively tilt between John Burr, representing the San Fernando property owners, and Graham, over statements as to what the valley people would be willing to pay as water rates, and an incidental mixup between Burr and Henderson, in which Burr flatly contradicted the statements of each of these men.

At various times several men were on their feet to ask questions of the speaker, but the session extended far into the afternoon, and the president shut off further interrogation.

The sentiment as expressed by the applause during the discussion showed that there are many opposed to the Graham plan within the ranks of the City Club, and that they will vigorously oppose the proposition to commit the city to a scheme that is strongly condemned by one of the chief engineers of the aqueduct.

OBSEQUIES OF YOUNG LAWYER.

Last Rites of Masons and Elks Performed at the Bier Yesterday Afternoon—Many Friends There.

The funeral services over the remains of Frank F. Pratt were conducted yesterday afternoon at the chapel of Peck and Chase, which proved entirely inadequate to accommodate the many friends who assembled to pay their last tribute to his memory. Among the were a number of members of the bar, mission and temperance workers and ministers of the gospel; Mrs. Francis Murphy and a number of the Harvesters, the women's organization of the original Francis Murphy movement. There were also about a hundred members of South Gate Masonic Lodge of which the deceased was a member and an equal number of Elks.

The ritual ceremony of the Elks was first performed under the leadership of E. J. Lovey, at the close of which each member of the order passed by the bier and laid a small bunch of violets on the casket, already covered with beautiful flowers. Then followed the Masonic ritual by the officers of Southgate Lodge, each member depositing a sprig of evergreen on the casket. The singing of "Face to Face," by Prof. Houk, the blind baritone, was most affecting.

The father, mother, sister and brother of the deceased were present, and at the close of the ceremonies the body was taken to Rosedale Cemetery for private cremation.

There were many handsome floral pieces, among them tributes by the Los Angeles Bar Association, the Masons and the Elks.

Mr. Pratt, who was about 35 years of age, and unmarried, made his home with his parents. He died of Bright's disease at the Sisters Hospital on Monday, surrounded by his friends.

HIS GUN EXPLODED.

VISALIA, Oct. 30.—George Warner, a packing-house employee of this city, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured while quail-shooting in the Tulare district late yesterday afternoon when his gun exploded. The weapon was a newly purchased one and the accident happened at the first shot. Flying fragments of steel tore Warner's shoulder and inflicted serious wounds in the face and head. His recovery is said to be doubtful.

it is essential that the station must have docks which will not only accommodate the vessels, but which can produce a bigger water supply than that now available," he said. He explained the requirements of the vessels in this direction and said that there is a possibility of bringing the station to local waters unless conditions in the north are quickly remedied.

Rear-Admiral Cowie, through whose hands pass all of the disbursements of the Navy Department, amounting to millions of dollars annually, has been inspecting naval stations and training schools on the Pacific Coast, having traveled from Bremerton to this city within the past month. He arrived in the city yesterday morning.

He was met by personal friends at the Arcade Station and taken on an automobile tour around the city and then to Pasadena, where, with Mrs. Cowie, he enjoyed a view of Busch Gardens and other interesting places and lunched at the Maryland.

"My time is too short to make an inspection of the harbor," he explained when San Pedro was suggested, "and it will probably not be long before I return to get better acquainted with California." Speaking of sharing in the navy contracts which are made in the East and are nearly all executed in the East, the paymaster-general stated that more purchasing will be done on the Pacific Coast in the future.

"You probably do not realize that the Navy Department is spending between $700,000 and $800,000 in the upkeep of the one naval training school on Goat Island alone and nearly all of that goes to San Francisco merchants," he said. He admitted that California products were not sufficiently represented on the purchasing list, due partly to the fact that the contracts on all staples call for goods to be delivered to the navy yard in Brooklyn, which presents a serious handicap to bidders of this section of the country.

"Numerous products, which are grown or manufactured here, and oriental goods such as tea, which is shipped through Pacific Coast ports, must first be sent to Brooklyn and then redistributed, coming all the way back to the stations on this side of the continent," he said, in explaining the present situation of the purchasing department.

While in San Francisco Rear-Admiral Cowie was the guest of honor at a banquet tendered him by the merchants of that city who placed before him these problems and explained in detail the many articles which might well be supplied to the Pacific Coast fleet from the fertile fields and the commercial centers of this State, rather than shipping from the East.

BOWLED OVER AND SQUASHED.

Motorcycle and Express Wagon Seem to Have Designs on Pedestrian—Other Accidents.

One man knocked down by a motorcycle and run over by a Wells-Fargo express wagon, and two brothers injured, one of them seriously, when their motorcycle collided with an auto, were two of the many accidents yesterday in which motor-driven vehicles played a conspicuous part.

J. M. Isaac, 30 years old, No. 625 West Fifty-second place, and F. W. Isaac, 35, No. 1021 West Fiftieth street, were riding a tandem motorcycle, with the latter on the rear seat, when they ran into a California Taxicab Company auto at Fifth and Wall streets.

F. W. Isaac sustained a fracture of the eighth and tenth ribs on the left side, one penetrating the pleural cavity. The other sustained a dislocation of the outer end of the left clavicle and bruises and lacerations.

Lawrence Clark, 27 years old, No. 227 South Main street, while attempting to cross the street at Winston and Los Angeles, was bumped by a motorcycle and thrown to the pavement. He fell in front of an express wagon. Before the driver could check his horse, the wheels of the vehicle had passed over Clark's body. He escaped with a number of painful bruises, contusions and lacerations.

Contusions of the right side, hip and foot were sustained by E. Hoch, 35 years old, No. 922 East Forty-second street, when he was run down by a motorcycle at Thirty-third street and Central avenue.

Some Day, The Little Man, Your Little Man Will Be a Big Man!

Analyze your own case. What is the principal trouble with which you have to contend. Money Matters, isn't it? The great problem of making both ends meet. The eternal fight for existence. The continual balancing of the debits and credits and the worry as to where you are going to come out.

Now we will admit that your son is endowed with a brain a little better than the average. That brain must have training. You're going to educate the boy. You're going to equip him in a mental way to meet other men in that combat that we call The World. He will know how to compute interest possibly. He'll be able to mention, off-hand, the capital of Venezuela. But the great, big, practical problem of the value of dollars and cents, is more important to him in his future life than any of the things that are taught in the schools. And it is up to you to teach him.

We know successful parents who have started the boy out with a dollar, deposited every week from the time he was born until the time he was 21, and that would amount to something like $1300, a capital that a youngster of brains could turn to good account. We know others who put the boy to work; let him mow lawns; let him raise chickens or rabbits; let him carry papers, if it's necessary. And they double every deposit he makes in the bank.

It is extremely doubtful if a boy can go through twelve years training in either of these courses without taking the degree of R. A. D.—"Respect of the Almighty Dollar." It's a degree that will probably boost the youngster further than A. B., B. A., M. A., or any other combination of the letters of the alphabet.

PLANS STOCK YARDS TO COST MILLION AND HALF.

F. E. SLATER of Salt Lake has a vision in his mind's eye. In it he sees Los Angeles as the Chicago of the West. He sees teeming stock yards, with all the exchanges, adjuncts and appurtenances thereunto, thousands of busy workmen and miles of bustling railroad yards. He sees Los Angeles take its place with Kansas City and the lakeside metropolis and says that the dream is an actual possibility of the not far-distant future.

Slater is a typical "cattle man," keen eyed, heavy booted, and alert to the main chance. He is at the Huntington Hotel and expects to be here for some time investigating sites for a $1,500,000 plant, feeling out the railroads and laying plans to initiate this city in the aristocracy of the mellow-eyed beef, the uneasy hog and the low-browed wooly sheep.

"Why not?" asks Slater. "Here is a great market, with no home supply. We ship to Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, Denver and Portland, where there are big yards to receive our stock and through which it is handled at a profit. It looks to me as though a great opportunity has been passed up here in Southern California. Los Angeles should be the distributing point for even San Francisco, because to the yards here will come the cattle of Arizona, New Mexico and Utah.

"My idea is to develop the feeding industry here and to ship in thousands of head of feeders. We will encourage this industry in the Imperial Valley and in adjoining range States. Los Angeles and vicinity alone consumes from 15,000 to 17,000 head of cattle monthly, but the shippers of the East are unable to secure quotations or information concerning the requirements here. As a result we ship elsewhere.

"The railroads are with us as a matter of course, but the question of a site is a perplexing one. Your real estate prices here are staggering, and for the plant we have in mind 125 or 150 acres of land will be necessary. We have a number of sites in view and I hope while I am here on this trip to come to some definite understanding. I am representing besides myself capitalists in Arizona, Utah and Colorado, and there will be no question about financing the project. This is not a 'scheme' but a business opportunity which has apparently been overlooked. Such a plant as we have in mind will probably have a capacity of 10,000 cattle, 25,000 sheep and 10,000 hogs."

In the opinion of the man from Salt Lake, the present price of beef is destined to go still higher. "The law of supply and demand is at work," he said. "It means that the day is fast returning when the small farmer, the man with only a few acres, can raise and feed—stall feed, if necessary—a few head of cattle at a good profit. The big ranges are passing, and before long the home-grown product will be well worth while. Los Angeles is the logical point for extensive stock yards, and if our plans mature we plan an investment here in land, yards, buildings and accessories, including a great horse and mule market of $1,500,000."

NOT MOVING DAY AGAIN FOR MILLIONAIRE BABY.

J. ROSS CLARK II will remain with his mother, Mrs. Virginia McDowell Clark Tanner, for several days longer at least. The District Court of Appeal yesterday instructed the counsel on both sides of the fight for the custody of the child to file briefs by 4 o'clock this afternoon. Just how long will be taken by the judges sitting en banc to settle the law points is not known. As Baby Clark is happy with his mother and nurse no possible harm can come to him even if the appellate decision is delayed. J. Ross Clark, the grandfather, was in court yesterday when the questions involved in the writ of review came up, but neither Dr. Tanner nor his wife was present.

It was evident yesterday that a tremendous legal battle will be fought before the permanent home of the Clark baby is definitely settled. The grandfather was represented by McNair and Whittemore, and former Judge McKinley. Mrs. Tanner has retained, in addition to Attorneys Mueller & Youngworth, the law firm of Flint, Gray & Barker.

As the opening gun in the session, Attorney Mueller filed a demurrer and also stated that his side was entitled to a hearing on a writ of review of Superior Court orders adverse to them in case the present matter was not terminated satisfactorily. He read the code sections appertaining to guardianship and declared that the Superior Court in the first instance had merely granted temporary guardianship upon the showing made by the grandfather Mueller asserted that the mother was 7000 miles away when the guardianship matter came up and hastened home in response to a cablegram.

"We contend that she cannot be deprived of the custody of her child pending the final hearing," said Mueller. "She is the natural guardian. The courts have always recognized that right. The record shows that she left her child with her mother; that he was taken to the home of the grandparents and there detained without the consent of Mrs. McDowell, mother of Mrs. Tanner. The mother never deserted her child."

Attorney McNair replied there would be no controversy over the law regarding the natural right of a mother to have custody of her child. He said the paramount consideration was the welfare of the child. He said that there had never been any appointment of guardian over the person of the child, but merely over the property. This matter would be settled November 20, at the regular hearing. The lawyer went on to say that in his mind the question was whether the preferential right of the mother should yield temporarily to the showing made by the grandfather. He declared the baby had been taken from the Clark home on Sunday "by violent means, and a corps of deputy sheriffs."

McNair argued that Judge Clark, who made the order giving temporary custody to the mother, admitted that the baby would be as well off with his grandparents as with his mother. He insisted that the real issues would have to be heard at the appointed time, but that in the meantime the child should be with his grandparents.

Ex-Moral Censor's Hearing.

EDDIE CALLS ON JONES, THE LATTER TESTIFIES.

THE hearing of charges preferred by Alma Jones against Guy Eddie, suspended City Prosecutor, is to be terminated in the Juvenile Court today. Judge Wilbur will doubtless make a ruling whether or not the evidence warrants holding the defendant to answer.

Contrary to the procedure of the defense in the previous preliminary involving a similar charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor female, it put on witnesses and did not ask for a secret session.

It is expected Eddie will take the witness stand today to give his explanations of the visits of the mulatto woman to his private office.

Probably the most significant testimony yesterday from the State's standpoint, was when the husband of the complaining witness said Eddie and one of the lawyers for the defense had been to see him. Jones swore that he met Eddie and H. J. Geisler on the 22nd. inst. at the Philadelphia House on Central avenue.

"Did you talk with Mr. Eddie?" asked Deputy District Attorney Blair.

"Yes, I talked with him," said Jones. "He asked me if I could help his case. He said he would greatly appreciate it. He told me that my wife had visited him, but said that there was nothing to the things she said against him.

"When leaving the house, Mr. Eddie told me again he would appreciate anything I could do for him and that he would do anything he could for me."

Jones was not cross-examined.

Fred M. C. Choate, a strong personal friend of Eddie, and a deputy under Nimmo, acting City Prosecutor, was the next witness. He was called by the State. His evidence favored the defense.

On the morning of the 2nd inst., when Mrs. Jones was closeted with Eddie, Choate said, he went into the private office at least twice and "never saw anything out of the way."

Choate said he always knocked on the door and then without waiting for any response, entered. He distinctly remembered the door was ajar on that particular morning.

Miss Margaret Gardner, a clerk in the outer office of the City Prosecutor, swearad that she went into Eddie's office several times the morning Mrs. Jones was there. She said she met the colored girl first when the latter came to make a complaint against her husband. She thought the girl would make a good "secret service" agent, and told Eddie about her.

Miss Gardner said the mulatto called half a dozen times after Eddie's attention was first directed to her. The witness said she supposed the girl called to make reports.

J. M. Ramsay, a photographer and friend of Deputy Choate, testified that he went to the prosecutor's office on the morning of the 2nd inst., to see Choate, and while waiting, noticed that the door into Eddie's private office was not closed. He was positive on that point.

Mrs. Lena Baptiste, a colored woman, testified that on the morning after Eddie's arrest, Mrs. Jones came to her house to talk over the case. She swore that Mrs. Jones told her that the City Prosecutor had always treated her "as a gentleman should."

After a lot of tiresome questions about the door, the locks and other matters appertaining to Eddie's office, the hearing was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

BANDIT'S BIG BUSINESS.

Young, Well-Dressed and Unmasked Road Agent Plies Flourishing Trade for One Evening.

A young, well-dressed, unmasked highwayman worked with exceptional daring Tuesday night when he held up one man in the fashionable residence district of Hollywood, with autos whizzing past only a few feet away, and then shifted his scene of operations to Boyle Heights. There, under the glare of an arc light, the bandit robbed a second. He secured $205 in gold and currency, and a valuable gold watch. The police have an excellent description of the highwayman.

G. C. Barrier, No. 1627 East Twenty-third street, was stopped by the lone highwayman on Utah street, between Sixth and Seventh. In the glare of a street light, which gave him an excellent chance to get a good description of the man, Barrier was robbed of $120 in gold and $23 change.

At Highland and Franklin avenues the bandit made another appearance. He held up C. L. Munroe, No. 6655 Franklin avenue, at the point of a large revolver, demanding that he turn over his valuables. Munroe opened his purse in his pocket and turned out all his money, except $5, which he handed to the bandit.

Barrier and Munroe describe the highwayman as being about 24 years old. They said he wore a fashionable suit and a dark soft hat.

fourth, fifth or sixth term. He has stood all his life against the things he now stands for, but which during seven and a half years in office he never said one word about, including the great Progressive principles of equal suffrage and Presidential primaries.

"He has done everything in favor of the bosses, and to aid special privilege and never has stood for the rights of the people. In Arizona on one day last year he denounced the recall of judges, but when he reached Los Angeles the next day and Boss Lissner told him that the trend here was in favor of the recall he right about faced and in a speech came out in favor of the recall. Now he proposes to recall judicial decisions, but explains that he does not mean the decisions of Federal judges or those appointed by the President, which reduces it to a State issue.

"We are engaged in another battle for human liberty, the most important since 1864, and the voters should not permit themselves to be confused. The party name in California has been stolen; it has been taken under false pretenses, by a method unfair and dishonest, by low politics denounced by real Progressives.

"Roosevelt has no distinct tariff views. Originally he was a free trader and belonged to a free trade society in New York, but not while he was in office. He urged Taft to take the stand he did in the matter of Canadian reciprocity and then denounced Taft for taking that stand. In this connection you must understand that there is no free trade party in spite of the attempt to befuddle the voter by accusing Wilson of being a free trader. Wilson would take away the special privileges from the trusts, and you may be sure that hundreds o fthousands of good and loyal Republicans throughout the country would not be preparing to cast their votes for him on next Tuesday if they did not know that free trade is no part or parcel of the Democratic programme.

ONLY FOR HIMSELF.

"Roosevelt has betrayed the Progressive cause by splitting the party and standing only for himself. It is Perkins's personally-conducted campaign. He says he is for the initiative, referendum and recall now. These are State issues; but in Oklahoma you remember that he sent word into that Territory, then knocking for Statehood admission, that unless these clauses were elliminated from its constitution he would veto. They were not removed and he did not veto it.

"The choice lies between Roosevelt and Wilson. The Republican party in California has been stolen from the ticket, and between these two men the choice should be easy. Roosevelt's record you know in all its vacillating intricacies. The call for Wilson came from the people. His record is also an open book, and it is the record of a true progressive, a man of strength who will stand for no monopoly or special privilege, but who will restore the government to the common people."

During the address by the earnest young scion of the house of Johnson the large audience was held spellbound by his eloquence with occasional outbursts of enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. White, president of the Los Angeles County Woman's Wilson Progressive League, said she was there to "voice the indignation of the women of California who have been defrauded of their political rights by the disgraceful confiscation of the State. A lesson should be taught," she said, "by voting for the Democratic candidate. Wilson may not have a monopoly on the ten commandments, but his politics are clean and a vote for him is a vote to repudiate the wrongs that have been visited upon you."

SMYTHE'S "PUNCH."

William E. Smythe of San Diego, president of the Wilson Progressive Republican League of California, was loudly applauded and during the course of his talk the many telling points were cheered as he landed each "punch" where it belonged.

Smythe began by saying that "no party or leader has exclusive rights in the word 'progressive.' It is a generic word, and the characteristic word of our age. The passion for humanity—the dream of a new heaven and a new earth—is not confined to any party nor to any country. We want to go forward—all of us.

"The question remains: How shall we use our votes and influence in this campaign to make them count for that sort of progress during the next four years that is best for our country?

"In California we need not discuss the Republican candidates and platform," he continued. "The Republican ticket will not be upon the ballot. In every other State—from the Pacific to the Atlantic, from Lakes to Gulf—the Republican voter may, if he desire, vote the Republican ticket as nominated by his party at Chicago in June, but in California the Republican who desires so to vote is denied the opportunity.

"The Bull Moose convention met at Chicago in August in response to the will of one man. It was initiated, not by a great national spirit and human need, but by a personal ambition and a personal grievance. The men and women who met there were attached to a man rather than to a cause. And by that token the Bull Moose convention was a danger signal for the American people.

"For the first time since we were a nation, a considerable body of our countrymen are crying out for a king to rule over them. They have found a man whom they invest with the attributes of Deity. They ask us to overthrow the traditions of the republic and give him a third term. When the time comes, if we elect him now, they will demand that he shall serve longer, and, finally, name his successor in office, as he did in 1908.

"'Anywhere he leads us we will follow him.'

"Could you imagine a more dangerous state of mind? They were ready to follow him at Chicago in June, when he stood for one set of principles, and equally ready to follow him in August, when he stood for entirely different ideas. From the standpoint of August, his June platform was mere punk; from the standpoint of June, his August platform is dynamite. But they follow him regardless of platform because it is the man they worship rather than the cause.

"At Baltimore, the Democratic party had a real stroke of genius, the first one it has suffered in many a long day. It has been known to do the right thing before, but not in a long time has it done the right thing at the right time.

"Wilson came, as Lincoln came in 1860, on a mighty wave of popular acclaim that upset all the nice calculations of the party managers.

"And when he shall enter the White House on the fourth of next March, one thing is sure, whatever else be doubtful—we shall have at the head of the nation a man who is free to do right as God gives him to see the right.

"It is often said that the Earl newspapers are incapable of telling the truth. I denounce that statement as a deliberate slander upon good and pious men and read the following extract from a leading editorial in the Express of April 18, 1912:

"'Gov. Wilson destroyed a corrupt machine in New Jersey, much as Gov. Johnson destroyed one in California. The public measures he advocated went right at the heart of the political business and industrial problems of the State. They inaugurated a new regime. They were progressive, and economically and industrially took directly into account the human demand for justice and fair play. To his credit on the statutes of New Jersey are statutes covering the direct primary, purity of elections, employer's liability, campaign expense regulations, publicity laws, regulation of corporations by a Public Utility Commission, laws regulating the capitalization and charges of corporations, factory regulation laws, and the initiative, referendum and recall available for cities. He is also an author of repute.'

"Let us be fair to our opponents. Let us concede that the Earl papers are always as honest as circumstances will permit." Referring to Senator Works's defection and his refusal to stand for the attempted grand larceny of a sovereign State, the speaker said:

"The Bull Moose boss of Los Angeles says that Senator Works has lost his mind. I think this must be a typographical error. He meant to say that the Bull Moose boss has lost control of the Senator's mind."

Again referring to the campaign contributions, Smythe said: "There is only one way I can think of in which Theodore Roosevelt will ever be able to bust any trusts. If he should live to a great old age—as we all devoutly hope he will—and should continue to run for President, which seems probable, the trusts may eventually go broke in suplying lavish contributions to his campaign funds, but even this prospect is marred by the possibility that they will recoup their losses by raising the cost of living.

"Only today the papers tell us that Roosevelt is employing W. J. Burns and 1000 detectives to watch his opponents in New York and see that no frauds are consummated on election day. If he had had the foresight to employ even one detective to watch his friends in California he would have prevented the perpetration of the most unconscionable fraud that ever stained the history of an American State.

"Now, do you want California to be a lonely Bull Moose at such a time? Mind you, the Bull Moose will be regarded as the common enemy by both parties at Washington. There will be no closed season on Bull Moose. Democrats and Republicans will dine on roast Moose, fried Moose, stewed Moose, scrambled Moose—every sort of Moose known to the science of political cookery, as long as there is any in sight. They will vie with each other in punishing the State that has reached out one hand to kill the Republican party and the other to kill the Democratic party. And here are we with a real need of protection for our products, with need of harbor and river improvements, and, perhaps, world's fair appropriations, and we the only Bull Moose State in the Union.

"How much better for California to be in a position to say to the Democrats: 'We are a great Republican State, but we had no chance to vote for the Republican candidates, and, besides, you had risen so handsomely to the occasion at the Baltimore convention, that we decided to go with you this time. Now treat us right, and let us have what we need.' I believe that is the sensible thing for Republicans to do at this time."

CONSPIRATORS FLAYED IN STRONG RESOLUTION.

THE big gathering of Wilson Progressive Republicans gave unanimous expression to its views and sentiments last night, by adopting the following resolution:

We, free cititzens and electors of the State of California—men of widely-varying political faiths and wholly different political affiliations—massed here on this occasion to declare our political views, proclaim to the people of the State and the country that an extraordinary and anomalous condition of public affairs, the like of which was never before known in the United States, confronts our people today.

Through acts of partisan-political and of legislative and executive usurpation, the members of one of the great political parties in this commonwealth are denied their constitutional right of free choice in voting for Presidential electors; they have, in short, been disfranchised through the lawless and usurping action of their reckless and desperate political antagonists, who compose the strange and wicked Roosevelt-Johnson conspiracy, dominant for the time being in this State.

These conspirators have steadily refused to listen to the dictates of right and reason, and are still showing a persistent determination to rape and rifle that sacred refuge of the American freemen, the all-preservative franchise, and to leave politically defenseless in California an entire political party—the Republican Old Guard.

Therefore, we who have assembled here in this momentous crisis—in this hour of peril to a public right always heretofore held sacred—protest with all the energy of our souls against the monstrous and unexampled political evil which we have here exposed and denounced; and, differing as we do, widely in our personal Presidential preferences, we jointly make these declarations without abdicating or renouncing a single principle held by us, or by any of us, touching any other political issue before the country. The protection and defense of the right of political representation in the affairs of the country is the paramount issue, and upon that we go before the country, confident that when the people of the United States shall have come to learn the true state of affairs here, unnumbered hosts of them will stand with us on this, our supreme ground of protest.

VAUDEVILLE FOR WOMEN.

Al Malaikah Shrine's First Ladies' Night of the Season Proves to Be a Big Success.

Over 1500 Shriners and their lady friends attended the first Al Malaikah Shrine's ladies' night vaudeville entertainment at the Shrine Auditorium to be given this year. The vaudeville programme, which has become a regular feature, was augmented and proved a huge success. Prior to the vaudeville acts Al Malaikah's band gave a specially selected concert.

The vaudeville programme, which was enthusiastically applauded by the big audience, included the Russian string quartette, which rendered a number of national selections; Miss Sapphire Montrose, dancing and singing soubrette, who made a decided hit with a number of topical songs; Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly, with Master Donnelly, monologists, singers and buck and wing dancers; Jack Duncan in a clever black-face and eccentric dancing act, and the McCall Trio, novelty singers and dancers. Several Pathe moving picture films were shown, including moving pictures of the Al Malaikah Shrine barbecue held several months ago on Eddie Maier's rancho.

SUMMER SKIN DISEASES

During the summer most persons are annoyed with pimples, boils, rashes, or eruptions, while others suffer more severely with Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some kindred skin disease. The eruptions may be glossed over and inflammation reduced by the application of washes, cosmetics, salves, etc., but no skin affection can ever be permanently cured in this way. Only pure blood insures a healthy skin and the circulation is therefore the point at which treatment should be directed. S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S.S.S. builds the circulation up to its normal strength, increases its nutritive powers and adds to its purity in everyway. Then the skin instead of being irritated, burned and blistered with acid humors and impurities, is nourished and healed by a plentiful supply of pure, rich blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Robert Hiddleson,

OLD braid and brass buttons and the very daintiest of Parisian creations were among the many delightful features of the fashionable wedding last evening of Miss Elisabeth Hicks and Lieut. Frank Gross, which was celebrated at the home of the bride-elect on West Adams street, Rev. Father Glass officiating.

Miss Hicks entered on the arm of her father, Frank Hicks, who gave her into the keeping of the groom. She was attired in an exquisite robe of white satin and Duchesse lace. Her veil was thrown from her face and fell to the hem of the court train. Lily of the valley and lavender orchids formed the bridal bouquet. Miss Sally McFarland, who assisted as maid of honor, wore a handsome gown of deep pink chiffon and in her hair a pink paradise feather. The Misses Margaret Gaffey and Catherine Kearns, in paler pink chiffon embroidered in rhine stones and pearls, assisted as maids. Like the maid of honor they wore long trains and carried gold baskets filled with pink roses. Little Alice Hicks assisted as flower girl. She wore a French frock of white over pink and carried a gold basket filled with rose buds, which she gracefully scattered along the path to the altar.

Lieut. H. L. Keller accompanied Lieut. Gross from Washington to act as best man. The ushers were Lieut. Pennington, Ensign Smith, Ralph Phelps of San Francisco and Ignacio Stott of this city.

Only 100 of the most intimate friends witnessed the service, which was impressive and interesting. Among those from out of town were Mrs. Walter L. Dean and Mrs. Lansing Kellogg of San Francisco, sisters of Mr. Hicks, and Mrs. John W. Wright, sister of Mrs. Hicks from Washington, who introduced Miss Hicks to Washington society two years ago, shortly after the attractive young woman met Lieut. Gross. Later she returned to this city where she was presented at a ball given by her parents at the Alexandria. She attended school at the Convent of the Sacred Heart and Menlo and later passed considerable time in travel.

Friends regret that the wedding will necessitate the popular young woman leaving town for an eastern home in Bremerton, where Lieut. Gross is stationed on the U. S. S. St. Louis. A two months' wedding trip will be enjoyed before the young people reach their destination.

Miss Hicks gave a breakfast Tuesday morning at the California Club for members of her bridal party. Vases of white chrysanthemums were arranged with white tulle on the table. Favors for the maids were fancy pin-cushions in the form of brides, gowned in white satin, with tulle veils fastened with orange blossoms, while the men received pin trays with miniature sailor boys clad in white satin suits with gold epaulettes and sword. The place cards were embossed with wedding rings with the date of the wedding and the hostess's name with that of the guests. There were covers for Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Hicks, Miss Sally McFarland, Miss Katherine Kearns, Miss Katherine Ramsay, Lieut. Gross, Lieut. Keller, Ensign Smith and Frank Phelps.

Bobrick-Wright Wedding.

Miss Marie Bobrick, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Alexander Bobrick, No. 923 South Burlington avenue, became the bride last evening of Alfred Wright, son of Mrs. Wright and the late Judge C. C. Wright of this city.

The service was performed by Rev. Father Crosby at the family home before an altar of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns in the drawing-room. The Bobrick was gowned in white satin, en train, with trimmings of Duchesse lace. She wore a veil and carried white orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Katherine Banning assisted as maid of honor and the maids were the Misses Aileen McCarthy, Virginia Nourse and Sarah Clark. They were attired in costumes of yellow. Miss Banning's was fashioned of the deep shade, while the maids wore dainty creations shading to almost a cream. They carried long-stemmed chrysanthemums matching the color of their gowns.

Mowatt Mitchell was best man and the ushers were Arthur Bobrick, Weston Wilson, Jack Bucklin and Jack Howard. A special musical programme by Arend was rendered.

Supper followed and the bride's table was also done in the yellow chrysanthemums. Favors were boxes of wedding cake tied with ribbon streamers which held in place the cards.

At the conclusion of a trip Mr. and Mrs. Wright will reside at No. 423 Harvard boulevard.

Delightful Tea Party.

Assistance League.

The hearts of the ladies who have charge of the sale of tickets for the all-star ball game to be played at the Washington Park grounds Saturday, November 9, for the benefit of the relief fund of the Assistance League, are beating high with the hope that many of the inmates of the charitable institutions are to have an outing and see the game as the guests of unknown hosts.

Within the past two days Mrs. Granville McGowan, Mrs. Frank Griffith and Mrs. Henry O'Melveny, who have the ticket matter in hand, have been told of large blocks of tickets which have been sold to well-known persons, who could not possibly have personal use for the number purchased by them.

Among those who have bought tickets en bloc are: Mmes. W. S. Hook, Jr., W. E. Ramsay, J. M. Senni, J. S. Slauson, S. P. Hunt, Fred A. Walton, W. T. Bishop, T. E. Gibbon, John McKinney, Wesley Roberts, Harold Wrenn, Dan Murphy, Wesley Clark and Modini Wood, Judge and Mrs. M. T. Allen, Dr. Ralph Williams, Dr. John R. Haynes, W. T. Earl and M. S. Hellman.

There remain but three of the grand stand boxes unsold. Recent purchasers of boxes are: Dr. W. E. Waddell, Hancock Banning, E. F. C. Klokke, Mrs. Roland T. Bishop and Mrs. Guy S. Potter.

News From Boston.

A pretty romance, which had its beginning in a tour to the Pacific Coast, will have its culmination next Tuesday at Boston, when Miss Mildred Spear, daughter of Joseph G. Spear, a retired merchant of East Braintree, and Thomas Jamison Mayor of Los Angeles will be married. Boston and South Shore society are interested in the romance, as Miss Spear is one of the popular members of the younger society set.

The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's parents in East Braintree. Rev. Daniel Roy Freeman of Braintree will officiate. After the ceremony the young couple will make a tour of the United States and will make their home in this city.

Easy to Get Rid of Corns THIS Way

"GETS-IT," THE NEW CORN CURE. GUARANTEED.

"Corns Gone! GETS-IT Got 'Em!"

"GETS-IT" is the new-plan corn cure that will surely surprise you the very first time you use it. It is so simple, painless, quick and sure in its action.

It shrivels up the corn, wart, callous or bunion, separates them from the true flesh, the corn comes off, and there you are, with feet that feel positively glorious; corn-free once more as they used to be in your "bare-foot days."

The most remarkable feature is that "GETS-IT" does not harm or turn raw the healthy flesh as other preparations do. It is as safe as water. No more plasters, bandages or salves.

LEGAD ADVICE OF FRIENDS WORRIED GROOM.

Netherlands Consul Brought Joy to Heart of Compatriot When He Informed Prospective Husband That Allegiance to Foreign Power Was No Bar to Marriage Here.

The threatened wreck of an international romance was averted yesterday through the instrumentality of Netherlands Consul Zeehandelaar. Driven to the depths of despair by the thought that he could not marry the girl of his choice because of owing allegiance to a foreign power, a frantic bridegroom was on the verge of collapse when he encountered his country's representative and was reassured.

Martin Kryger, loyal subject to Queen Wilhelmina, whose rapid-fire conversation constantly reminds one of popping corks and the musical clack of Maartan sabots, came to Los Angeles a few weeks ago and promptly fell head-over-heels in love with pretty Elsie Gertrude Jeffries. Visions of the dainty Los Angeles miss as hausfrau in a cosy cottage, safe behind the dikes of his loved Holland, spurred him on till he asked the all-important question and was accepted.

Knowing little of the laws of the strange land in which he found himself, Kryger sought advice from friends and was appalled when informed that the union could not take place so long as he remained a subject of the Netherlands. He could not take his promised wife to his own country and he could not marry her in this country, so he believed, hence the dilemma.

The Netherlands Consul, who set his countryman straight on the matter of matrimonial alliances in this country, also directed him to Justice Canne, a compatriot of the groom, who gladly united the perplexed bridal couple. The justice assured them that the matrimonial knot would hold a long time, even though the ceremony was performed in English for the benefit of the bride, who as yet has not learned her husband's native tongue.

ASSOCIATION AIDS.

Sales Managers Agree That Intercommunication Helps in Gaining New Ideas.

Matters of unusual interest to persons connected with sales departments of the various business concerns of the city were discussed last night at a banquet of the Los Angeles division of the National Sales Managers' Association, at the Hollenbeck. The address of the evening was a presentation of beneficial effects of convention work, by H. Albert deWit, manager of the Union Lithograph Company.

The topic chosen by the speaker for discussion was: "Does Association and Convention Work Play a Part in Developing the Sales Manager?" Answering his own question in the affirmative, the speaker told the guests wherein this was true.

"Ideas," the speaker said, "are the most highly paid for items of which we know today. Highly paid for because of the universal demand for rare articles. If you cannot originate you can at least copy, revamp and apply what you have heard or seen and it is the convention that is the vehicle. I pray you let's all take a ride."

Following the discourse, the members of the association indulged in a general discussion of the subject.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: For the girl who is troubled with enlarged pores there is an astringent lotion which if properly used tends to reduce these blemishes.

When I ran in to see the good housekeeper the other morning she asked me forthwith to enter the butler's pantry, where she had been busy.

"Oh! new silver?" I exclaimed, as my eye fell upon the long rows of shining knives, forks, spoons and other table articles.

"They do look like new, do they not?" she replied.

"They certainly do," I said, "and I suspected that some of your family have been remembering an anniversary in their usual lavish manner."

"Well, I did have a gift, the other day," she said, "but it was not new silver. It was this," and she held up to view a porcelain dish in which was placed an odd little metallic coil. "And in fact it was this," she said, "which gave me the new silver that you see." Then I was puzzled. After I had marvelled sufficiently to suit her the good housekeeper explained; or rather she "showed me."

"See this," she said, holding up a spoon which was actually black. "This is a spoon with which egg has been eaten." Turning, she placed the spoon for an instant in the porcelain dish which held the coils and out it came as bright as the "new" silver which I had been admiring.

"Now tell me all about it," I said.

"There is little to tell," she replied. "Into the dish with this coil you place a teaspoonful of common washing soda and one of table salt and over it you pour hot water. If you wish to have the work go forward most rapidly, although cold water will act, but more slowly."

"And where can these be purchased?" I asked. "In several of the down town stores," she said and named one where a masculine member of the family had found hers.

"Do you know," she said, "I have cleaned this silver in about twenty minutes and it used to take the maid most of the day to do the same."

So there is another time and labor saving device, to add to the housework lighteners!

A Beauty.

In one of the Oriental shops which imports directly from Japan, there is shown one of the handsomest Satsuma vases that I have ever seen. The shape, the size and the decorations are unusual, and the quality most superb. The manager of this establishment has just returned from a stay of several months in his native country and while there has had made many unique and beautiful articles for the American trade.

Rare Oriental.

In another Oriental house which makes a point of carrying many articles of wearing apparel as well as bric-a-bric, I saw motoring scarfs of chiffon embroidered in solid effect most striking and beautiful. A blue scarf with the ends embellished in wild roses with their most natural looking leaves was extremely pretty.

Real Gloves.

In that establishment which is holding a thirty-first birthday sale, I saw something entirely new in gloves. A direct importation from Paris, these gloves have scarcely been placed on the market as yet. They are both long, for evening use, and short for day wear, with long sleeves and they come in all colors. They are embroidered and spangled elaborately. In some instances, the work extends well up on the arm and in others it is merely a few deft touches with the embroidery needle and heavy silk and a few sparkling beads or sequins to give a high light. Most luxurious are these new gloves, and when selected to match the embroidery or the coloring upon a costume, they would form a fine accessory.

There are six or eight, in a set, according to the spirit of generosity which happens to possess you, and there are many different shades to use upon different occasions and with different garments. To each is attached a gilt safety pin, and all are tied into a "bunch" with a narrow satin ribbon which harmonizes well with the ensemble of the sachet set. "So Poetic."

I hope you have not failed to notice those long-necked cats, which live among the Hallowe'een funnies. They wear such comically yearning and poetic expressions, as they crane their necks to see what is going on, up where the Jack o' Lanterns soar.

Mackinaws.

Among the most stunning garments are those new mackinaws, in one of the high-class Broadway men's furnishing stores. They are short, jaunty and have pockets galore. They also have those adorable broad belts and pointed hoods which are detachable. Warm, chic and durable these mackinaws are such as any girl would be delighted to have as a winter birthday gift or for Christmas.

Ribbed weaves are the most important among the novelty silks.

LAND CASE UNFINISHED.

Vice-President of Citizens' National Bank Testifies in National Homestead Association Case.

Cross and re-cross-examination of Elias C. Redman, president of the National Homestead Association, charged with fraudulent use of the mails, closed last night. The government will place a half dozen witnesses in rebuttal on the stand today, and the case that has been bitterly fought for forty-four days in the United States District Court will then be ready for argument.

An important feature of the testimony yesterday was the part Redman is alleged to have played in cultivation work as a silent partner in the firm of A. Davis & Co. It was testified that while Redman advanced large sums to Davis, the cash was the property of the National Homestead Association.

Redman acknowledged his statement in a booklet that he had given lots to churches to be located on the tract was untrue and said thirty-five stockholders of the National Homestead Association quit paying after Postal Inspector Webster informed them they were "up against a swindling game."

Deeds in the name of Redman were produced to show his individual holdings in the Antelope Valley, covering isolated quarter sections from three to twelve miles from the town of Redman. He said he had begun operations in Antelope Valley land in 1904.

W. W. Woods, vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank, but at the time cashier of the American National Bank, testified that in 1908 he negotiated a $1600 loan for Redman from C. M. Du Vernet, a money lender. Redman paid a bonus of $400 for the loan, Woods testified, of which Woods got $400 as commission and Du Vernet a similar amount as a bonus. Redman gave a note for $2400 and turned over contracts of the National Homestead Association, amounting to about $7000, as further security for the loan, Woods said. He declared he had no dealings with the National Homestead Association, but with Redman personally.

IS TRIPPED FROM DEATH.

Escaping Prisoner Stumbles Over Bystander's Leg as Detective Fires. Officer Loses Record.

Paul Miller tripped from death yesterday, stumbling over a bystander's leg as Detective Ritch shot three times at him.

Firing at Miller as he fled down First street pursued by an excited throng of 1500 persons, Detective Ritch captured his prisoner, but lost a record of which he was proud. It was the first time in six years that the officer had been forced to discharge his pistol.

Ritch has the reputation of using his gun with less frequency than any other man on the force and it was his desire to go ten years without using it. He was taking Miller, wanted on a petty larceny charge by the Pasadena authorities, to the Central Station when the prisoner escaped at First and Broadway.

TOO MUCH TALK.

Court Rules Against Youth Who Chooses Working Hours for Courting Instead of Selling Goods.

Too much talking about baseball and too frequent dialogues with a young woman who came often to the store, were charged successfully against R. A. Manuel in Justice Forbes's court yesterday, where he sought to collect $29 from C. C. Desmond and D. J. Desmond, clothiers, for whom he had worked three months.

Manuel said he had been discharged without cause. He admitted that a young woman was in the habit of trading wherever he happened to be working, but asserted that their conversations were concerning business matters. The court held he had no cause for action and refused to grant him his back pay.

NO REASON FOR RASH ACT.

Young Woman Victim of Automobile Accident Refuses to Tell Why She Wanted to Die.

Mrs. Florence Jordan, one of a party of two women and three men injured Sunday morning in an auto wreck at Jefferson and Adams streets, attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning at No. 243½ Blaine street, by swallowing bichloride of mercury tablets. She was found in a semi-conscious condition in her room by the landlady. A physician saved her life after an hour's work. She refused to tell why she attempted to kill herself.

Mrs. Jordan and her three friends went to Venice about 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning for breakfast. On the way home she asked the driver of the taxi to hand her an overcoat in the front of the machine. The chauffeur lost control of the auto while trying to steer it with one hand and give Mrs. Jordan the overcoat with the other. It ran at a tangent across the street and collided with a telegraph pole. All the occupants of the car were injured, but none seriously.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Hill and Tunnels.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The tunnel question is one of such serious import to owners of property liable to be assessed for its construction that the Council acted wisely in delaying the subject for thirty days for further investigation of the various problems open for solution. The proposition of cutting down the hill to a level of Hill street staggers one on first thought with its great cost and the question of confiscation of the property assessed for its entire removal. While all will admit that tunnels are unsatisfactory noisome, dark and unwholesome and very expensive in removal of dirt, building of arches and properly tiling and draining, and for these reasons an open cut is much preferred. Why not test the removal question, commence on Hill street at First and cut through the street to a Hill-street level at Fremont and then on either side to the depth of one lot, say 150 feet, making a crosstown business street? This would greatly enhance the value of the property on the street and fully solve the traffic problem to the northwest, the street being wide enough for a double-track street car line, with city and suburban tracks. This would enable the Glendale and Burbank electric lines to swing into Hill street and thence to the Hill-street electric station and avoid the long haul up Figueroa to Sixth and down Sixth to the Pacific Electric station, which should be a great benefit to the suburban line and help to relieve the overbundance of traffic at the Sixth-street station and throw the northwest traffic into the center, at much greater convenience to patrons and at much less expense of operation.

This experiment on First street would demonstrate the cost desirability of the removal of the balance of the hill. This would give a complete and satisfactory outlet on First street from the east to the west side of the city.

If this cannot be done and tunnels must be constructed like the plan outlined by Councilman Reed to tunnel from First and Second at the west to a common bore coming out on private property between First and Second on Hill. This would not interfere with the proposed bore on First street to Hill, which would greatly injure every foot of Hill street property by cutting off the traffic grade that now goes up First to Hill and from Hill to Broadway. No assessment could be levied legally on Hill street for the proposed construction of First-street tunnel to First and Broadway, for every property on Hill street and on First up the hill, would be seriously damaged and have no benefit whatever; and the rule of law that assessments can only be made for benefits received, would annul such assessment, whether made separately or in conjunction with the proposed Second-street tunnel.

Hill street and north end property has already been assessed by a general levy for the Third-street and Broadway tunnels and for an assessment district for the Hill-street tunnel now being cut through to Temple. Third-street tunnel is used now for traffic twice over than any bridge in the city for all sections of the city. The general increased valuation for taxation of the property at the west end of the tunnel has more than paid into the city treasury the cost of its construction, and the question always arises, why assess a limited district for an improvement made for the benefit of the whole city. Questions to be settled permanently must be settled right and this important hill and tunnel question must not be hurried and unwisely done because some of our citizens are more zealous than wise.

ATTITUDE OF THIS JOURNAL.

For the country and the flag.
For the Constitution and the courts.
For upholding the honor of the army and navy.
For orderly liberty under law.
For an Ocean-to-Ocean highway.
For true Freedom in the industries.
For unshackled labor, nation-wide.
For the just rights of the organized many.
For Labor's protection, reward and repose.
For the home and its safeguarding.
For social order and business solidarity.
For world-wide peace with honor.
For security in the State.

For PRESIDENT TAFT

And against his allied antagonists.
Against political fads, freaks and frenzy.
Against the Big Noise and the Big Stick.
Against the new-fangled judicial recall.
Against free trade and free soup.
Against reckless currency and schools.
Against the un-American closed shop.
Against industrial discrimination and prescription.
Against, not organized labor as such, but Against its acts when law-defying.
Against the bench, boycott and blackjack.
Against strikes, picketing and violence.
Against "peyroleviches" backwards.

FOR REPUBLICAN ELECTORS.

Below are the names of the regular Republican nominees for Presidential electors in California. Write them on the ballot; they are for Taft:

James A. Waldo,	Andrew Glassford,
Frederick Dodge,	Norman Bridge,
Charles K. Fellos,	Rose Campbell,
J. Stirky,	Charles R. Ulleth,
Robert Greany,	Arthur E. Hilton,
Hiram Levy,	Joseph Martin,
Mrs. E. M. Flynn.

CELEBRATING.

People seldom stop to count their blessings. Hardly a man in town has looked up from his ledger this week to thank Providence that he does not live at Scutari.

PLAYING AT WAR.

When Mr. Madero (he is not a general) wastes his time setting traps to deflect soldiers the people will not let him execute, when he might employ himself catching and killing Zapata and other outlaws, he shows an appreciation for melodrama, but does not demonstrate his vivid appetite for war.

CONSISTENCY.

Funny we would use a caption like the above when we are about to write of a woman. A perfect lady in a state of unhappiness (she is in the State of Washington) is suing a man for $100,000 damages on a charge of breach of promise. There, now, Nellie, suppose you were called into account for the summer engagements you have broken in just one season?

A GOOD ARTICLE.

We see that Brother Marshall stopped being a Democrat last Sunday and went to church. We are assuming that he reformed for at least one day when he undertook to preach. It is only charitable to the congregation to take this view of it. He told the dearly beloved for whose votes he was devoutly angling that they should each get a religion of a personal variety. For a man who is not a regular gospel shark the Governor of Indiana was hiding out a mighty reliable brand of goods. Religion as a personal experience is certainly the only article worth calling by the name. Unless it becomes functional with the individual it lacks the punch and never gets over. "By their works shall you know them."

CIVIL SERVICE.

President Taft is to be commended for his efforts to free the civil service employees from political control and make promotion entirely dependent upon merit. Postoffices of the fourth class have been added to the merit and taken from the party form of administration.

The country needs efficient servants in the customhouse, the treasury, the postoffice and all other branches of the civil service. If this is important among the lower-downs, it is more important among the higher-ups. The heads of all departments should be appointed for loyal performance of duties and experiences gained by long service. It does not make for efficiency or economy to put an untried man in as master of a first-class postoffice because he has been a useful political worker. He should be placed there on his record as a good postoffice worker. Parties must serve the people, not people the parties.

VALUE IN BY-PRODUCTS.

It is great for any man to have more than one string to his bow, also for plants and industries to be diversified. A potato has only the tuber, the top is waste material. A gold mine has only the gold, the matrix is a positive hindrance. The walnut tree has only the nut—the wheat only the grain, for straw out West has no appreciable value. Most fruits and vegetables are only single producers.

The greatest fortunes have always been made from materials having plenty of by-products. Of course mineral oil and coal easily lead the world in this respect. One of California's staples in the near future will be cotton, and cotton is luckily a double producer of wealth. In the South the value of the cottonseed oil is sufficient to pay all crop expenses, leaving the baled cotton as an actual net profit.

Farmers investigating the possibilities of Imperial Valley and the lowlands of the Colorado River will do well to keep this fact pasted inside their hats. Some day California will be more famous than Egypt for the quality of her cotton, and there are thousands of acres upon which this may be grown. Don't forget, either, that the by-product pays all the expenses.

We think the football games are perceptibly cooling the air.

"HOME RULE"—VOTE NO.

The adoption of the "Home Rule," or, as it ought to be designated, the "Home Misrule" amendment to the State Constitution, would make unsalable bonds of the municipalities of California, because it would impair the security upon which all public indebtedness rests—the integrity, intelligence and stability of the taxing power. It would, for the same reason, impair the value of bonds already issued.

It would be possible under the Home Misrule amendment to revive the mortgage tax system, which the sand-lot statesman forced upon the people of California many years ago, and the result of which was to increase the burdens of the borrower without adding materially to the public revenues.

It would cause outside capital to shun California as a State infected with a financial pestilence.

It would enable a county to adopt an income tax that would exempt all small and moderate incomes and overtax a few large ones. It would invite socialistic raids upon the accumulations of industry. It would be an invitation to public officials to accept bribes and practice dishonesty. It would foster confusion and be productive of disaster. It would encourage communities to bid against each other to illegitimately promote some industries and discourage others. Overlapping and conflicting systems of taxation might be adopted. As many as four systems might be put in operation in a single county. County might be arrayed against county and district against district. There might be fifty different revenue systems adopted in fifty different counties.

Its adoption would give scope to experimental legislation, and every experiment would be exempt from central control.

It has never yet happened in any community that has had the misfortune to fall temporarily under Socialist control that such control has resulted otherwise than in an increase in the public burdens and a decrease in the efficiency of municipal rule. It opens the door to the adoption of the wildest theories of Prudhomme and Marx.

It means the single tax, and the single tax means confusion, injustice, and public and private bankruptcy.

Whether you are a Republican, a Democrat, a Progressive, or a disfranchised and bewildered voter on national questions, The Times advises and entreats you in your own interest and in the interest of the community wherein you live to vote NO on the so-called and miscalled Home Rule taxation amendment.

AS TO "BOOTING."

A steamed Progressive contemporary announces in flaring headlines that "Society Women Will Root for Charity Ball Teams." The Times is shocked. The Times is fain to believe that whoever wrote that caption offers a striking instance of the "evil communications" of the proprietor of the journal in question "corrupting the good manners" of his reporter.

What do society women do when they "root"? The word when used as a verb is defined by Webster as "to turn up with the snout, as swine; as the swine roots the earth." Another definition is "to seek for favor or advancement by low arts or groveling servility; to fawn servilely."

The ladies of Los Angeles have no "snouts." They sometimes wear their pretty nasal organs retrousse, and nothing is more piquant, and pretty, and delicate than a retrousse nose, especially when it rests lovingly above a mustache. The brute who should designate such a nose as a "snout" and compare its use to the action of a swine in rooting the earth is a wretch "whom 'twere base flattery to call a cowherd." Caesar's nose is described by the poet as "the eagle's beak between those eyes that ne'er beheld a conqueror," and one of the charms of golden-haired Daphne was her straight Grecian nose.

The ladies of Los Angeles bear no resemblance to animals who have "snouts." They are sometimes like gay gazelles who glad you with their soft, dark eyes. They resemble beautiful fawns. They may occasionally be like graceful leopards. But who would ever compare a girl to a rhinoceros, or a hippopotamus, or a tapir, or other snout-endowed animal?

The second definition of the word "root" is as applicable to the women of Los Angeles as is the first definition. The action of the society women of Los Angeles in promoting a noble charity is not "seeking for favor by low arts," nor do they ever "grovel."

When a lady asks you to buy a ticket to a charity baseball match she doesn't "grovel" and she doesn't use any "low arts." She appeals candidly, and sweetly, and sometimes imperiously to all the higher and nobler and more generous impulses of your nature. Sordidness takes flight and you gladly "reach for your eel skin and cough up"—as Roosevelt would say. In behalf of the noses of the insulted, misdescribed and misrepresented dames of Los Angeles The Times denounces their slanderer.

A FEW QUESTIONS.

Did you vote for Taft four years ago? If so, is there any good reason why you should vote for Roosevelt now? Has the President, or the Republican party, done anything or failed to do anything since that should cause you to cast a vote for the so-called Progressive party, or a vote to help wreck the Republican party? Are you still in favor of protection? If so, will you help the cause by voting for Roosevelt, who has announced that he is in favor of admitting free of duty foreign goods, when similar goods are made by American manufacturers who fail to make the conditions of their workers "satisfactory"? Will it help such dissatisfied workers to close by a free-trade tariff the factories in which they have been working? Will it help the Lawrence operatives for their employees to remove the Lawrence factories to Belgium or England?

Do you think that the efficiency and the status of the Supreme Court will be promoted by providing for an appeal from its decisions on constitutional questions to a majority of the voters at the polls? Is there any law—constitutional or statutory—advocated in the Progressive platform—except for reversal of Supreme Court decisions—that has not already been placed in the California Codes by Republican as well as Progressive votes? Do you believe that Roosevelt was justified in comparing President Taft to a pickpocket? Do you believe that Johnson was justified in saying that President Taft is "the most humiliating character in American history?" Do you believe with Roosevelt that Jefferson was a coward and a liar? and Madison an influence for evil? and Monroe a triumph of imbecility? and Jackson ignorant and corrupt? and Van Buren a moral delinquent? and Harrison, and Tyler, and Taylor, and Fillmore imbeciles or "small" Presidents? and foreign-born citizens ignorant and immoral? and that Populists never bathe? and that Quakers are worse than duelists? and farmers, and agricultural laborers, and mechanics, and city workmen not to be mentioned in the same breath with drunken cowboys?

Do you believe it was a square deal for the Progressive leaders in California to disfranchise Taft Republicans?

If you believe none of these things you can express your disbelief by not voting for the Roosevelt electoral ticket.

NEVER MIND THE SCAREHEADS.

The religious faith of the misguided Hindoo who throws himself before the wheels of Juggernaut may be respected, although we may feel that his intelligence and his common sense are negligible quantities.

The Times does not criticise the honesty and good faith of the Progressive who is deluded with the idea that by voting for Roosevelt and aiding to break up the Republican party he can help reform either the real or fancied evils of the day. But it does question his judgment even as it would question the judgment of an enthusiastic but misguided bull who should try to butt a locomotive off the track.

The greater part of the evils complained of by Progressive leaders and believed to be evils by those who follow them, are fancied evils, and such evils as really exist are not to be remedied by electing Roosevelt and Johnson to office.

In the pending contest Col. Roosevelt and his spellbinders and newspaper followers have resumed the sports of their boyhood. They have hollowed out seven ripe pumpkins, cut slits in them to represent crooked noses, leering eyes and wicked mouths, placed lighted candles inside of them and labeled them "Predatory Wealth," "Special Privilege," "Loathsome Capitalism," "Big Business," "Government by Injunction," "Government by Courts," "Government by Trusts."

These scareheads Roosevelt has strung on a wire across the Republican highway, and in front of them he stands, megaphone at his mouth, shouting "Avoid these dangers by leaving the Republican road and following me along a new path I have blazed and dug." "Where will your new path lead to?" inquires the frightened and bewildered traveler. And the answer will be the shibboleth of the hotel clerk, "damfino," except that it may lead me into the White House.

What principle of right, what warning against wrongs, what purpose of reform do the Rooseveltian pumpkin scareheads represent? The first four of them represent nothing and mean less. They are "tales told by an idiot full of sound and fury." "Predatory wealth" means to the dissatisfied I.W.W. any wealth possessed by another man, however it may have been acquired. "Special privilege" means a privilege to a railroad company to build a bridge over a river and exclude vehicles and footmen from using it. "Big business" is a department store where you can buy things cheaper than they can be purchased at small stores, and "loathsome capitalism" is the capitalism that furnishes the money to put up skyscrapers, and construct railways, and excavate harbors.

The main feature, the original feature, of the platform which Col. Roosevelt cribbed from the Socialists is his hostility to "government by injunction." To this he has added a proposition to reverse unpopular Supreme Court decisions by a majority vote at the polls.

No man who is honest, no man who is law-abiding, no man who does not seek a cowardly advantage over another can object to what is called "government by injunction." Injunction has been rightly called "the right arm of equity," and "equity begins where the law fails." Injunction is never issued except to forbid somebody from doing something that he has no right to do. When the right to the writ is not perfectly clear it will not issue, and it will never issue ex parte except where delay might work irreparable injury, and even then the applicant must first give ample bonds of indemnity to the defendant. The objection to government by injunction is made usually by those who desire to do unlawful acts and escape consequences. When Col. Roosevelt attacks the power and usefulness of the courts by favoring abolition of the writ of injunction and popular reversal of Supreme Court decisions he endears himself to all the disorderly elements of society. The ruffians and the thugs and the larcenists will applaud him, for—

"No thief are felt the halter draw
With good opinion of the law."

But honest men and peaceful men desire that our courts shall continue as now, the conservators of justice and order, and that experimental and iconoclastic hands shall not be laid upon our system of jurisprudence.

Republicans! Take counsel of your patriotism and your common sense. Be not deluded by the cry of "Progressivism." It means nothing but gratification of the ambitions and misintration to the spites and revenges of Theodore Roosevelt. Do not be scared by the lighted pumpkins. They cannot harm you. Stand by the grand old party, now and hereafter, and however you may vote or refrain from voting, cast no ballot for its would-be destroyer.

UNCLE WALT.

The Post Philosopher.

Help your town along by boosting! Wear a bright and hopeful face. Do not be forever roosting somewhere near the wailing place! You can't help your town by knocking, if it's in a backward groove; but some optimistic talking does a lot to help things move. In the mud one town was sticking, evidently anchored there, for her people all were kicking, all were dishing up despair. All were groaning o'er their taxes, shedding teardrops in a stream, all had hammers, clubs and axes, ready for each helpful scheme. So the village sat and rotted till a booster landed there; soon the trouble's seat he spotted, saw the fungus in the air, and he jarred the village croakers, stirred them up to hump along, till the place was full of jokers and the breeze was full of song. Citizens forsook the habit of bewailing this and that, and the timid business rabbit rustled like a tiger cat, and they all turned in kerwhooping, singing forth the hamlet's praise, and that hamlet, lately drooping, filled its neighbors with amaze. Now, this story, true as preaching, shows what one lone man can do, if instead of doleful screeching, he yells "cockadoodle-doo!" For you stimulate your neighbors every time you give three cheers, and the harvest of your labors will be reaped in coming years.

Sure-Enough Heredity.

[Judge:] "Pa," announced little Rodney Clugg, "I saw ten thousand dogs fighting down back of the vinegar factory!"

"Tut, tut, my son!" chided his sire. "You know there are not ten thousand dogs in this whole county."

"Well, there were several dozen of 'em, anyhow, all fighting like fury."

"That is a little better, but tell the exact truth now. How many dogs were really there?"

"Ourn and another dog, pa."

"Were they fighting?"

"Well, sir, they—they acted like they were going to."

"H'm! Now, where in the world did you learn to exaggerate so shamelessly, and—"

"Why, pa, didn't I hear you telling a man last night that the Roosevelt enthusiasm is steadily growing?"

CALIFORNIA'S MESSAGE.

No part of the world has a more welcome message for the rest of the world than California. It is a message of boundless promise. It is a message of opportunity—opportunity for the investor, who finds a field of tremendous resources in the process of rapid development; opportunity for the homeseeker, who wants a productive soil and a prosperous business environment; opportunity for the infirm in quest of health, who regain vigor in a climate without parallel on the earth; opportunity for the tourist, who crosses continents and seas in pursuit of pleasure.

And there is no herald so convincing, none that reaches so many of the hundreds of thousands of home-seekers, health-seekers, tourists, investors, who yearly make for a greater and better and more prosperous California, as the MIDWINTER NUMBER OF THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.

Every adult person in Southern California should know these things about the TIMES MIDWINTER NUMBER:

DATE OF ISSUE—On or about January 1, 1913.

CIRCULATION—200,000 copies. Of these 50,000 go to foreign financiers and investors; between 55,000 and 60,000 to daily subscribers; and more than 90,000 to persons in the East and Middle West who are looking to Southern California with interest today.

CHARACTER—The Midwinter Number is distinctly a work of character and with character. It is a masterpiece in every sense. Months have been devoted to its compilation. It is accurate and sane in every particular. It is convincing. It is dependable. It does not contain an extravagant statement. It is a vast compendium of reliable information concerning Southern California. It treats of practically every phase of progress in the Southwest, the great industries that are in operation and building, the stupendous improvements in process of unfoldment, the unexampled growth of Los Angeles and of the Southwest in general. It graphically portrays the Southland's God and man-wrought beauties. It pictures Southern California as it is. There is no more eloquent story than the truth about the Southwest, and the Midwinter Number tells it faithfully.

TWILIGHT MUSINGS.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

Bird Notes.

I wonder if the Mocker when he sings
His song of skies so vast, so deep, so blue,
Has not within the fountain of his heart

Nor any need have I to look above
To teach my heart anew how bright the skies,
For oh, the thought of you, my Sweet, is like
The sunset's gold that on each summit lies.

The Dying Summer.

Slow fades the blossom of the centuries.
Reluctant as a rose its odorous petals sheds,
The dying summer's final hours yield
To cut the few remaining silken threads
Which hold its golden chalice to our lips.

The summer dies. Upon the tomb of time
Its last days fall. Now creeps apace
October with its fruitful, ripening days,
And soon along the mountain's misty top appears
The purple hue of Indian summer's haze,
The summer dies—Ah me, to think
Of what shall be before
Time in its pace shall lull to sleep
The summer of another century.

Wild Fire.

The wild fire's smoke is curling at the rim
Of the far wide horizon,
But we have found the valley's quiet place,
With one white star to light us to our rest,
As evening's dews are falling.

The wild fire edges toward the falling line
Where fades the last faint tinge of sunset's glow;
But we are locked within the shadow's trysting place,

The Price.

With a paltry price between myself and the red love of her—
The filth of gold and lust of pride between my soul and her,
Between the white, white soul of her, made crimson by its greed,
And my own heart gone mad for all its gentle need
Confessed to one unworthy; God, the bitter shame of her!

With rose leaves turned to ashes in the grasp
Of hands that bleed where pierced by thorns unseen,
With hope gone pale and darkness settling deep
Where once the dream of her shone over all;
God, God, the heart's long cry for her!
Out where the Night Sea's tide has lost the shore,
Has lost the sway of moon and pulse of worlds,
Where madness reigns and silence is despair,
My soul has lost the way, nor lifts and eyes
To where the stars are not; great God, the need of her!

Prate to me of price? Take the white Iris
And pale lilies steeped in the heart's red wine—
Aye, pour its crimson tide about each path
She treads; my soul is faint from its desire;
Go bear her on Love's bier—but spare the dream of her!

A POPULAR SEA SONG.

[Regretfully dedicated to the fishes of the briny deep, and don't mistake the difference between a wind-jammer and a deep hooker.]

Give me a ship all staunch and sound
With scuppers wide and keel
A pink smokestack and a whale
And a captain high and free
Give me the smell of the briny deep
And a bunk by the galley door
For I am the tarriest sailor man
That ever scrubbed a floor.

Sing me a chantey and sing it well
The kind when we roll and pitch
And we hear the wind from the northern hind
In the gallant topsail howl.
Open the hatch and get me up on deck
I'm as hungry as I can be
Oh, there's nothing in life like the sea
That beats the rolling sea!

Give me the heave of the foaming wave
And the foam on her rail
And the bum plum duff and the hard tack gruff,
And a pint in a battered pail
Open the starboard port hole
Abaft of the weather bow
Curse the luck, how these rivers roll
Whenever I want more snow!

Get out, you lubbers, you swabs, you scum
With your tales of the deep
Why, shiver my lamps, you're nothing but tramps,
And ought to be put to sleep
You wouldn't know tar from turpentine
But I, to the very core,
Am the tarriest sailor that ever
Or scrubbed a galley floor.

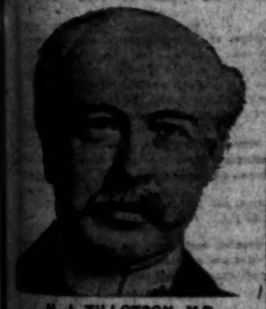
Piles, Fistula, Fissures and Hernia



M. J. TILLOTSON, M.D.
[Established 31 Years.]

Most Time Saving, Most Natural, Most Safe. No Detention from Occupation, Family or Home. A Radical and Permanent Cure.

I invite you to come to my office. I will explain my treatment for Hernia, Piles, Fistula, Varicose Veins, Pelvic Nervous, Blood, Kidney, Bladder and Rectal Diseases.

Piles, Fistula, Rectal Diseases.

These diseases are very common; most frequently found in persons of middle or advanced age; are exceedingly annoying, often very painful, and sometimes very dangerous, and frequently will cause fistulous or sometimes. My treatment and successes are the result of years of experience; my treatment is kindly applied. I cure Piles without cutting. If I do not cure your Piles, Fistula and other Rectal Diseases, my treatment does not cost you anything. Gentleness in treatment comes from treating many cases. I guarantee a cure of Piles, Fistula, Ulcers and all curable Rectal Diseases.

Trusses Seldom Cure Rupture.

Disregard for existing theories has cost many lives. The smallest hernias are the most dangerous, because of the increased liability to strangulation. I am aware that a great deal of fraud has been practiced in connection with the alleged cure of rupture. I say positively that I cure rupture, to stay cured. I cure with perfect safety, and entail no suffering, and do not detain you from occupation.

Written Guarantee

Dr. Tillotson's written guarantee means a cure or no pay for services. I guarantee to cure certain diseases or refund every dollar you have paid me. My services cost you nothing unless I cure your Varicose Veins, Hernia, Piles, Fissures, Fistula or any disease I guarantee to cure. My terms are reasonable and no more than you are willing and able to pay.

READ MY BOOK—It contains information every person should have regarding themselves. Sent Free to those who, in my opinion, will be benefited by it.

MONEY REQUIRED TO COMMENCE TREATMENT. Many patients have no confidence in their doctor because he demands pay before a cure has been effected, and there are many who have been misinformed about their condition, or through unskilful treatment have become discouraged and think there is no cure for them. I want an opportunity to cure such cases. It makes no difference about the financial part, as I always pay for my services as benefits are derived, when I am satisfied my patient is reliable. I will prove my ability to cure you before asking pay for my services.

MY LITTLE friend, Ad Wolgast, sent me the following wire from New Orleans last night.

"Arrived, New Orleans, twenty-seventh, and am feeling in fine shape. I am weighing heavy again. That's the best sign I am right.

"I am boxing here the fourth with a $10,000 guarantee and the privilege of 50 per cent. of the house. They have a $6600 advance sale up to date.

"I will beat Mandot sure. Coffroth has mentioned Ritchie as my Thanksgiving Day opponent. He says Ritchie has signed.

"I will stop in Los Angeles three days en route to Frisco. I am still getting the big money.

"Mandot is the favorite here.

"Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion."

A general massacre is about to occur in the Portland baseball team—according to a special dispatch to The Times.

McCredie is to let out Pitchers Elmer Koestner, Speck Harkness, Harry Sutor and Bennie Henderson. The fans have also seen the last of "Roaring Bill" Rapps. McCredie says he has decided to trade the whole bunch.

"My team hit well this season but the pitchers were punk," he said. "Rapps will have to go because he can't hit."

McCredie says he will use Higginbotham and Gregg of this year's team and Jerry Girot of the Northwest team. He is trying to get Ellis from the Western League, Hines and possibly Greenwell, who refused to report last year. Fogel of the Philadelphia Nationals, who drafted Tom Seaton last year, has offered him two pitchers and he is dickering with Cleveland and the Boston Nationals for heavers.

McCredie will keep Rodgers at second, Korea or Courtney at short, Lindsay at third and use Bancroft as a utility man. He says he is satisfied with his catchers.

Rube Marquard has a new distinction. The distinction is Blossom Seeley, the girl who went from a cheap theater on Main street to New York and became famous in a day.

Yesterday, she and Marquard are reported to have appeared arm-in-arm at the Jefferson Market Court seeking a summons against the fair one's husband and erstwhile manager, Joe Kane. She said Josephus had threatened her life and made her "just miserable" on account of his jealousy of Rube.

"By the way," said Rube, as they went out with the fatal document, "Blossom has a new manager now."

"Who is he?"

"Marquard," said Rube.

Presence of Magnate Starts Trade Talk Afresh.

Hedges, Berry, Stovall and Dillon Will Confer.

St. Louis Must Give Angels High Class Player.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

With the arrival here yesterday of Col. Robert Lee Hedges, owner and president of the St. Louis Browns, there was a renewal of the negotiations through which the Browns have been seeking to arrange a trade for "Pete" Daley.

This crack centerfielder was the subject of an informal conference yesterday between George Stovall, manager of the Browns, and Frank Dillon. When they finally separated without anything definite having been accomplished it was agreed that a conference to be attended by Hedges, Berry, Stovall and Dillon should be held at Washington Park within the next few days.

Stovall stated that he would have a definite proposition to submit at that time, but declined to give any details. It is understood, however, that it will be in the nature of a trade, and that it will be sufficiently attractive to cause Berry to give it serious consideration.

Stovall admitted that he is sweet on Daley, and does not like the idea of any of the other big league clubs beating him to the player.

"We have been talking trade," said Dillon, after leaving Stovall, "but he has not yet made us a definite proposition. A number of big league teams are after Daley, but we will not consent to any trade which will result in weakening the club. The Coast League is so fast now that comparatively few players whom the major leagues are willing to trade measure up to the standard required in this circuit. While we do not want to stand in the way of Daley's advancement, any bidder for his services must show us something mighty good before we will talk swap seriously."

Stovall is convinced that with Leverenz, Agnew and Patterson already added to his 1913 roster, the addition of Daley will give him the nucleus of a first division club. His optimism was increased by the showing which the Browns made against the Cardinals in their post-season series.

"Had Williams and Compton been in the series we would have beaten the Cardinals decisively," said Stovall, "and with them out we forced the Cards to play eight games in order to win the necessary four."

Col. Hedges, who is accompanied by his wife, will pass two months on the Coast. He brought his machine with him, and will tour extensively during the winter, probably driving as far north as San Francisco.

NAGLE'S BALL TEAM.

Walter Harold Nagle takes undisguised pride in the personnel of the Tufts-Lyon team which he will direct in the Winter League. The Tufts-Lyon will open the seaso nwith Bill Palmer's pets in San Diego tomorrow, while the McCorgricks and American Giants are matching their skill at Vernon. Walter hurls the following array of talent into the teeth of his amazed rivals: Brown and Clark, catchers; Leverenz, Hitt and Ferraris, pitchers; himself, first base; Ole Gleson, second base; Bancroft, third base; Augustus, shortstop; Ellis, left field; Lober, center field; Driscoll, right field; Kibler, utility.

CASTLETON WEIGHS ANCHOR.

Roy Castleton is endeavoring to cultivate the rolling walk of the seafaring man by way of equipping himself for a trip to Australia. Roy has signed up with J. Cal Ewing's all-sta rteam, which plans to storm every barn to the antipodes. The ship will not weigh anchor for some time yet, and Castleton stands ready to play a brief engagement with some of the Winter League teams.

TOUGH CONTEST FOR U.S.C. TEAM.

TROJAN VARSITY GIVEN VERY STIFF PRACTICE.

Backfield Does Not Show Up Very Strong Against Scrubs Owing to Absence of Live Ones—Saturday's Game With Santa Clara Is Expected to Show Any Weakness.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

Night had fallen over Bovard Field and the bleachers loomed gaunt and barren in the deepening shadows, before Coach Manning blew his whistle, releasing the weary Rugby varsity and scrubs from the scrimmage. It was a hard night, but the Trojans need several hard nights, for Saturday the team is to face one of the toughest propositions on the Pacific Coast in the team from the University of Santa Clara.

BACKFIELD CRIPPLED.

Coach Manning knows that his backfield is crippled with Milliken out, at center three, so last night he put it up to the scrum to produce the goods.

The backfield is being made over, but at present is looked on in the light of rather necessary baggage. The boys have been told they were rotten, in no gentle terms, by the coach, and the sting of his words is rankling in their hearts. Last night the backs did a little better, Lund especially, charging like an engine, when the ball came his way. Of course little Herm Alber was in every play, as he always is.

Lund and Patterson held down first and second fives in the order named. Steed was at center three, Meadows and Davis on the wings, with "Iceberg" Secor at full. Steed ran well, but had trouble with his passes, while Meadows and Davis showed marked improvement. Meadows got away once for a clean try after taking the ball fifty yards down the side line. Davis has improved his kicking, as has Secor, only the latter does not find touch enough. In fact, the whole team is kicking better now than it has at any time during the season.

GREAT SHOW OF DESERT RACERS.

All the Flyers Groomed for Thursday's Card.

San Diego Decides to Have Road Race Next Year.

Big Banquet for Hamlin and Other Drivers.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX, Oct. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All of the cars that finished the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix road race are groomed tonight for the track battle tomorrow afternoon.

Charles Soules on the Cadillac, second place winner in the Phoenix race, is the favorite of the desert men in the long event tomorrow. Soules is a veteran track driver, but he has shown his class as a road racer.

Late this evening Tetzlaff decided to enter the Fiat and he has upset the dope. The Fiat will start tomorrow as a first choice. The cyclone was sent around the track at terrific speed this afternoon and then was driven back to the sheds to await the start tomorrow.

He is pitted against a Cino driven by Lou Hinzeman and a Benz handled by Fred Maloine, as well as the winners of the desert race.

SAN DIEGO BOOSTERS.

The San Diego boosters are remaining here for the races tomorrow. Fred Jackson said tonight that San Diego expects to hold another race this coming year. The fight through the sands near Holtville proved too much for more than half of the twenty-tow cars entered in the San Diego race.

The Los Angeles cars averaged twenty-six miles an hour over the California end of the Ocean-to-Ocean boulevard and the San Diego cars did well, but the sand chopped down the average speed, making it twenty-three miles an hour for the run from San Diego. Reports from along the road show that the Los Angeles men were willing to help the San Diego drivers. While Col. Ed Fletcher was helping to haul the Los Angeles cars through the sands of the Agua Fria River, Charles H. Bigelow, the desert rat, was assisting Willie Carlson to finish with the Winton. . .

WINNERS' BANQUET.

George Hageman gave a dinner tonight to Ralph Hamlin, the hero of the desert race. The honored guests were Atty.-Gen. George Purdy Bullard, "father" of the Phoenix road race; Dr. H. S. Stone, referee; George Oller, the Studebaker man; John Wiese, the U. S. tire agent; Chief Timer E. P. Conway, superintendent of the Barber Asphalt Company in Arizona; Allan Dodd; J. P. Bliss, Southern Pacific freight man; C. Glass of the Santa Fe; W. S. Wheaton, of the Salt Lake; Paul Burke; John McLean, Franklin agent from San Francisco; E. Roger Stearns; W. E. Bush, Don Lee, the Cadillac man; Bill Bramlette, and Charles Soules; L. T. Shetler; Barney Oldfield, and Gus Floersheim. The automobile editor of The Times was chosen toastmaster. Ralph Hamlin told the story of his fight to win the Phoenix road race.

Decorated automobiles were paraded through the main streets of Phoenix tonight as an escort for the pageant of desert racers. The road-bruised cars were the center of attraction and Ralph Hamlin, winner of the Los Angeles race and Dave Campbell, winner of the San Diego race shared the honors.

RACE PROGRAMME.

For every second that is clipped from the track record of fifty-four seconds at the fair grounds tomorrow, the Maricopa County Automobile Club will give $25. In addition to this special offer, the purses for the six automobile races total $2400. The races and entries are as follows:

MANDOT'S EYE ON THE COAST.

Harry Coleman Writes About Rivers Fight.

How a Mistake in the Bell Saved Brock.

Newsy Notes About Fighters, and Such.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

Harry Coleman sends word that he will leave for the Coast with Mandot November 6 and arrive here on the ninth. This will give him plenty of time to get Joe into condition for Rivers, who left yesterday for his brother's ranch to get into shape.

George Avas, one of the well-known boxing fans of Los Angeles, just returned from a trip through the South and Western States and is full of fight talk. Avas is a personal friend of Joe Mandot's and Harry Coleman, his manager.

He says that Dundee is a clever fellow, a good mixer and a stiff puncher, but does not think he is quite good enough to win a decision over Johnny Kilbane in a twenty-round go. In his bout with Brock he often stood toe to toe with Matt and out-slugged him.

"Dundee," said Avas, "is one of the fairest boxers I have ever seen in a ring. And Avas is a good judge of a boxer. He was a guest at the wedding supper of Joe Mandot, who was married a few days ago, and said that Mandot can have anything in New Orleans that he wants. They have written a song about Joe, he is so popular.

The following are the words of the Mandot song, written by Art Goldie, music by Sid Erdman:

Who brought the name, who brought the fame, to old New Orleans town?
Who is our boy, who is our joy, that never lost down?
From coast to coast, he is the toast, of every one who knows

REFRAIN.

Mandot, Mandot, he is our pride and joy,
Oh, Mandot, he's a good live boy.
As a southerner he's right, as a fighter he can fight,
And Joe Mandot's name is in every mouth.

There are few instances in this country when songs were written about a fighter, but it is a common thing in England to write songs about their champions.

Mandot must stand pretty well in the southern country.

Hoba Dougherty is coming in for a lot of Mandot's glory and has made a hit with the southern boxing fans for his work with him.

Avas visited Grand Rapids, Mich., and saw Johnny Giblin fight Eddy Nelson, a tough boy. Jimmy won the decision after eight rounds of fast boxing. Giblin had his jaw broken out here when he met Battling Sefton and has had an operation performed on it. He expects to come to the Coast again about the first of the year.

The time-keepers in the Orleans Athletic Club, where Johnny Dundee and Matt Brock boxed, have a novel way of keeping time on the boxers.

When the first minute passes, they place a nickel on the platform alongside of their watch and do the same thing at the end of the second minute; then one of them picks the nickels up and at the end of the third minute the gong is pulled.

In the seventh round, the time keeper put down a nickel, then another nickel. The fellow who was supposed to pick up the money forgot to do so and a general mix-up resulted. One of the rounds was cut short. But for this fact Brock would probably have been knocked out.

Time-keepers sometimes make mistakes of this kind, but our Pat Al Harder has the best system of all and I have never known him to make a mistake.

Before a contest starts, he has the number of rounds blocked off and numbered. At the expiration of the first minute he marks it down and at the end of the second does the same, and at the expiration of the third pulls the gong.

George Harding of San Francisco has the reputation of being the best time keeper in the country. But up in San Francisco, in any important fight, the referee never counts the time on his own responsibility.

As soon as a boxer goes down Harding starts his step watch and counts aloud the seconds, with his eye always on the watch, and the referee follows the count, which is the only correct way.

Harry Burns says that it is a settled fact that Charlie Dalton and Frankie Gage will meet in a return match next Tuesday night at Vernon.

Gage had the opportunity of his life to beat Charlie the last time they met, but Gage does not seem to be there with the gameness.

If there ever was a boy that will take the heart out of anybody, that game fellow is Charlie Dalton. If he had a little more speed and cleverness he would be fighting for the championship of his class in a short time.

Sally Burns, the sleter little lightweight that won a decision over Frankie Gage Tuesday night, had his jaw broken in one of the rounds. He is not quite sure when it happened, but thinks it was in the second.

Burns will be laid up for at least three months before it will be healed enough to box again.

Johnny Schiff, who broke his hand on Lem Kegg a few weeks ago, had the bone rebroken and reset yesterday and placed in a plaster cast. This will put Johnny out of the game for several weeks to come.

Wasted Effort.

WHAT IF THE TWO IRON FACED BOYS BOX-FIGHT!

If Dundee Meets Conley.

THE two iron-faced boys of the ring are to be matched by Uncle Tom McCarey and the result should be amazing. If it is true that Johnny Dundee is just as tough in the countenance as Frankie Conley, their coming fight ought to be like a collision between two comets.

There is a private understanding between the two that brass knuckles, battle axes or paving stones will be permitted at any time during the contest.

Conley's face has always been the wonder of the prize ring. Once Monte Attell beat him on the jaw for forty-three rounds and then fell down from sheer exhaustion and could not rise and the bantamweight championship passed to the man with the iron mask.

After Joe Rivers thumped a tattoo on Frankie's map for twenty rounds the little Italian came to The Times office to be interviewed. "Joe's a nice little boy," he said. "But he won't never amount to much; he can't hit hard enough."

Dundee's manager says he is just such another. "Like Conley, he really isn't very happy unless some one is walloping him on the point of the jaw. Of course, he could be fairly happy under other circumstances, but the only thing that can give life the real zest is for somebody to beat him on the sheet iron armor.

The Ponies.

BRILLIANT PROSPECTS FOR OUR WINTER POLO.

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Although the matter is not yet clinched, there is little doubt that the winter polo tournament here, which, both in sports and society, is to be one of the most brilliant events of the season, will take place about the time of Washington's birthday. A week preceding February 22, next, and a week following it, will probably be the dates upon which the matches will be played.

John B. Miller, one of the members of the Pasadena team, has written to W. S. Hazard of New York, an officer of the Polo Association of America, for dates. These dates are recommended and it is almost certain that they will be confirmed. No reply has yet been received.

According to word that has been received by the Pasadena Polo Club, the Honolulu team, under the leadership of Walter Dillingham, is expected to arrive in San Francisco about the first of the year. The Pasadena team will go to San Francisco early in January to take part in the tournament to be played there during that month. This will be the first Pacific Coast tournament; the Pasadena tournament will follow, and the last of the winter will be the San Diego tournament, which will probably be played in March.

Although the titled English polo players who took part in the tournament here last winter will not be able to come to America this year, on account of orders to remain in England, which they, as army officers there have received, there will probably be a fast English team nevertheless. John Mackey of London, a brilliant player, is now on his way to Pasadena with a string of polo ponies. He will probably organize a team upon his arrival here to represent that country. He is expected to arrive within a short time and very likely will soon be playing with the Pasadena poloists in practice matches, which are now taking place twice a week. Capt. J. C. Beasley, who recently arrived in Los Angeles and Walter Dupee of San Diego will probably play in this English team. Capt. Dupee has now gone to San Diego to bring back to Pasadena a string of ponies. Dupee is also expected to arrive within a few days with his horses.

A team is expected from Canada in time to participate in the San Francisco tournament. These players will also take part in the tournament here. There is also a chance that there will be a team from Philadelphia, headed by E. G. McVettie, as well as a team of crack players from Kansas City.

In the meantime the Pasadena players have been practicing steadily. They are now in fine form and this winter's playing is expected to be faster than any polo that has yet been seen on the Pacific Coast.

Tournament Park has been put into excellent shape for the playing. The field has been oiled and rolled until it has never been better.

None of the social affairs that will accompany the February tournament here have yet been planned. Arrangements for these will be made soon.

U.S.C. PREPS ARE TO PLAY GARDENA HIGH.

The U.S.C. preps will meet the fifteen from the Gardena High School Friday afternoon on the Shoestring field. The preps are something of an unknown quantity, but to date have played some very good games, holding the fast Hollywood team to a 6 to 0 score and battling Compton to a 3 to 3 tie.

This will be Gardena's first whirl in the league and the preps are going up against a team of dark horses, as the men from the village have kept their work under cover.

MYSTERIOUS GOLFER PLAYS BOGEY IN A BLACK MASK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Golfers at the Van Courtlandt park links have remarked this week the presence there of a mysterious golfer who wears a black mask while playing the course. Those who have watched his play declare that the length of his drives is remarkable, enabling him to cover the rather hard course at a score close to bogey with apparent ease.

It was declared today that the mysterious visitor is an English expert who has just come to this country on a wager of $25,000 to break the records of the six best courses in the United States and afterward on a wager of $5000 to beat the American amateur champion in a match game.

The identity of the masked golfer is kept in obscurity, but it is said his name is familiar in England and this country. The black masker yesterday took 71 strokes to play the 18 holes at Van Courtlandt. This is one stroke better than the record. He made one drive of nearly 300 yards, better than the world's record.

Rules That Will Govern The Times Booklovers' Contest

The contest is open to everybody. Only Times employees and members of their families are barred. Daily for 77 days will be published in The Times a picture representing the title of a book, one each day. Beneath this picture will be a coupon to fill in with the name of the book and the author, together with name and address of entrant.

Cut out the picture and coupon, filling in the book title and author's name, writing your name and address neatly and plainly in the place provided.

No restrictions are placed on the manner in which answers to pictures are secured. Each picture represents the title of one book only. If you are not certain of your solution you may send in one to ten answers to the picture. NO MORE THAN TEN ANSWERS WILL BE ACCEPTED TO A PICTURE. Incorrect answers will not count against contestant if correct answer is also given. And put one answer to each picture and coupon. Extra coupons must be secured and used for extra answers. All answers to each picture must be kept together in compiling your set.

Additional pictures and coupons may be obtained at The Times office, by mail or by person. Answers will not be accepted unless they are properly filled out on the coupons appearing beneath each picture. It is necessary that pictures be sent in with the answers in order that all answers may be uniform.

When you have all 77 answers, fasten them together and bring them or mail them in a neat flat package—not folded or rolled—to The Times office, addressed "BOOKLOVERS' CONTEST EDITOR." Prizes will be awarded contestants sending in the largest number of correct solutions. In the event of two or more persons having the same number of correct solutions, the person fising the smallest number of extra coupons in the set of answers will be declared the winner. In event of two or more persons having the same number of correct solutions, and using the same number of coupons, an equal interest in the prizes tied for will be given to each of the tying contestants, or the persons involved in the tie may choose any one of the other lesser prizes.

More than one prize will not be awarded to any one family, but each member of the family may enter the contest and submit a complete set.

Only one complete set (comprising not more than 10 answers to any one picture) of answers may be submitted by a contestant. Awards will be made strictly according to the merit of each separate list. The names of more than one person must not be written on any one coupon.

All answers will be considered on their merits. The first set filed will have no preference over the last set filed; provided only that answers must be filed within the time specified after the last picture has appeared.

The awards will be made by the Contest Editor and three well-known citizens whose names will be announced later.

The correct answers to the series of pictures will be filed with a local trust company or bank a week previous to the close of the contest.

Entry to the contest may be made at any time. All communications or letters of inquiry concerning the contest should be addressed to the Booklovers' Contest Editor, The Times.

Use This Order Blank for Catalogues

If you cut out this order form, fill it out and send or bring it in with the sum designated, you will receive the Contest Catalogue of 4500 book titles and 7 certificates good for the first 35 pictures. SO THAT YOU MAY BEGIN THE CONTEST WITH EVERY ADVANTAGE The Times will give the first 35 pictures free with every catalogue sold. The price of the catalogues is 35 cents—40 cents by mail. The certificates given free with each catalogue is, of course, many times that cost.

This is the Contest Editor's official catalogue, copyrighted and published by the Booklovers' Contest Company of San Francisco. It contains a list of 4500 books, with their authors, and FROM IT ARE SELECTED THE 77 BOOKS REPRESENTED BY THE 77 PICTURES IN THIS CONTEST.

THIS ALL THE CORRECT TITLES ARE TO BE FOUND IN THE CATALOGUE!

Take an object lesson showing the advantages of the catalogue. Suppose a picture represents a ship on fire at sea. Suppose, also, that is the best idea which title it may represent. Well, study out the pictures, catalogue. Say it's book is listed such as "The Ship at Sea," or "The Ship," or something like that. Keep at it, and use your brains, for ALL THE CORRECT TITLES ARE IN THE CATALOGUE.

You don't have to know anything about books to be successful with this contest. But the contest is educational. When you get through you will know a whole lot more about books than you do now.

With each catalogue are given seven certificates, each good for five pictures from 1 to 35. These all seven certificates are good for the first 35 pictures. The certificates are redeemable separately, or all together, and may be used at any time during the contest.

We admonish contestants that this newspaper reserves the right to withdraw this free picture offer at any time without notice. This reservation will be a feature with the Booklovers' Contest, and if many prove too great an expense in securing and printing the pictures, it may be continued thereafter or summarily withdrawn.

It Sure Warms the Cockles of Old Mr. Wad's Heart to See the Boob That Draws Him Get Sloughed!

ON THE LINE OF SCRIMMAGE

BY OWEN R. BIRD

Teams Have Work to Do.

Now that Occidental has made a reputation, it is up to the Tiger football team to maintain the same for the rest of the season, and this will be no easy undertaking when the rest of the teams on the Tiger schedule are taken into consideration. Denver was big, but terribly slow, and the Presbyterian speed boys literally rushed them off their feet.

But Pomona is coming, Whittier is coming and the Oregon Aggies will be here on Turkey Day. Every one of these teams is fast and inclined to play open football. One week from this coming Saturday the Tigers will face the Whittier Poets, and undoubtedly will receive the hardest workout of the season so far. Whittier has no forward pass down to a fine point, as was shown in the game with Pomona last Saturday. In fact, they say that Whittier would have trampled all over Pomona had it not been for the fighting spirit of the latter, shown several times on the five-yard line.

Pipal May Need Open Play for Poets.

The Whittier-Tiger struggle will serve to show what Mr. Pipal has in the way of open play. He did not have to use it against Denver, because the Tigers far outclassed the Ministers, but to play straight football against a team which uses an open attack will hardly bring results. For this reason the game should be one of the most interesting this far of the season. There is but little question that the Occy team will be able to buck the Quaker line, but bucks do not gain enough ground when used often against forward passes and other open formations.

* * *

Occy Better Balanced Than Whittier.

The Tigers have it on Whittier in one respect, in that the team is an evenly-balanced machine, while the Quakers have about four stars who carry the burden of the attack and defense. Therefore it is only natural that eleven men will outplay four or five during the course of an entire game, but one or two of these stars may get away with a freak play, if lucky enough, and Whittier seems to have the deadwork alright.

* * *

Poly-L. A. Game Promises Sport.

The Los Angeles High School-Polytechnic Rugby game Friday afternoon will likely bring out a pretty little game. At the present time both teams are in the throes of a slight disruption. At L. A. coach Fristach has resigned and Noble has again taken up the work. Noble has not had his hand on the team during any part of this season, and, as his methods are somewhat different than those of the former coach, the Blue-and-White team will not be at its best. Another thing against L. A. is the fact that Yard Conway and Al Macguire are both out of the game, the former with a broken shoulder-bone and the latter with water on his knee.

* * *

Four-Year Rule Hurts Poly.

At Poly the four-year rule has worked havoc with the best team, and about the only man left in the backfield is Gerald Craig, the big first five. Carl Haney, the fast little wing, is under the four-year ban with any number of others. The scrum will not be so badly affected, but the loss of the veterans in the backfield will naturally send a bunch of green men on the field against High School. With High School a little disorganized and Poly hunting for a new backfield, the result of the game Friday is open to conjecture.

* * *

Pomona to Romp With Redlands.

Saturday Pomona will have a romp with the University of Redlands at Claremont. After the way Oxy tore up the Baptists the only question connected with the coming game at Claremont is the size of the score. The Tigers walloped Redlands 49 to 5, using the second team during the last half, the varsity scoring fifty-five points during the first two quarters. Stanton will probably send in his first team during the first half and then try out his subs in the second, so the resulting score should give a very slight line on the comparative merits of Occy and Pomona.

Trojans Lack Practice Scrimmage.

Lack of hard practice scrimmage is costing the Trojans dear this season. The varsity team is too heavy and strong for most of the high schools, Poly being the only one willing to take a chance, so Manning has been confronted with a problem almost impossible to solve. The daily bouts between the varsity and the scrubs are good and fast, but games of this nature never bring out the results that follow outside competition.

If it were possible for U.S.C. to have as many hard practice games as fall to the lot of Stanford and California, there is but little doubt that U.S.C. would have a team as good if not better than many of the northern aggregations. Just take, for instance, the showing made by the Trojans during the past two seasons against the northern teams, and then give them the same kind of practice work, and it is easy to see the outcome would be far more productive of a scoring team than at present. Until Los Angeles gets some Rugby club teams, like the Olympics and Barbarians of San Francisco, the university will have a hard time getting the work necessary to make a well-balanced team.

BASEBALL FOR SWEET CHARITY.

Baseball for sweet charity's sake by real professionals who have shown more or less brightly on the Coast this year will serve to awaken the local fans this afternoon at Washington Park. It will be a game for the benefit of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, and a big sum of money is already assured from the advance sale of tickets.

Bill Tozer of the Angels and Willie Brashear of the Vernons will manage the opposing teams and Tom Dalmody, who is managing the one-game series, has promised to provide fungo batting, running the bases and throwing for distance and accuracy, as added attractions.

Brashear will have almost all of the Vernon men in his team, with the exception of Carlson, who has gone East. Confreserre of the Portland club will replace him. Tozer will have the Los Angeles team, with the addition of Rube Ellis and Jake St. Louis Nationals. Play is to be called at 3 o'clock.

FEW SPORTS SEE WRESTLING BOUTS.

Just 198 men and nine ladies, by actual count, made up the audience at the Western Athletic Club last night that witnessed the wrestling match between Young Hall and Ajax.

The first bout was surely on the level and was won by Ajax, but the second looked suspicious.

Jack Donovan, who saw the show and claims to be the instructor of Ajax, says that Ajax has been wrestling only five months, while Hall has been at it several years.

He admitted to me after the show that Ajax agreed to be thrown in the second fall to make it look good to the few that paid their money.

The sympathy naturally was with Hall, he being the smaller man, and to me it looked that he threw Ajax squarely in the last bout, but Pleasant Smith, who claims to be a wrestler, was the referee, and did not allow it.

Young Hall made a great showing against a much heavier man, but lost the first fall in thirty-five minutes and ten seconds.

He won the second in twelve minutes and Ajax took the last in 8 minutes with a scissors hold around Hall's neck.

The first preliminary was won by Robert Meyer over Al Gladis in nine minutes.

The second preliminary was won by Charlie Shands in two falls, the first in five minutes, and the second in one minute and twenty seconds.

PLAYER IN BAD.

NEWTON, (Iowa) Oct. 29.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Roy N. Plake, famous as player and coach of Grinnell football teams and shortstop of the Des Moines and Pueblo baseball teams, was sentenced to five years in the Iowa reformatory today for embezzlement. While assistant city clerk of Newton he took about $3000 from the city.

Suffragettes Attention!

WHAT! THE CO-EDS CAN'T YELL! WELL, WELL, WELL!

IT'S up to the co-eds now literally to yell for their rights.

A special dispatch to The Times from Northwestern University last night states that the Athletic Commission have issued an edict forbidding the girls to sit near the rooters at football games.

It appears that the fair ones distract the attention of the yowlers and break up the noise. Hence, segregation.

There is a movement among the local colleges to follow suit. Mr. Barndollar, the artist, suggests in the interests of humanity and romance, that the co-eds be permitted to stick around, but that, at critical moments, the rooters be supplied with blinders, screening the charmers.

He got on the job with his inspiration too late, however. At the Denver game, the Occidental yell leader sternly sorted out the students according to noise and sex.

Warren Bovard, the graduate manager at U.S.C., dodged the issue when interviewed as to his intentions last night. He said the university has a rooters' club of 350. "Their voices are unhampered," he said, but he didn't say whether he meant by skirts.

At Pomona, the men are rather clannish, but the girls creep in at times. This matter varies, however, at the different games. Generally, when it is a hard battle, the men are behind the squad on the field, but if it looks easy, some of the "queeners" are likely to fall down and start a pink tea on the bleachers.

BERKELEY DOWNS HUSKY WARATAHS.

THE MOST SPECTACULAR GAME OF AUSTRALIANS.

Speed of the California Backs, the Effectiveness of Their Scrum and the Aggressiveness of the Forwards Were Too Strong a Combination for the Islanders—Close Game.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—The University of California Rugby team performed its most brilliant feat of the season on California field today, defeating the Australian Waratahs by a score of 6 to 5 in a gridiron battle that was tense and hard-fought all through.

In the first half the varsity players opposed the Australians in a game distinctively of the forwards, although on both sides there were some spectacular long kicks from the backfield.

Most of the half, the ball was kept in danger for Australia and finally, after three attempts, the varsity broke through for a try. Miller, forward, following up a free kick and taking the ball over.

California failed to convert, and in a short while Australia, making a brilliant dribbling play across the field, and following with a series of passes, scored a try. Richards took the ball over the line, having received it on a pass. Then Griffin converted, and the score stood 5 to 3 for Australia when the half closed.

In the second period, California scored on a free kick, Morris putting the ball over the bar.

From then on, the score 6 to 5 for California, the two teams fought grimly. Many times the ball was at either goal line and was retrieved.

The game was the best in California field in a long time, and was the best the Australian team has had in this country. The speed of the California backs, the effectiveness of their scrum, and the aggressiveness of their forwards, show marked improvement.

B.B. NOTABLES AT LAGUNA.

Clarence Brooks, loaded to the gunwales with hunting and fishing paraphernalia, will leave today for Laguna Beach, where he plans to pass the winter pursuing the festive seersucker and other large game in company with Jack Halls, Joe Berger, Walter Boles, Walter Lewrens and other baseball notables.

AMATEURS SHOOT WELL IN PHOENIX MATCHES.

Results of the first two days' shooting in the tournament at the Phoenix State Fair came in to Tufts-Lyons last night.

It was reported that conditions had been excellent both days. Fifty entries had competed. There are ten fifteen-bird events each day, with $35 added for each event.

On the first day, out of the amateur 150, Ford scored 145; Eden, 144; Trout, 143, and Weisner, 142. The professionals scored: Willett, 145; Mitchell, 143; Robertson, 137; Bruner, 132.

The results of the second day's shooting were: Amateur, Reithal, 146; Trout, 145; Eaton, 145; Ford, 144. Professional, Mitchell, 145; Willetts, 144; Bruner, 135; Warner, 134.

For the two days, the amateur's percentages are: Reithal, 95¾; Trout, 96; Eaton, 95½; Ford, 96.

A. F. Goldsborough and Les McMurray bagged a limit between them yesterday and shot ten rabbits. McMurray shot a 30-gauge Winchester pump gun and "Goldie" used his trap gun. The boys hunted this side of San Fernando.

Les Henry, who shot at the Westminster Club yesterday as a guest of F. E. Brown, was low man with twelve ducks. Ben Williams bagged nineteen, and the other three members of the squad got the limit.

W. H. Simpson, L. Ellison, F. M. Peckham, went out after quail yesterday.

SHOOTING NOTES.

Wallie Robb and Pete Peterson brought in two quail limits and a goodly bag of rabbits from Burbank yesterday morning after two hours of hunting.

At the Bixby Gun Club, members shoot only once each week, on Sunday. The squad which shot Sunday was as follows: Johnny Powers, C. Myrick, Warren Hopperstead and a number of guests. All returned with the limit.

Jim Jeffries and Harry Lusk spent yesterday hunting quail in San Fernando Valley. They both got the limit but said they had to shoot to do it.

Harry Burt and Clarence Black got the limit when they went down to Elsinore last week, but Harry says the birds were wilder than he had ever seen them in that section, although there were thousands there.

The following members of the West Shore Gun Club went down with the Wednesday squad: H. P. Densel, C. W. Cook, Harry Burt, Dr. Laubersheimer, Mel Nordlinger, A. T. Jergins, Clarence Black and H. T. Faust.

HAPPY GETS AUTO.

"Happy" Hogan's worldly possessions are increasing at an alarming pace. Yesterday he was presented with a handsome gold watch by President Maier. This gave "Happy" every desire of his heart except an automobile, and later in the day he made his happiness complete by putting through a deal for President Maier's five-passenger Peerless. Hogan will make his first attempt at steering the thing today, when he will undertake to drive to Maier's ranch without landing in the ditch. In the event that he reaches his destination, he will set himself to the task of preparing things for the arrival of the Vernon ball players, who will be the guests of President Maier on their annual outing there, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Probably the most thrilling of the programme of athletic events will be the burro race between "Speed" McDonnell and Lew Litschi.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Come to the New Times Building Election Night, Tuesday, November 5th.

Up-to-the-minute returns will be received by special wires from every section of California, and every other State in the Union, and thrown upon large screens opposite the New Times Building.

The Times will also give returns by telephone to all who call.

All in the Point of View,

Remember that I announced Dick Bennett's debut as a producer a few days ago? He sent out most impressive stationery, lettered for "The Richard Bennett Producing Company: Publicity Department."

At that time I deplored spoiling another good actor to make a mediocre manager—very seldom do they amount to anything as managers, you know.

But it seems that Bennett may not be spoiled, after all.

Briefly, I think he is hiding the identity of that cute old fox, Col. Henry W. Savage, who, for some unknown reason, does not seem willing to produce "The Stronger Claim," a new play by Margaret Turnbull. The job is Bennett's.

The reason is, I'm told, that Savage wants syndicate bookings for this piece, while he himself is strongly allied with the Shuberts.

Whether this is or is not the reason I am quite unable to say with any authority.

There is to be some considerable company. Dick himself will play the principal part, and Edythe Wynne Matthison will be his leading support.

We have actors and actresses who have stayed with us a long time—Bill Marks, please send a picture post card—but Adele Belgard, who retired permanently from the Alcazar company in San Francisco last week, had served, almost continuously, with Belasco's organization for fifteen years. She was a character actress there and the wife of Fred J. Butler, stage director for Belasco. They have a son who is now upon the stage in a melodramatic company.

"The Firefly," the new opera for Emma Trentini, by Rudolf Friml of Los Angeles, was tried out in Syracuse last week, and scored an almost sensational success, and—what is more to the managerial point—a box-office triumph of more than $10,000. It will be presented by Klaw & Erlanger in New York in about three weeks.

Martin Beck, whom we of the West like to think is the one really great genius of vaudeville in the world, notwithstanding supercilious eastern smiles, has been attending a meeting of the Orpheum circuit stockholders in San Francisco, and at that meeting he said something which you must admit is pretty true: "The perfect vaudeville bill of the future will consist of five acts. More tire. Five is enough. There will be a miniature opera, a miniature drama, a miniature comedy and two diversified bits of extremely high-class entertaining. There will be no acrobats, no wriggling shoulders, nothing cheap. Vaudeville is going throug its refining process, but it has crossed the Rubicon."

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" is due for London presentation in November. Will the British capital like it? The province of Australia thought it great.

Bert Levey of San Francisco is after our Belasco Theater—which he probably won't get on account of Morosco's talking pictures. He has one Bob Cunningham slated for resident manager, I'm told—"If."

In the death of Mabel Hite the American stage lost one of the keenest comediennes it ever upheld. Miss Hite, or Mrs. Mike Donlin, was never gifted with strength of voice or aggressiveness of physique, but, like a true genius, she made her weakness her strength.

Who is making "Potash & Perlmutter" into a drammer?

Rumor said Charles Klein, but Klein says that Rumor is either mistaken or a plain liar.

But someone is, for the series will be produced by Al Woods in a month or two.

The purchasers are the members of the "Alcazar Improvement Company"—to wit, Belasco and the Mayer family.

I remember a few years ago that one of our Times' business office clerks had stage ambitions, which he surreptitiously confided to me.

The Dramatic Mirror of this week: "George Webb, the popular leading man, completed the other day a transcontinental motor trip in his own car, covering fifteen States. He was accompanied by his wife."

Yes, that's "him."

James Peedee, Mrs. Fiske's lofty young evangelist, has written a book about "Julius Caesar" and things anent the all-star revival.

When with us last Mr. Peedee was distributing home-made knit ties as souvenirs.

If the book is as good as the ties it's great.

I hasten to add that I am judging from appearances only. I didn't draw one.

Young Mr. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railway, and son of the rough old king of transportation from Minnesota to Puget Sound, has assumed the management of the St. Paul Symphony Orchestra and says he intends to bring it down the Pacific Coast on tour this winter.

Henry Russell has announced that he will do Flotow's "Martha" in English at the Boston Opera next February, featuring Alice Neilsen.

A. Byron Beasley, Frank Camp and Ida Lewis, all of Los Angeles, will continue with Margaret Illington during her second season in "Kindling." An addition to the company is Frank Campeau, the original Trampas in "The Virginian."

Where did this come from?

A correspondent writes to the Dramatic Mirror: "Please advise if George Arliss played Tige in 'Buster Brown,' and if not, who did?"

Nance O'Neill is going to play Joan of Arc in vaudeville. She chooses the martyr scene as the particular episode in the great French girl's life for her exploitation.

Where is May Irwin?

Living comfortably in New York and never missing a ball game.

She seems to have quite forgotten that God put her into this world just to make other folks laugh.

Mary Ryan, also off the stage for a long time, has not been seen since "The Fortune Hunter."

Playwrights everywhere seem to be delving for new and freak stuff to use as dramatic material. "Milestones," "The Case of Becky," "Fanny's First Play" and "The Return of Peter Grimm" are good and diverse illustrations.

Fifty years of age, he is by profession a practicing physician, and play and short story writing are a fad and a co-art, if you like.

He has written novels and full-evening plays, but neither have been as successful as his masterpieces in brief for acting and reading.

Not often does an actor "follow" such a popular success as Joe's. Willard Brockton, in "The Easiest Way," but again has Kilgour rung the bell in Gotham by his suave, elegant, quiet portrayal of the artistic counterfeiter and man-of-the-world, in "Ready Money."

And only three or four years ago, when they sent flip little boys from some of the papers to cover Dick Ferris's productions at the Auditorium, these same little boys used to come back and assert, perhaps in one snippy line at the bottom of the notice, that Joe was "no actor."

Lucretia Del Valle,

THIS is to be the sad, sad tale of a pretty girl, a disgruntled papa, a cosy little bungalow at the beach, and a noisy room in a wonderfully attractive city residence. Incidentally, "The Landslide" at the Lyceum Theater, and Hampton Del Ruth, who is producing it, play their parts.

Just at present the tragedy is in its deepest throes, and whether or not "they all lived happily ever after" has not yet been disclosed.

Chapter one was the day on which ex-Senator Del Valle heard that his young, lovely and ambitious daughter had contracted to appear in a socialist play.

Meanwhile Lucretia did not let the paternal storm keep her indoors, but hied gaily to the Lyceum Theater, there to delve in the mysteries of Austin Adams's philosophy and thrills, with Hobart Bosworth, Laura Oakley and the rest.

"Pa doesn't like it, but I don't care," she gaily carroled, but papa, fully determined to dissuade her from her plans, went down to the beach and secured her just the dearest little bungalow that he could find.

Now chapter two of this tragedy finds the lovely heroine ensconced at the beach, communing with the wild waves, the sand crabs, and the lobsters in leisure hours, but wrestling with two millionaire lovers in the play, clinging to the poverty of the east side with tenacity worthy a better cause.

But alas! Chapter two only lasts until three days before the opening. Then come pouts and then open rebellion, which introduce chapter three with Manager Del Ruth, white and scared, phoning all over town in search of a missing leading lady.

If this were a play instead of a story, there would be three scenes in this act, the second being at police headquarters.

"Some guy has lost a girl," grunted the desk sergeant, and in a jiffy every pretty girl in town was under suspicion, and that afternoon few women tripped across Broadway without being asked, "Beg pardon ma'am, but are you the lost queen of socialism?" But search was fruitless.

Scene three is Miss Lucretia Del Valle, leading lady of the Lyceum Theater, comfortably quartered in her comfortable city home, already mentioned, reading with great interest "Why Women Leave Seaside Bungalows."

Final chapter.

"Really, I just couldn't stay down there, so far away from suffering humanity. I just had to come uptown and be near the poor things." This from Miss Del Valle, by way of explanation for the lonely porch by the seaside.

"You see," she added, "this play has made a deep impression on me, and I must live it, as well as act it."

"But, my dear lady," expostulated the bewildered manager, "do you consider living in a luxurious city home casting your fortune with the struggling masses? Is that your idea of socialism?"

"Isn't it?" murmured Miss Del Valle. "Some people think that to live near a thing is to be part of it, you know. And besides," she added naively, "I get lots better things to eat."

Who Can Answer.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU WERE A PHONE GIRL?

"The Times" Will Send the Queens of the Flashing Switchboard to the Belasco to Put Themselves in Wanda Kelly's Place—Woman's Honor Matched Against Man's Duplicity.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"THE Woman" will be played at the Belasco, next week.

And if you're a thought-transference medium on a switchboard it is quitely likely you may receive an invitation to visit the theater as the guest of "The Times."

For the first time in the history of American drama a telephone operator is the heroine of a play. Just a girl—whose deft fingers hold the key to the thought of the world, as it vibrates from the heart of life!

Over the wires comes to Wanda Kelly a message—which the girl adroitly cuts off in the nick of time, to save the name and honor of a woman.

Confronted with the problem presented to Wanda Kelly, the telephone operator in "The Woman"—the problem as to whether you shall use your quick intuitions in the cause of human right and mercy, or perform your dull, unquestioning duty like an automaton—what would you do?

Because "The Times" believes that the question of civic and public conscience in woman is of value to the nation and a generation which allows women to vote, and because the action of this play seems to typify the woman spirit in the world of today, that question, "What would you do?" will be propounded to a hundred telephone operators, next Monday night, at the Belasco, when Wanda solves her problem.

You as a telephone operator have faced similar, perhaps equally dramatic problems; you have met emergencies; you have had to use quick wit and nimble judgment, many a time, to save a situation. Your opinion therefore is of value. Did Wanda do right?

The play is one of strong, vital, everyday interests, involving the machinations of corrupt politicians, their determination to thwart and ruin reformer Standish, and the battle of will brought against little Wanda Kelly, to force her to deliver up the key to the situation—the name of a woman.

A gang of politicians is playing the game according to the ancient and honorable rules of graft, and trying to pass through the House of Representatives a bill making legitimate the stockwatering of railroad corporations. Enter then reformer Standish, who pits the full power of his personality and political strength against the corrupt machinations of the grafters. His success seems imminent. The gang feels that something must be done. As a last stand, they delve into his past—and find an "affinity" of long ago. Never mind, she will perhaps serve to discredit before the world the man who is fighting them. But they have only an inkling—they cannot learn the woman's name. The telephone operator at the hotel overhears their schemes. Set upon the trail, she finds some one who knows the name, but with the knowledge comes also a double determination to help Standish and save the woman. And so, in a breath on the eve of revelation, by an adroit move of those swift little hands of hers—presto—the connection is cut, and the fateful name is breathed to thin air!

WANDA'S TRIAL.

Then comes the trial for Wanda—the inquisitorial methods of examination, the threat of prison. But Wanda will not tell. And when finally it comes home to Jim Blake, the ringleader, that the woman is none other than his own daughter, who is happily married to an ex-official of New York, Wanda's victory is complete.

Marjorie Wood plays the heroine very cleverly, it is said, and the appointments and accessories of the setting are done as admirably as Belasco always does these things, the switchboard and elevator being "real," and no tiniest factor being omitted to make the illusion complete.

A slip of paper will be provided each guest of "The Times," at the theater, with this heading:

"What would you do if you were in Wanda Kelly's place—and why?"

HAYES VICTOR IN BILLIARD GAME

Dr. G. Hayes won the English billiard championship of Southern California by defeating E. Raphael in their play-off of a tie at the Majestic last night, the respective scores being 200 to 156.

A handsome silver cup, presented by Alfred E. Makenzie, goes to the winner as a trophy to be defended until permanent possession is acquired by a third win. The second tournament is already projected, about thirty applications for entrance having been made. An early date will doubtless be arranged for commencement of the games.

GAME FOR POMONA.

Manager Kem Jones of Pomona was in town yesterday and arranged for a football game with the manager of the San Diego team, who was also in the city on business.

Mlle. Veronica Conwell and George McGarry,

With "The Waltz Dream," which will be seen at the Empress Theater next week.

Make no mistake about the solidarity of the Democratic vote in California this year. Don't be deceived by the frantic "straw voting" in the Mooseing sheets and the clamoring of the third term orators intended to show that there is no big, silent Taft vote swinging almost unanimously to Wilson. The Bourbons are lining up without any party division behind Wilson and Marshall and are fighting like demons to put this State in the Democratic column on November 5. I have yet to unearth a real Democrat who is not supporting the New Jersey Governor in this campaign. And further, I find the Champ Clark Bourbons in Los Angeles just as enthusiastic for Wilson as the original Wilson men. When it is remembered that Johnson won by only 22,000 plurality over Hall in 1910, out of a total vote of 281,000, and that Taft's plurality in 1908 was 36,906 out of a total vote of 246,000, then it is plain to be seen why the Bull Moosers are whistling to keep up their courage. In my opinion Wilson will be relatively stronger in his own party than Bryan was, and it will need no tremendous outpouring of disfranchised Republicans to turn the scales for the Bourbon ticket. From all parts of the State come reports of the determination of the Taft Republicans to vote for Wilson. I still hold that at least 15 per cent. of the defrauded Republicans will plug a vote in for Wilson on November 5. When you take in consideration that there are over 90,000 Taft Republicans in California the Taft-Wilson vote is not to be carelessly tossed aside.

And then there is the La Follette vote. La Follette polled 54,000 in the May primary. The men and women who voted for La Follette voted for him because they believed in his principles and for no other reason. The fact that Roosevelt and "Holy Hiram" betrayed La Follette while he was in a hospital in Washington and deserted his cause like rats means that 90 per cent of the La Follette supporters will go to Wilson. I have not heard one La Follette supporter state that he is going to vote for the big Bull Moose. Over forty Taft Republican papers in this State are out for Wilson and fifteen Republican County Central committees have declared for the Democratic ticket. The Bull Moose movement in this State is waning while the Democrats are brimming over with confidence and are working like beavers. It's going to be mighty close, but in my opinion Wilson will win.

Great gains are being made in Northern California, according to Albert L. Johnson, nephew of Gov. Johnson, who addressed a big Wilson Republican rally at the Majestic Theater last night. "I recently covered the entire First Congressional district," said Johnson, "and I believe it will give Wilson a majority of 6000 votes. I found a large number of voters who supported Roosevelt in the May primary in order to beat Taft, who are not willing to follow Roosevelt into a third term party and they are out for Wilson. I found in Humboldt and Mendocino—usually Republican strongholds—the most demonstrative sentiment in favor of Wilson that old residents have ever seen in favor of a Democratic candidate. Throughout the Sacramento Valley counties where I spoke the sentiment for Wilson was said to be two to one. The Taft Republicans are determined to rebuke the men who stole the Taft electoral column by voting the Democratic ticket. Roosevelt men with whom I talked acknowledged that the situation in Sacramento county was very shaky so far as their candidate was concerned. The attempts of the administration to raise funds by the old methods of assessment of State employees are not meeting with the same success as during the May primary. Several employees of the State printing office, I learned, received letters demanding contributions and refused to comply. A straw vote taken among railroad employees in Sacramento gave Wilson a majority over all other candidates. Roosevelt is an afterthought. Progressive and devoted for woman's suffrage when he learned that there are 1,500,000 women voters in six States, which have equal suffrage. If Los Angeles holds down the Bull Moose vote, California will go for Wilson by a good majority."

California's total registration for the coming election is 986,496. This is a gain of more than 400,000 over 1910. Two years ago the registered vote of the State was 582,900. It is estimated that of this increase 300,000 names are those of women. The State in 1910 did not enjoy the right of suffrage. Los Angeles county leads the list in the State with 259,- names on the great register. San Francisco has registered 134,668 citizens, a material increase over 1910. Alameda county with a registration of 72,000, is the third high county in the State. San Diego is fourth with 31,000. Fresno and Santa Clara each have approximately 20,000 voters. Sacramento is next with 18,- The smallest registration reported in the State is that of Alpine county, with only 165 qualified to vote.

Editor Watchtower:—I am a lifelong Republican. I marched four miles one rainy night in Chicago in a torchlight procession for Fremont and Dayton. Met Abraham Lincoln when he was nominated for President. Voted for him and every other party candidates, including Arnold, the Benedict Arnold, who tried to ruin it. Back of him is a lot of disgruntled politicians like Penfield, "Beverage," Haney, Tibbetts, et al, and a lot of plutocrats whose trust interests have been hit by prosecutions for violating the Sherman anti-trust law. A Cabinet with Perkins for Treasurer, "Bill" Taft for Postmaster-General, and Lorimer for Attorney-General, would be a progressive lot—(?) President Taft is a man of the highest integrity and is a true progressive American in every sense of the word. He has appointed to office able and patriotic men like Elihu Root, Stimson, Knox, Hughes and other representatives of the people. Taft is a man of whom this country can be proud. A Republican in this State is between the devil and the deep sea. I shall vote for Woodrow Wilson, a progressive Democrat, who at least is a safe and sane man to trust the care of the Ship of State. Yours truly,

J. O. NORTON.

And Rosa Lissner says the Republican party is dead. Huh!

"Holy Hiram" told his audience at Scranton, Pa., that Wilson had a "record of negation." Now just for old time's sake, I'm going to quote from an editorial in the Twilight Express of April 18, 1912, just before the May primary. Listen: "Woodrow Wilson, the only progressive candidate for the Democratic nomination now prominently before the public, is a Virginian by birth. He is 56 years of age." Then follow several hundred words about Wilson's early career. Continuing: "Wilson's public addresses in advocacy of political reforms resulted in his candidacy and election to the Governorship of New Jersey. It had been seventeen years since the voters of New Jersey had elected a Democratic Governor. But Woodrow Wilson carried the State by little less than 50,000 plurality in 1910. Gov. Wilson destroyed a corrupt machine in New Jersey much as Gov. Johnson destroyed one in California. The public measures he advocated went right at the heart of the political, business and industrial problems of the State. They inaugurated a new regime. They were progressive and economically and industrially for justice and fair play."

Now Wilson is a "tool of the bosses," a "rattle-headed school teacher," and a few other choice whatnots. Oh, you funny Bull Moose organists.

The Woman's Summerfield Club held a rousing meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce building. Brief talks were made by a number of prominent women.

Democratic rallies were held last night at Pomona, Long Beach, Watts and San Fenando. The Bourbons will hold meetings this afternoon at the Soldiers' Home and Redondo. Meetings will be held tomorrow at Covina, Santa Monica, Rockdale, Burbank and Sawtelle.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

PLANS COURSE IN AERONAUTICS.

New High School Principal First to Do It.

Auto Wrecked by Santa Fe Train at Crossing.

Observatory Offices Moved Into New Quarters.

PASADENA, Oct. 31.—A course in aviation is the latest feature to be added to the curriculum of the Pasadena High School. A class is soon to be organized by the new principal, Jerome O. Cross. R. Clayton Diggins, who is athletic coach for the boys, and who possesses a Curtiss biplane, will be the instructor.

However, it is announced that the pupils of the school will neither be taught nor permitted actually to fly. The study will have to do only with the science of aeronautics. The work will consist largely of lectures upon the progress that has been made with the aeroplane and the construction of small model aeroplanes by the boys of the school.

The engine and all of the parts of an operative aeroplane will be minutely studied, so that upon finishing the course the pupils will possess an accurate knowledge of the construction of the machines and the uses to which they may be put.

Diggins's biplane is now at Harvard, Ill. He has sent for it and it will be used in connection with the work of the class.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

J. S. Bartlett, of No. 159 South Euclid avenue, who is 87 years old, came safely out of a spectacular accident yesterday morning with but a few trifling cuts and bruises. He was driving an electric automobile east on Union street at 9:35 o'clock and collided with the locomotive of a Santa Fe train, the approach of which he had failed to notice, notwithstanding the flagman declares that he waved his red flag wildly until he was forced to step aside to escape being run over. The train was a westbound San Bernardino local and was running at a speed of about eight miles an hour.

The automobile was transformed into kindling wood and scrap iron in an instant and the driver was tossed to one side, where he picked himself up unhurt.

The train, which was in charge of Engineer Bills and Conductor Cowan, both of Los Angeles, was stopped within a distance of fifty feet and the aged man was hurried to his home in an ambulance.

It was reported at his residence last night that, aside from a bruised hip and a general shaking up, Bartlett has sustained no ill effects from the experience.

OFFICES BEING MOVED.

The Pasadena offices of the Carnegie Solar Observatory are being moved into the new building near the corner of Santa Barbara street and Lake avenue, which was recently completed. All of the photographic plates, which have been stored in the old building adjoining, now to be used entirely as a shop building, are being removed to the new structure, where they will be safely filed away. There are 9000 eight by ten-inch negatives of photographs of the sun alone. The weight of the plates is great and they comprise largely the record of the work that has been accomplished on Mt. Wilson.

The new office building is a two-story structure, built of brick, steel and concrete, with a large basement. It contains two large library rooms, several laboratories and a number of office rooms. As many valuable records have accumulated, moving is an arduous task and the old building is being emptied of its contents gradually.

CITY BRIEFS.

The school children of the city will make merry tonight at a Holloween party at Carmelita Playgrounds. A bogie man dance, a ghost schottische, a farmer girls' dance and a dance of the Dixie rubes are some of the attractions that are promised.

F. W. Kellogg of Altadena, who returned from the East only a few days ago, brought with him a facsimile of the manuscript of James Whitcomb Riley's book of poems, "Out to Old Aunt Mary's," which was dedicated to Dr. Robert J. Burdette, who for many years has been an intimate friend of the poet. Kellogg has presented the facsimile of the manuscript dedication, which was printed on Riley's birthday, to Dr. Burdette.

The First Christian Church is still without a pastor. A call recently was extended to Rev. Edgar Dougherty of Vincennes, Ind., but a reply was received in which he declared that he felt it his duty to remain there.

The Pasadena Wilson and Marshall Republican Club will hold a rally at the Hotel Maryland tomorrow night. There will be a number of speakers.

Edward L. Slag, the driver of a motor truck, came so suddenly upon the review of the postmen of the city yesterday in the rear of the postoffice that he was obliged to run the machine into the wall and wreck it to avoid striking the carriers.

A meeting of the Flower Show Committee of the Pasadena Horticultural Society was held yesterday. Reports that were made show that the total attendance was 7000 persons. The net profits have not yet been figured out, but the show is declared to have been the most successful in a monetary way, as well as every other way, of any that the organization has had.

The directors of the Pasadena Merchants' Association have set November 21 as the date of the annual banquet. A committee on arrangements was appointed yesterday. It is composed of Fred R. Wagner, L. F. Bassett and Harry Prins.

EXPRESS DRIVER FINED.

Delivers Barrel of Beer and Must Pay Large Sum Therefor—Methodist Brotherhood Officers.

POMONA, Oct. 30.—Harry C. Mooney, driver of the American Express Company's delivery wagon in this city, has been fined $100 by Police Judge Gallup, Mooney having entered a plea of guilty to the charge of delivering intoxicating liquors preferred by Percy Howell, the party to whom a barrel of beer was consigned and who was himself found guilty last week of violating the city's prohibition ordinance and sentenced by Judge Gallup to pay a fine of $300 or serve 150 days in jail.

Mooney says he will pay the fine and has been granted ninety days in which to raise the money. He claims that he did not know that he was violating any law in delivering the wet goods, maintaining that it was his duty to deliver for the express company all of the commodities turned over to him for delivery. It is stated that Howell's attorney is preparing to appeal his client's case to the Superior Court.

BROTHERHOOD OFFICERS.

HIGH SCHOOL AFFAIRS.

H. Hile of the Pomona High School faculty will have charge of the boys' band and the Glee Club at the High School and the organizations will hereafter be depended upon to furnish music for numerous functions of the school. The orchestra will also be reorganized for the winter season.

Two drinking fountains are to be built at the High School athletic grounds and also fountains at the San Antonio school. The main High School building and the new science hall will be connected by a bridge. Because the public school grounds and buildings in different parts of the city are to be utilized by the city for the ward voting places at the national election on Tuesday, there will be no school sessions.

WEATHER.

J. E. Adamson of the Orange Grove tract has been appointed by the United States government a weather observer for this locality. His particular duty will be to observe frost indications and the observations will benefit the citrus industry of Pomona Valley. A hydrometer and several improved thermometers will be furnished by the government. The success of the observations will, it is thought, have much to do with influencing the government to equip and maintain a permanent official weather bureau here.

SPONGES AT VENICE.

Venice Canals May Be Turned to Commercial Uses—Savings Bank to Be Established Soon.

VENICE, Oct. 30.—Capt. P. M. Grant has discovered sponges growing in the Venice canals. He has carried several specimens to an authority on sponges in Los Angeles and has been told that the Venetian sponges, though small, are as useful, commercially, as those gathered from the bottom of the South Seas if rightly treated after they are brought from the water.

Grant has fenced off a portion of the canals where the sponges are thickest, and will nurse the young growth in an effort to grow the sponges for commercial purposes.

The First National Bank of Venice announces that Venice is to have a savings bank after November 15. The new bank will be run in connection with the First National Bank, though a separate institution. On November 15, also, the Ocean Park Bank branch will open its doors in Venice, so that, where now there is but one bank institution, there will be three in two weeks.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Santa Monica Councilmen Wondering Why Street Work Has Been Tied Up So Long.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 30.—More irregularities have been found by contractors in the proceedings for street work, and the City Council has appointed a committee of five to find out who is to blame for the half dozen contracts tied up and relet within the last year, causing a loss of nearly $100,000 to the citizens because of faulty papers.

P. N. Snyder, the contractor who was awarded the job for completing the Ocean Front promenade, says that the specifications under which he was given the contract are not embraced within the law of 1911 under which the original improvement was started.

The City Attorney says that he passes on the plans, specifications and contract only as to form. The City Engineer states that he copied the specifications from proceedings of the Council in a like improvement. The proceedings will be abandoned and the work readvertised. Trustees Little, Baisley and Butzer will endeavor to find out who is to blame for these costly errors.

Plans for a salt water fire protection system, to cost $52,000, were submitted by the City Engineer and will be discussed at length at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Thursday evening. The City Dads will, at that time, also consider the project of accepting the invitation of Venice to use the salt water mains of that city until a new system is installed here.

Ethel Barrymore, actress, is living in the C. E. Tegner residence, No. 924 Second street, during her engagement at the Orpheum, Los Angeles.

ROGUE OR MANIAC?

MONROVIA, Oct. 30.—A. Rudolph, who for two months has been almost constantly in trouble with the authorities, has been committed to the Patton Asylum by Judge Bordwell, following a statement of the case by Constable Quiggle and Marshal Newman. Rudolph is a Russian-Jew tailor. Either a rogue or a lunatic, the man presented a unique problem for the authorities. Last week he landed in the Los Angeles jail for stealing a bag of doughnuts from a Santa Ana man who left them on a seat in the Pacific Electric station while purchasing a ticket. On his return to Monrovia he appropriated a stove from a second-hand store, being arrested when he returned for the pipe.

Long Beach.

INNER HARBOR POWER PLANT.

Edison Company to Enlarge Electric Facilities.

Runaway Boy Found Working for His Living.

New Assistant Manager for Hotel Virginia.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 30.—Immediate enlargement of the Edison power plant on the inner harbor was announced today, by Assistant General Manager Ballard of the Southern California Edison Company. The installation of the second unit to the plant is nearly completed and the order for the third unit, developing 28,000 horse power was placed yesterday. The first unit had a capacity of 16,000 horse power and the second 30,000 horse power, and both cost, with the buildings, $2,000,000. With the installation of the third unit the plant will develop 64,000 horse power and the money expended will be $3,000,000.

This statement was made at a conference in this city this morning of officials of the Edison company and engineers connected with the bureau of aqueduct power and the Board of Public Utilities of Los Angeles.

The party, which consisted of General Manager Brackenridge, Assistant Manager Ballard and Superintendent Pearson of the Edison company and E. F. Scattergood, chief electrical engineer for the Los Angeles Bureau of Aqueduct Power, Thomas Panter, his assistant, and Ed Barker, engineer for the Los Angeles Utilities Board, motored to Long Beach this morning and after a tour of inspection of the big power plant and the local distributing system the party went to San Pedro.

The trip was made, it is stated, to inspect the local power plant and system and consider how the San Pedro service will be affected by the Owens River aqueduct power. The Long Beach distribution, it is asserted, will not be affected. Today's trip followed a two-days' inspection of the Edison properties in Los Angeles.

RIVAL SUITORS.

A Mexican named Martinez, employed by the Pacific Electric, is believed to be the man who stabbed and dangerously injured Frisco Guerro, shortly after midnight yesterday morning.

Police have discovered that Guerro and Martinez were suitors for a girl and in a quarrel over each other's rights in the matter both were ejected from the girl's home by her parents. Later Guerro was found stabbed and said he had been assaulted by a quartette of footpads. Martinez yesterday morning drew his full time and left the city. Guerro's condition is still regarded as serious.

RUNAWAY FOUND.

Cullen Friswold, aged 16, is at police headquarters awaiting word from his parents in Oregon. The lad is said to have run away from home in Alacel, Or., June 15, and the police have been looking for him ever since. The boy arrived in Long Beach only a few days ago and found work at the Craig ship plant. This morning he visited the Pike and was recognized by a man from his home town, who took him to headquarters. The boy says he ran away because of trouble at home and is anxious to make his own way in the world.

CROWDED OUT.

President Reavis of the San Gabriel Valley Inter-City Association telegraphed Secretary Bisby this morning asking for a final mass meeting rally here Saturday night, with M. C. McKenney as a speaker, against county and city consolidation. This has been found to be impossible, the Bull Moosers having the Auditorium for Saturday night and the Wilson Progressive Republicans for Monday night.

BOTH LOVE HER.

The preliminary examination of Andreas Ramos for attempted murder is being held before Justice Underwood and will continue over tomorrow because of the delay in handling the case through an interpreter and the reluctance of witnesses to testify.

Andreas is charged with having attempted to kill Ramon Sandejas because the latter was preferred by a maid whom both love.

ABALONE PEARLS.

The largest collection of abalone pearls ever gathered on the Pacific Coast has been completed by C. B. Linton, who has returned from a trip up and down the Coast and secured practically the year's output at every fishing point south of San Francisco. They are being shipped to Long Beach by freight and weigh 2400 pounds.

The pearls are in abalone shells, but will be removed during the next thirty days. The exhibit will find a place in the San Diego Exposition and is worth several thousand dollars.

The largest straight sale of improved business property on American avenue for some time was closed today, Mrs. Mary Upjohn purchasing from Ernest G. Thomas of Los Angeles the Metropole property, Third and American avenues, for $42,000. The lot is 50x100 and improved with a three-story building.

Manager Carl Stanley of Hotel Virginia this morning received a letter from Assistant Manager Charles H. Madison, written at Chicago and tendering his resignation. He left here a few weeks ago on his annual vacation. William Nestle, chief clerk, has been promoted. Other changes will be necessitated in the office staff. The new assistant manager has been connected with the hotel for many years and is a favorite with patrons.

Charles James Orrick, a wealthy and retired orange grower of Riverside, died this morning at Hotel Virginia after several weeks' illness. He leaves a widow and three children. Orrick was a native of Honeywell Mills, W. Va., and was 62 years of age. He came to California three years ago. The body will be taken to Riverside for burial.

STARTING THE WORK.

Redondo Beach to Have Large Amusement Device—Still After Harbor Improvement.

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 30.—Elwood Salsbury, president of the Ingersoll Engineering and Construction Company of New York and Pittsburgh, and J. A. Ellis, president of the Redondo Racing Coaster Company, were here today doing preliminary work for the erection of the big racing coaster to be built here.

The coaster will be built by the Ingersoll company at a cost asserted to be $100,000. The ride will extend from the foot of Diamond street to pier No. 1, and will be 500 feet long. It will have a 160-foot frontage and an elaborate entrance. It will have a carrying capacity of 5000 persons an hour. Like some makes of automobiles the cars will be underslung, being set low in the flume, which will make for greater safety.

O. N. Tomlinson and W. M. McKnight of the Chamber of Commerce, J. H. Cavanah and E. T. Thompson of the City Trustees, met last evening and decided in view of the unpardonable report of Col. C. H. McKinstry, regarding the harbor, to send an Appeal to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors at Washington to secure a survey of the harbor.

Additional data will be sent to the board regarding the commerce and harbor and a request made that the survey for which an appropriation of $2500 was made by Congress at the last session, be made.

DIFFERENT FINDINGS.

Special Committee Asserts that Five of Seven Recall Petitions Have Enough Names to Demand Election.

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 30.—The committee of the Greater Redondo Beach Civic Association composed of W. T. Fitzpatrick, Rev. Mott Mitchell, E. M. Wardwell and C. H. Turner completed their check up of the recall petition signers for the recall of the city officials, last evening, and report that according to their check five of the petitions have been found to contain a sufficient number of names to warrant the call of an election and that ttwo of the petitions lack but a small number.

The committee checked with a copy of the Great Register today in the City Clerk's office from which office the petitions could not be removed.

The dispute between the two factions as to the petitions will be taken into court through the mandamus proceedings brought against City Clerk W. A. Anderson, whose hearing will be held next Monday.

WILLOW RIVER

Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Calls it "A TOWN OF IMPORTANCE" adding:

"The establishment of this new town (on the Fraser and Willow Rivers) marks a chapter in the development of British Columbia. It outward evidence that each day sees the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway pushing farther west and that the riches of an inland empire are, for the first time, becoming available. That portion of British Columbia west of the Rocky Mountains and east of the coast range and drained by the Fraser, Nechaco, Stuart, Salmon and Willow Rivers, holds the centre of the stage in one of earth's greatest dramas—the development of Western Canada. Approximately midway between Edmonton and Prince Rupert, a territory virtually 700 miles long and 500 miles wide will contribute to the upbuilding of this new town."

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

EXPERT ADVISES FOR CHEAP GAS.

Opposition from Companies If Rate Is Fixed.

Famous Water Case Is Active After Twenty Years.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 30.—The long-delayed report on the question of the gas rate has at last been filed by Expert J. E. Barker and his recommendation to the City Council is that a fair rate for this city is between $1.05 and $1.10 per thousand cubic feet, but preferably the former figure.

Mr. Barker's figures are supposed to show that the Southern California Gas Company can deliver gas to their consumers for $1.02 and make a reasonable return on their investment, and that the Citrus Belt Gas Company would have to get $1.21 in order to get a reasonable return, owing to the heavy fixed charges it has to carry on a much smaller amount of business.

As to the Southern California Company Barker refuses to consider the charge of $20,000 for a pipe line from Colton to San Bernardino in fixing at the value of the plant on which the company is entitled to a return, on the ground that it is unnecessary because the idle plant in San Bernardino is able to supply the gas now coming from the Colton plant.

The Council will consider the rate matter in two weeks and it is assured a majority will be found favoring a $1.05 rate, though its adoption will without doubt be fought in the courts by both companies.

Meanwhile, the initiative petition filed by the Socialists for a dollar gas rate, is still being circulated.

"GOES ON FOREVER."

The famous Cucamonga water case again in court in a proceeding to secure the decree finally handed down some months ago, and which was supposed to have settled the entire difficulty.

The case of Carrie F. Smith vs. the Cucamonga Water Company has been in court for a score of years and has been bitterly fought, the water from the Cucamonga Springs being the big point at issue. Many of the attorneys and parties to the original suit are dead, but litigation seemingly goes on forever.

Contempt proceedings were brought against the officers of the company for alleged failure to carry out the decree, but these have been dropped and no action to construe the decree instituted. Conditions have arisen not in existence when the decree was signed.

INSANE NEGRO CAUGHT.

John Perry, a negro committed to the Los Angeles who recently escaped from the Patton asylum, was brought in from Ludlow this morning by Deputy Sheriff Hopkins after he terrorized the scattered residents there and at Newberry and other desert towns in that vicinity. He was caught burglarizing a house and the officers quickly discovered he was insane. He was returned to the asylum this afternoon.

FINDS HIM GUILTY.

The jury found Roberto Tobin guilty of stealing in less than fifteen minutes. Tobin got away with a valuable animal belonging to G. Rose, but was captured after an automobile chase.

OIL CLAIMS FILED.

Much impetus has been given the settlement on the desert in the vicinity of Barstow and Kramer, the recent filing of claims covering 1280 acres by S. W. Sheene and others. It is expected the drilling plant of the Chicago Oil Company, which recently, will be rebuilt and work resumed on the test well already several hundred feet.

FIREMAN ARRESTED.

Ed. Caldwell, a boomer switchman, under arrest on a charge of entering the room of F. Taylor and stealing a valuable watch.

BOUNDARIES STRETCHED.

In order to secure pupils to attend the school, which had equipment and a building but no pupils, the boundaries of the school district in the desert have been enlarged. The removal of families in the Todd district across the Colorado River and into another district caused the complication, so the district boundaries were stretched to include it.

POWER LINES COMPLETED.

The lines of the Southern Sierras Power Company are completed nearly to Redlands and officials of the company expect to be bringing juice to Southern California not later than the first of next year.

Lieut. W. H. C. [illegible], of this city, is preparing to send a team to the annual encampment of the national guard to be held at Sacramento in November.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS.

"The Sign of the Cross," religious drama by Wilson Barrett, will be presented at St. Stephen's Church, Hollywood, by Franklin Scovell next Sunday evening. Scovell takes thirteen characters in the reading.

POLITICS IN VENTURA.

Miss Mary Foy Addresses Democrats and Taft Republicans—Pasadenan Injured in Automobile Accident.

VENTURA, Oct. 29.—Miss Mary Foy of Los Angeles, Judge Thomas of Santa Barbara, and W. E. Shepherd of this city, addressed a large meeting at this place last night, in the audience being a number of Taft Republicans, despite the fact that the meeting was held in the interest of Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic cause. It is certain the Democratic candidate will get a large Taft vote in this county.

LIGHTING PLANT.

The Ojai Power Company, made up of citizens of the Ojai Valley, in which is located the town of Nordhoff, has secured a franchise to install a light plant in the valley to furnish light and power to the people there. The company is preparing to begin work. There will be an expenditure of $20,000 made in the installing of the plant. The system will extend from the Gally Cottages to the Foothills Hotel, and the dynamo will be operated by a 100-horse-power engine.

PASADENAN INJURED.

W. A. Badgley of Pasadena, while cranking his automobile here this afternoon, had his right forearm broken by the kicking crank handle. He was waited upon by a surgeon and later took his departure for home with Mr. and Mrs. Ogle, also of Pasadena. He was en route for a visit to the northern part of the State.

STOCK SALES.

The case of the People vs. Ward and Mullineaux, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in selling worthless stock to a Moorpark couple, was up before Judge Clarke in the Superior Court yesterday. Defendants moved to have the information set aside on the ground that defendants were not legally committed by the magistrate in the Justice Court. The motion was denied and the men were arraigned. They entered pleas of not guilty and will be tried November 26.

Ontario.

SATISFIED WITH THE INCUMBENTS.

CHAMBER OF COMERCE HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC ELECTION.

Indorses Proposed County Charter As an Instrument to Secure Home Rule, Economy and Efficiency. Building Permits This Year Already More Than in All of Last.

ONTARIO, Oct. 29.—The Ontario Chamber of Commerce in the largest and most enthusiastic annual meeting in the history of the organization, unanimously re-elected Glenn D. Smith president last night. Crombie Allen was re-elected vice-president and H. E. Swan, treasurer.

The directors for the coming year, who took their seats last night, include E. D. Abrams, Crombie Allen, J. S. Armstrong, George T. Barr, F. C. Bell, C. E. Christensen, J. D. Draper, Charles Frankish, B. P. Glenn, J. B. Harvey, Jacob Jesson, Isaac Jones, George A. McCrea, E. A. Parkford, E. H. Richardson, H. I. Ross, Glenn D. Smith, H. E. Swan, B. F. Webber and J. C. Wright. George T. Barr was re-elected secretary.

The chamber by resolution indorsed the proposed county charter, asserting that it is not a partisan political proposition but an instrument to secure home rule, economy and efficiency in county affairs.

The subject was introduced by Mayor W. A. Freemire, who heartily indorsed the adoption of the charter, as did also Hon. C. G. H. Bennink, H. E. Swan, Jacob Jesson and Isaac Jones, the last two being members of the freeholders board who drew up the charter.

BUILDING PERMITS.

With over two months still to go the present year has already surpassed that of 1911 in the matter of Ontario building permits. The total for the year 1911 was $402,000, and that was considered a record; 1912 to the present date shows a total of $416,894 and there is every indication that this will be greatly increased before the coming of 1913.

QUARANTNE STATION SITE.

Assistant Surgeon-General and Harbor Commissioners Look Over the Harbor for Health Purposes.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 30.—Assistant Surgeon-General Glennan of the United States public health service, accompanied by Dr. S. D. Brooks of the marine hospital service, Harbor Commissioners Gordon and Johnson, and Secretary Matson, made a tour of inspection over the harbor district yesterday to select a site for a government quarantine station.

The United States government reserve on the bluffs overlooking the outer harbor, Deadman's Island and other proposed sites were pointed out to Dr. Glennan, who will make a report to his chief, Surgeon-General Blue, upon his return to Washington.

Congress will be asked to make appropriations for buildings and equipment at the next session.

MAKING IT EASY FOR STRANGERS.

NEW POLICE REGULATIONS FOR HANDLING AUTOISTS.

Visitors to Receive Warning for First Offense—Officers Hold Up Wagons Loaded With Grape Juice, but City Attorney Says It's Not Strong Enough.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 30.—A manner of handling the traffic ordinance that has the indorsement of the city's civic organizations was put in force this afternoon, when Mayor Peters, after a conference with Chief of Police Coburn, instructed the officers as to how they should proceed.

The new system contemplates that every violator is to be warned on first offense, except in the case of a flagrant violation. First offenders will be required to sign a card, signifying the section of the ordinance involved. This card, with date and other desirable data, is filed at the Police Station.

The violator is given a pamphlet containing the more important provisions of the ordinance. A second offense means arrest and fine. The new system is designed for the protection of out-of-town people, many of whom were complaining against the enforcement of the ordinance, particularly with reference to "corner-cutting."

JAGS IN STORAGE.

Three vehicles loaded with barrels that bore evidences of containing liquor were halted as they were making their way through the city at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The rigs and their Italian drivers were escorted to the Police Station and remained there until the City Attorney had had his breakfast and had arrived at his office from his Arlington Heights home.

It developed that the liquid contents of the twenty-one barrels was grape juice from a San Bernardino winery, and the City Attorney ruled that under the ordinance the Italians could not be held. As it is the purpose of the purchasers to convert the stuff into wine, the Chief of Police is confident they will pay the police station a second visit, for its destination is within the city limits.

CITY OF CORONA SUES.

The case of the city of Corona vs. Mable I. Farmer and others, an action brought to condemn a right-of-way desired for the extension of Sixth street to give the business section of Corona direct connection with Magnolia avenue, which runs through Riverside, was heard in the Superior Court today. The property owners concerned demand more than twice as much for a right-of-way as was offered them.

LARGE CORPORATIONS.

Articles of incorporation of the El Campo Land and Investment Company were filed here yesterday. The capital stock is $100,000. The directors, all Los Angeles men, include Sherman S. Withington, Burton Carlinghouse, Theodore H. Pletsch, Edgar L. Ide and E. E. Heliyer.

The O. McHenry Company of Modesto has filed certified articles of incorporation here. The company is organized for doing a wholesale meat packing and shipping business. It has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000. The directors are O. McHenry, J. E. Ward, G. P. Schafer, G. R. Stoddard, John Dunn, Jr., E. Conneau and L. L. Dennett.

TO CALL BOND ELECTION.

The City Attorney has drawn up the ordinance calling for a bond election to determine whether the city shall issue $1,160,000 bonds for the acquisition and development of a municipal water system, the date being fixed for December 17. It is expected that the ordinance will have its first reading tomorrow. The papers are being examined by the Los Angeles law firm of O'Melveny, Stephens and Milliken, who have been retained by the city to supervise all proceedings in connection with the election.

James Orrick, prominent in many local organizations, died at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, today, at the age of 60 years. The deceased had resided in Riverside for five years, coming here from Cumberland, Maryland. In his home city of Cumberland, he was for a time water commissioner and president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association. He was also a past grand officer in the Royal Arcanum of Maryland, and a member of the National Union of the American Association of Social and Political Science.

There is a rumor current here to the effect that the present arrangement between the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake, whereby the latter uses a portion of the Southern Pacific's tracks between Riverside and San Bernardino, will be terminated soon and that the Santa Fe tracks will be substituted.

This rumor is based on the supposition that the Southern Pacific will by the first of February electrize its steam line between this city and San Bernardino and use electric locomotives for its freight as well as passenger traffic. It is stated that the Salt Lake is averse to conforming to an arrangement that will make it necessary to have relays of steam locomotives in waiting at either end of the section operated under the trolley system.

EAST TO WEST, HOME IS BEST.

Angeleno Globe Trotter Is Glad He's Here.

Eyes of World Are Turned on This City.

Says Panama Canal Intersects All Peoples.

Fresh from a six-months' jaunt around the big circle, including a dash across the Siberian steppes, an auto trip through Japan, an inspection of the Alpine heights of Switzerland, the broad thoroughfares of Berlin, the world's busy marts in London and Paris, and a glimpse of the Czar's dominion in St. Petersburg, Gen. M. H. Sherman reached home yesterday much pleased with what he saw, and full of certainty that he saw nothing comparable with that portion of the world bounded on the north by the Arroyo Seco, and on the south by Slauson avenue.

In common with all returning globe trotters, Gen. Sherman reports that the United States looms large in the horizon of the world, and that wherever he roamed Southern California, Los Angeles, and the Panama Canal were topics of intelligent understanding and conversation. To this section Europe and the Orient is looking for the greatest development, and there is no attempt anywhere to minimize the import of the canal. Many from all quarters of the globe are coming here in 1915 to see for themselves, and incidentally to view the wonders of the twin expositions on the Pacific Coast.

TEMPLES AND TEAS.

The traveler deftly sidestepped the question, "What was the most interesting thing that happened to you?" on the grounds that there were so many of it, but in the Orient he found the greatest interest, and even though he was finally compelled to taboo both temples and tea he entertains for the people of the Far East and for the institutions of that land of millions the liveliest feeling of interest.

In Hankow, "the Chicago of China," he arrived simultaneously with the war, and observed at short range the moves in the great game. Gen. Sherman thinks that after the effervescence of adjustment is over China will settle down to a republican form of government and live happily ever afterward.

The intensive farming of the natives proved a source of wonderment, and he believes that the art of making two blades grow in the place of one is more highly developed there than by the average New England farmer.

A trip down the Yang-tse-kiang and a visit to the imperial city of Peking was a revelation, and a pourney into the highways and byways of Japan pleased him and his party greatly; also, it was in Japan that the temples got just a little bit the better of the hardy voyagers from the new world. On every hand he was invited first to inspect a temple, and after the eleventh cup of even the most delicious brew the capacity of the average Angeleno becomes somewhat modified, and so an edict issued ukasing both tea and temples, and after that all was well. Good railroads, first-class accommodations, a plethora of art, the marvelous wall of Peking, unlimited scenery, interesting antiquity, modern business and unfailing hospitality featured the weeks devoted to the Orient.

The nine-days' trip across Siberia was a highly interesting event. The frontier is somewhat similar to that of the United States except that for thousands of miles the train whirls its way through countless acres of waving wheat, the country's insurance against famine.

Several weeks were passed in the European capitals, in many instances the stay being prolonged by the pleasures of the visit. Here, as on the "other side," the commanding position of America as a world power is recognized and often the question is heard, "What of the future?" Wars and rumors of wars are in every print and on every lip, while the approaching election in the United States and the curious political situation in this country is far too complicated for the grasp of the average citizen of a monarchial government, or even of the shrinking republics of the old world.

Gen. Sherman was accompanied by Miss Lucy P. Sherman, Miss Lucy M. Clark and Myron Sherman.

RIBBON-BOX THE CLEW.

FRESNO, Oct. 30.—From an empty typewriter ribbon-box found several days ago in a room at the Grand Central Hotel, Police Detective Goehring was able to trace the theft of a typewriter to Stanley Stafford, the young son of a wealthy Sanger ranchman. Stafford was arrested in the mountains and is being held in jail awaiting trial on a charge of grand larceny. He has made a confession in which he admitted that he entered a piano store while the clerks were busy and stole the machine. The empty ribbon-box was found in his room. Stafford, before leaving for the mountains, made arrangements with a friend of his to sell the typewriter. Through the detective the police purchased the machine and Stafford shipped it down from the mountains. His arrest followed two days later.

3% Quarterly DIVIDENDS 3% Quarterly

By Buying Now You Get the Benefit of Both the Dividend and the Advance in Value

There is another dividend ready to be paid from the earnings of the land and the things that grow by the Gibraltar Investment and Home Building Company. The books will close on Monday, Nov. 4, and the payment will be 3 per cent. for the quarter or at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum on par upon the 8 per cent. preferred stock. The rate of this dividend illustrates the remarkable growth of Gibraltar, as the profits from land deals and from nursery stock grown by the company make the stock worth much more than it is selling for today. The 3 per cent. dividend will be paid December 1 upon par value of the shares the money you have in pays for. The profits we are making by selling upon easy payments the 1897 acres at Bloomington in 5, 10 and 20-acre tracts, planted to olive and citrus trees, added to the profits from our other operations, make the stock of Gibraltar intrinsically worth 17 cents today. It is now selling for 13 cents a share, either for cash or on the 20 monthly payment plan, but will be advanced to 14 cents on November 25, to be nearer actual value. Gibraltar owns the trees and Gibraltar owns the land and you may share in the subdividing of the land and the sale of the planted acre. The profits from growing the trees, subdividing the land and planting the acre and selling the orchard home are all combined under one management and one selling cost at big profits for the shareholder. YOU MAY BUY THE STOCK OR BUY THE LAND AND EXCHANGE EITHER FOR THE OTHER. THERE ARE NOW 2153 CO-OPERATIVE SHAREHOLDERS. THE STRENGTH OF GIBRALTAR AND THE EARNING POWER OF THE LAND ARE BACK OF YOUR DOLLAR.

STOCK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The opening was somewhat higher, induced by the improved tone of American issues in London, and the somewhat more cheerful tenor of the advices from the other side, but after the first half-hour selling again became aggressive, although it bore very much the appearance of bear pressure. On the down-turn additional long stocks were liquidated, and in addition during that period which is generally termed the eleventh hour, the bear element sold consequently. Support for a time was not of sufficient extent to warrant a continuance of heavy selling for short account, and as a consequence prices gradually recovered in the afternoon, so that the closing was not far from last night's level. Rather authoritative reports were circulated to the effect that Russia and Austria had agreed on a mode of procedure in connection with the distribution of Turkish territory in Europe, in case the Moslems are defeated. The governing influence appeared to be the probable outcome of the French settlements, which began Thursday. Advices were to the effect that plans had been formulated relative to the caring for weak accounts, but in spite of this some disturbance is anticipated, although from an American stock market standpoint it seems as though the bulk of the drastic liquidation has already been cared for.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Local ranch eggs advanced 2 cents again yesterday. Case-counts were quoted at 46 cents and candled at 50 cents. Receipts were slightly heavier than the average, 75 cases. Case-count eggs sold as high as 46 cents, 2 cents above the present market quotation, and there was a scarcity of the product. Some dealers predict that the high rate now prevailing will have a tendency to check the demand for the fresh local product, and increase, that for the fresh eastern and storage eggs. Some of the eastern stock is quite satisfactory, but a considerable portion of it is reported below the average. The receipts of eastern eggs are fairly good.

Fresh butter and cheese were firm, and the demand not very heavy. Receipts of butter were below the average, 21,400 pounds, and 1250 pounds of cheese came in. Some cream brick changed hands at 39 cents, a figure considerably below the market quotation.

Receipts of apples yesterday were somewhat lighter than the day before, 2161 boxes. Most varieties were quite plentiful. Jonathans in particular. Persimmons are coming in pretty freely and are bringing 7 to 8 cents a pound. Cranberries packed in cartons are on the market for the first time, and are quoted at $1.25 a case. Two cars of bananas came in yesterday and two are on the way. Receipts of bananas are pretty heavy this week. Blackberries are very scarce and what few are on the market bring about 9 cents a box. Good pomegranates can be bought for $1.75 to $1.50 a box, or about 4 cents a pound. Fifty gallons of fine pineapples came in. Grapes are firmer.

Sweet potatoes were a little weaker and were quoted down to $1.25 a sack in some instances. The price, however, averaged between $1.35 and $1.50. Tomatoes were about the same and peas were a little more in evidence, and good stock was selling around 4 cents a pound. Lettuce was weaker and was selling as low as 60 cents, but the average price was somewhat higher. Receipts of beans were 2656 sacks, and 2365 sacks of potatoes came in.

Egyptian corn is quoted down to $1, and Red Rock and oil cake are selling 10 cents cheaper. Whole corn in 100-pound sacks is quoted at $1.80.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Rice Ranch Suspends Dividends, and Stock Continues to Decline—Union Issues Active.

It was announced on the exchange yesterday that at a meeting of the board of directors of the Rice Ranch Oil Company, held Monday, the payment of dividends on the stock of the company was suspended until further notice. This is the reason assigned for the big decline in this issue during the past few days. There was a falling off in the price bid for the stock yesterday to 65 1-8 at the close. No sales were made, however, and very few have been consummated on the exchange during the decline.

The Union stocks, Union Oil and United Petroleum, were the chief traders. Fifty shares of Union Oil changed hands at 97.25, twenty-five at 97.00 and twenty at 98.12½. The issue showed strength. Fifty shares of United Petroleum sold at 98.25. Ten Associated Oil sold at 46.00; the stock was slightly weaker. United Oil declined a little, 1500 shares selling at 31½, and 1000 at 32. One hundred New Pennsylvania went at 52, and 1000 National Pacific at 2¾.

Los Angeles Athletic Club was the only industrial stock traded; 150 shares sold at 8.50. Two 1000.00 Pacific Light and Power bonds changed hands at 96½.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

General Weakness in Goldfield and Tonopah Issues—Many Selling Orders Yesterday.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 119 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Goldfield stocks were weaker. Merger selling at 31 and 32. Jumbo Extension was off 2 and Consolidated lost 2½. Manhattan stocks were unchanged to a point weaker. In the Tonopah district Belmont lost 25 points, Jim Butler 2, North Star 3 and Tonopah Extension 5. Tonopah Merger sold at 31. In the outlying camps Nevada Hills sold at 1.47½. The Comstocks were weak. The output of the Tonopah mines last week was valued at $289,756, a decrease of $12,000 as compared with the week previous. The market was without special news today, except that there was a preponderance of selling orders.

MARKET RALLY IN LAST HOUR.

FINANCIAL HORIZON DARKENED BY WAR CLOUDS.

Reading's Report Shows Net Gains for Both Railroad and Coal Companies—Call Loan Rate Again Rises to Six Per Cent.—Short Selling of Steel Proves Unfavorable Factor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The shadows of war hung over the financial horizon again today, all foreign markets were unsettled after an early period of optimism due to reports that two of the leading European powers had arrived at an amicable understanding regarding the conflict in the Balkans. London's early tone was one of cheerfulness on buying orders from the continent and absence of further liquidation in Canadian Pacific. That stock rose over 4 points abroad and almost the entire American group closed strong. As a result of this apparent improvement our market opened with a general and active advance, rises, Canadian Pacific gaining over 3 points, with 1-point gains in Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley, United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper, Anaconda and American Smelting. Before the end of the first hour persistent selling had wiped out much of the advance and at midday it was utterly refused, with some losses selling for yesterday's low. By the time news from Europe had again assumed an alarming tone and there were signs that the foreign markets were about to undergo a severe attack. Short selling, especially in steel and presumably based upon yesterday's financial statement, was a factor in the declining movement, which was checked in the final hour. More or less complete recoveries were then recorded, regardless of a rise to 6 per cent. in call loans, the rally continuing to the first dull close, and with numerous net gains. The one important railway return was that of the Reading system, which showed net gains for both the lines and coal companies, the whole totaling $616,000, and a surplus increase of over $500,000. Bonds were lower, especially convertibles. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,600,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—United Cigar Stores was the feature of the curb market, crossing 111 on heavy trading. The stock reacted to 110½ at the close. Coppers were very quiet, with fractional changes only. Boston coppers opened moderately active and improved in tone, but in sympathy with New York prices, were generally lower by noon. There has been a lull in quote and buying during the past week for conversion into Ray. Mayflower and Old Colony were active on drill hole news. It is believed that the prospects of the October will show a slight increase in the stocks on hand. The effect of the Bingham Ely strike will not show in this report and only in a small way in November, but to an unlimited extent in December.

The recent strength in Utah Consolidated has led to rumors of improved property conditions. A Salt Lake correspondent reports that there is no change to record at the property; that the management is continuing to develop low grade ore at a depth about equal to the amount extracted, but the ores are so low grade that it is only by mixing with some of the 2 per cent. ore and because of a 17-cent copper metal market that the management is able to treat these low grade ores at all.

The strike practically shut off production for a month, but operations are being resumed though they are still far from normal.

The United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company is making an excellent record at its Mammoth property in California. Advices have just been received from California that the Mammoth Company with its three furnaces in operation is treating 1275 tons of ore per day, of which about 1200 tons is sulphide and the balance fluxing material. Its sulphide ores are averaging 3 per cent. copper and 22 per ton in gold and silver, besides 2 to 5 per cent. zinc.

The company is on this basis producing about 1,500,000 pounds of copper per month, and by reason of precious metal values it is earning about 10 cents per pound net, or at the rate of $1,800,000 per annum.

The Mammoth Company has been adding very materially to its reserves by the discovery of another big lodge of ore at a time when it had but 500,000 tons of ore remaining in its original ledge. The company is having no fume troubles and is operating at an expenditure of $340,000 for a bag house which successfully meets the situation. Had the First National Company built a bag house it would have saved the $150,000 expenditure on the unsuccessful Cotterall process and it would have been in a position to take advantage of the present high metal market. Instead, it is shut down, with no immediate prospects of resuming.

During the eight days from October 7 to 14 inclusive, the Mason Valley Mines Company treated a total of 8155 tons of ore, from which 7299 tons ware ore. From this there was produced 821 tons of matte, resulting in a total copper production in matte of 849,429 pounds of copper. This is at the rate of 29,000,000 pounds per year.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Harbor Commission outlined yesterday the requests it will make today for government aid in harbor development. Those will include the straightening and widening of the channel of the inner harbor to a width of 750 feet; the dredging of a thirty-foot channel to Wilmington and the survey of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers, preparatory to forming a plan for eliminating deposits of silt from these rivers at the harbor.

The Police Commission yesterday revoked the liquor permits of Levy's Cafe and the Pekin Cafe, two well-known South Main-street resorts.

ASKS MORE AID FOR THE HARBOR.

BOARD WILL SUBMIT ITS REQUESTS TODAY.

Wants Government to Aid in Straightening East Inner Lines, Dredge Channel to Point East of Wilmington, and Plan for Diversion of River Silt.

Preliminary to the hearing before Lieut.-Col. McKinstry this forenoon in regard to harbor improvements to be suggested or asked for, the Harbor Commission put in a busy day yesterday formulating plans.

A conference was held early in the forenoon with officials of the Salt Lake Railroad regarding the project of straightening the channel of the inner harbor, which would require the moving easterly of the railroad tracks on land at East San Pedro. An agreement was reached as to the advantage of such a change.

In the afternoon the board formulated its propositions to be presented to the government engineer today. Three separate requests for government aid in harbor development will be made.

The first is that the channel of the inner harbor be widened to a uniform width of 750 feet, from Dead Man's Island to the turning basin, and the dredging of this channel to a uniform depth of thirty-five feet. This would require the slicing away of a portion of the island and the elimination of the curve on which the Salt Lake tracks are located. The railroad would be given land to the eastward in proportion to that required for these changes.

The second proposition is that the government dredge to a depth of thirty feet a channel from the turning basin to station 442, 2000 feet northeast, or just east of Wilmington.

The third proposition is that the government make a survey of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers with the purpose in view of evolving plans whereby the silt discharges from these rivers may be diverted from the harbor, where it is a menace to the channels of both the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors.

These applications are to be made directly to Lieut.-Col. McKinstry, instead of being forwarded to the War Department, as they would come under the scope of the work entrusted to Col. McKinstry under the provisions of the rivers and harbors bill passed by Congress on July 25 of this year.

If the straightening of the channel plan is adopted, it will mean the removal of a large area of land from the land occupied by the Salt Lake tracks, and the placing of this behind bulkheads on the easterly side of the island, thus creating a considerable area of land owned by the city.

LICENSES GONE.

LEVY'S AND LEM'S "DRY."

The Police Commission revoked the liquor permits of two well-known cafes yesterday—Levy's and the Pekin, on South Main street.

The liquor permit for Levy's was held by L. J. Christopher, who took over the place about a year ago. Witnesses testified yesterday that they had visited the cafe three times and had observed violations of the rules. Orders for liquors were filled after midnight, according to their testimony; drinks were served with only crackers or French bread, and once with only finger bowls as adjuncts, said the witnesses. One investigator testified that he had been offered the use of private rooms at any time he desired, and testimony was introduced showing that a boy had been allowed to sell sets of obscene cards to customers.

Christopher testified that he had tried to run the place according to the rules of the Police Commission, but that he had been unable to give much of his personal attention to it, and that he had employed Al Levy to superintend it, although this was in direct contravention of the orders of the commission when Christopher obtained his liquor permit.

He declared that the place was practically sold, but that he had determined not to make the transfer until the check was lifted from his establishment.

The Mayor scored Christopher for directly violating the instructions of the commission in employing Levy, and stated that there was general talk to the effect that "Levy's" had a pull with the commission and was protected, while lesser cafes were compelled to rigidly adhere to all rules. He stated that this concern would have just the same treatment as any other, and the board voted unanimously to revoke the liquor permit.

The Pekin Cafe is owned by George Lem, Chinese. The testimony produced by the prosecution showed that liquors were served without meals. This permit was also revoked by unanimous vote.

Action on Liquor Permits.

The restaurant liquor permit at No. 214 East First street was transferred from Konov Yaginama to T. Katow.

The saloon license permit for No. 118 East First street was transferred from C. Hickson to Hickson & Hickson.

The hotel liquor license permit held by John G. Althouse for No. 168 North Main street, the United States Hotel, was transferred to Charles F. Harlow.

Claussen & King wanted to have their saloon license permit transferred to No. 859 East Fifth street from Ceres avenue, but this was denied.

D. B. Jerrus has disposed of all his interests in the D. B. Jerrus Company, a corporation, to C. D. Richardson, and W. H. Hevren succeeds as president. The company takes the ground that the saloon license at No. 127 East Fifth street should be continued without change or new application, as the license was originally issued to the corporation before the passage of the present ordinance requiring that liquor permits be held by individuals. The Police Commission has referred this subject to the City Attorney for an opinion.

City Hall Brevities.

Applications for police service in various sections of the city not now served are being received by the Police Commission constantly, and when the commission received yesterday the report of the Council clerk, notifying it that the request for twenty-five additional policemen was turned down, Commissioner McDill and Chief of Police Sebastian were appointed to appear personally before the Council and make detailed statements as to the demands for service and the great need for more men.

The Associated Liquor Dealers' Association of Los Angeles sent to the Police Commission yesterday a copy of a resolution adopted by it and which has been forwarded by it to every holder of a liquor license. This asks the men to close their places at least five minutes before the closing time set by ordinance, and to strictly live up to all the rules and regulations of the city, and require all employees to do so. The resolution states that the association will aid the city in prosecuting any holder of a liquor license who intentionally violates the law, but that it will aid the liquor dealers with legal assistance in cases where palpable attempts are made by others to get him to violate the law.

The Police Commission after a hearing yesterday dismissed the charges against Walter O. Stewart, holder of a saloon license at No. 434 East Fifth street, of conducting his place in an improper manner.

PROFESSIONAL OR LIBELOUS?

LETTER IS RAISON D'ETRE FOR DAMAGE SUIT.

Specialist Demands Twenty-five Thousand Dollars for Letter Written to Optical Societies—Done in Interest of Profession, Says Defendant.

An alleged libelous communication which opens like the first chapter of a novel, laid the foundation for a $25,000 suit for libel brought by Dr. C. W. Chester against Fred Detmers, president of the State Board of Examiners in Optometry. The case is set for Department Nine today and a hot legal tussle is anticipated.

The letter is alleged in Detmers's answer to have been written in the interest of the profession and the libel is denied. Chester avers it was sent to the Southern California Optical Society, the Los Angeles Optical Society, the Central California Optical Association and the Alameda County Association of Optometry. It is dated Los Angeles, April 22, 1911, and reads in part:

"On the 13th day of this month (ominous date,) in the little village of Dinuba, some twenty miles south of Fresno, there was enacted the most grotesque comedy, or rather a travesty on justice and legal proceeding, unparalleled in the history of the State."

After quoting certain newspaper extracts on the decision, the letter goes on to state that the justice declared the California optometry law unconstitutional, and that "Chester is well known throughout the State for his unscrupulous methods in fleecing his patients, mostly farmers, exacting for his services sums running all the way from $25 to $350, and has been arrested, convicted and fined four or five times within the last three years." The libel charge is based on the paragraph referring to Chester.

FATHER TRIUMPHS.

VICTORY PROSTRATES MOTHER.

John G. Miller led his 14-year-old son, Gerard, out of Judge Bordwell's court in a happy frame of mind yesterday. He had been awarded the custody of the boy, and expressed his intention of returning to Clafon, Contra Costa county, as fast as he could, in order to be within the jurisdiction of the court there and to oppose any effort on the part of his former wife, Mrs. Nellie Stange, to reopen the case.

The result ended a four-year chase for Gerard. The couple was divorced in Contra Costa county, and Gerard was awarded to the custody of his mother. She went to Chicago, leaving her son in the keeping of her mother. Miller alleged the mother was too infirm to take proper charge of the boy, and filed a petition. The court intimated he would let Miller have Gerard. Pending an order to that effect afterward made, Mrs. Miller returned and is alleged to have carried off Gerard. Then the chase began, finally leading to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Stange, who is the wife of a prosperous Covina ranchman, is prostrated over losing Gerard. She was unable to be in court yesterday. Gerard, red-haired and freckled, marched out of court with his father, grinning at the prospect of a long trip north.

TWO CONDEMNATION SUITS.

CITY IS THE PLAINTIFF.

Two condemnation suits were filed in the Superior Court yesterday by the city of Los Angeles, one against Edward C. Gird and twenty-nine other defendants to secure property along Los Feliz road, between Vermont avenue and Mary street, for the purpose of widening it in accordance with an ordinance passed by the City Council, July 29, last. The petition asks that the defendants be required to set forth their claims so that the referees may investigate the same and make their reports to the court.

The other suit is against William J. Turner, the Huntington Land and Improvement Company and others to condemn land at Central avenue and Forty-fifth street for a public library.

WOMAN WINS.

JUDGMENT AGAINST AUTO.

A confiding woman, a real estate broker, $1151.37 and a lot at Hawthorne are the five items which form the basis of a judgment for the above-named amount given by Judge Monroe yesterday. The woman, Grace M. Carter, who obtained the judgment, alleged in an action filed against Ira W. Holt, the broker, that she bought a lot at Hawthorne and later was induced by Holt to allow him to rear a house on it.

For this purpose, she alleges, she gave him $1151.37, and avers that he applied the money to the purchase of an automobile for his own use. The machine, it appears, was turned over to his attorney, Robert T. Linney, employed to defend him against an action for embezzlement. The judgment is against the auto, and the court enjoins Linney from disposing of the machine.

QUESTION NOT SETTLED.

DOMESTIC PROBLEM IN COURT.

How much should a man contribute to the support of his wife, if the latter draws a salary of $75 a week and his earnings are much less? This question arose in the divorce suit of Florence M. Wallace, a former member of the "Goddess of Liberty" and the "Golden Slipper" theatrical companies.

The evidence showed that Fred Leroy Wallace, the husband, was not able to furnish much money to his wife, and she left him, alleging in the complaint desertion and non-support. Judge Monroe denied the decree. He found that the marriage followed a week's acquaintance and that Florence lived with Fred only a short time. During her professional career she covered a great deal of territory, and having a good salary, was accustomed to more luxuries than her husband could afford to give her.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ACCOUNTING DESIRED. That Luther L. Hill, guardian of the estate and persons of Robert, Fred and Leland Wylie, be required to explain to the court why, as is alleged, he has failed to render an accounting of his guardianship for more than seven years, John S. Stick, as a friend of the children, has filed a petition in the Probate Court asking that a citation be issued for Hill. The document alleges that accountings have frequently been demanded of Hill by the Wylie children but have never been forthcoming. Hill was appointed guardian December 19, 1904.

APPRAISER REPORTS. According to the report of Appraiser Frank Sproul, filed yesterday in Probate Court, the late Barton S. Hays, who died November 13, last, left an estate of $89,242.39, of which the net proceeds is $40,244.16. The estate is divided between the widow, Eva C. Hays, and Malcolm M. Hays, the son, excepting two bequests of $1000 each to two sisters, Maggie H. Foster and Maria McHenry.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? Alleging that he wants his name changed because his friends find it difficult to pronounce and remember, Bernard J. Trombatore has asked the Superior Court for permission to discard the musical-sounding appellation and adopt the surname of Trimble.

MURDER CHARGED. Informations were filed yesterday in Department Eleven of the Superior Court by Deputy District Attorney Alexander against Ralph McBeth and Charles Doble, charging them with the murder of David Campbell near Glendora, September 19, last.

UNLAWFULLY HELD? Flora, Fanny, Kitty and Nellie, to say nothing of Queen, Gipsy, Sef, Tuck and Captain, are alleged to be held unlawfully and without authority by Henri Davancenis in a livery stable at No. 953 South Flower street, according to a complaint filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Joseph Fleming, in which he asks to have the possessors of the feminine names turned over to his care and protection. It developed in the complaint, however, that the bearers of these names are not human beings, but horses, which the plaintiff seeks to recover in addition to a lot of livery stable paraphernalia.

WANTS DAMAGES. Suit for $26,440.13 damages for alleged injuries sustained at the Pacific Electric station, Sixth and Main streets, May 28, last, has been filed by C. B. Tarvell, a ranchman of Los Nietos, against the Pacific Electric. Tarvell alleges that as he attempted to board a car at the depot, it was struck by another car and the force of the collision threw him to the pavement, rendering him unconscious. Partial paralysis necessitated two operations.

MYSTERIOUS HEIR. A next of kin, who forty years ago was heard of in England, can claim a share of the $4600 estate of Robert Forbes, whose will was filed for probate yesterday, if he will make himself known. Although he is named in the petition, filed by James Forbes, a brother of the deceased, the name is not given, for the reason that it is unknown.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Man's in Jail at Wife's Instigation When He Receives Order to Pay Her Monthly Allowance.

Just before being haled into court yesterday on a charge preferred by his wife L. E. Carson, a house-mover, was handed through the bars of his cell in the City Jail a Superior Court order directing him to pay Mrs. L. E. Carson, No. 548 Wall street, $15 a month for the support of their daughter, Evelyn.

Reading this order, Carson appeared before Police Judge Chesbro to answer a charge of disturbing the peace and heard recounted the story of his alleged attempt to kidnap the child and his wife's pursuit of him as she brandished a chair. The couple separated in 1910, reunited and again separated two weeks ago. The wife sued for separate maintenance.

Carson said he objected to the way she was raising the girl, who is 6 years old, and wanted to place her in other hands. He was given a suspended sentence of $60 or sixty days.

Unionite Gamblers Fined.

Harry Smith, secretary of the local Boilermakers' Union and a striker, pleaded guilty to the charge that he conducted a game of draw poker in the kitchen of his home, No. 542½ Wall street, when arraigned before Police Judge Chesbro yesterday on a complaint sworn to by Plainclothesman Robinson. He was fined $25 or twenty-five days, as were Roy E. Anderson and Edward Freeman, who also admitted their guilt. Henry Lee, the fourth member of the party, forfeited bail. Smith and his friends were arrested late Tuesday night by Sergt. Amann and members of the Metropolitan Squad. Smith was unable to give the $100 cash bail required and passed the night in jail.

Afraid of Himself.

James McNamara was haled before Police Judge Chesebro yesterday on an intoxication charge.

"I'm guilty, your honor," he pleaded. "I got to the point where I was afraid I would do injury to myself or somebody else, so I went to the County Hospital. I asked them to take care of me. They sent me to the City Jail. Will you give me a suspended sentence?"

"No," replied the court. "We'll keep you in jail here a few days until you get over that feeling; $5 or five days."

Jollification Interrupted.

Detectives Dixon and Fitzgerald interrupted a dinner and jollification Tuesday night at No. 512 Ducommun street, when they arrested Clinton Hill, the entertainer. The warrant was issued on a complaint sworn to by J. D. Gallagher, a liveryman, No. 241 Alliso street, who charged Hill with having forged his name to a check for $42.50. The proceeds of this check, it is said, was used to furnish the refreshments. The jollification was in honor of Hill's recent release from the City Jail, where he had served a short time on a petty larceny charge. Hill was arraigned before Police Judge Chesebro yesterday. His examination is set for November 4. Bail was fixed at $2000.

Mode of Procedure of Some Attorneys and Agencies Illustrated in a Case in Justice Court.

The mode of procedure of some attorneys and collection agencies in Los Angeles was shown yesterday when Attorney W. J. Hittson appeared before Justice Canne, sitting for Justice Summerfield, suing to recover $163 alleged to be due for collection percentages and legal services performed for N. J. Piette.

Hittson testified that he had contracted to make collections for 50 per cent. of the amount he could get, and a fat honorarium in addition for "legal services." On this basis the court was obliged to allow him $68.50 for collection services.

Piette balked when Hittson asked $65 for legal advice in pushing a claim against an estate in the hands of Frank Bryson, public administrator. He said that D. C. Casselman, Bryson's deputy, had given all the legal advice needed in the case, as a matter of office business, and that Hittson's claim was an outrage. The court sustained him in this contention and Hittson did not get a cent.

WANTS HIS MONEY BACK.

Man Who Buys Domestic Utilities Company Contract Goes to Court in Effort to Recover.

The Domestic Utilities Company, through its agents, James and J. Frank Reeves, got into court again yesterday when Harry Gregg protested before Justice Reeve that he had been sold an unsigned contract to sell the company's washing machines, and that he could not do business with it. He asked that he be given back the purchase price, $150.

The contract was one of the endless-chain affairs the company has been selling, in which each agent is allowed to create a number of subagents, turning in a percentage to the company and keeping a fat slice himself. These contracts have been often in the Superior and Justice courts the past two years. James Reeves asserted that fifty washing machines have been placed to Gregg's credit in the warehouse of the company; but the latter seemed more concerned about getting his money back. Justice Reeve took the case under advisement.

WORTHLESS CHECKS.

Joseph Dierksen was held to answer in the Superior Court yesterday after a hearing before Justice Forbes on a charge of passing worthless checks. In default of $1000 bond he was taken to the County Jail. Dierksen was arrested in June on the same charge by Detectives Yarnell and Albert of the Nick Harris agency, but was released in this county, although held in Orange county under seven years' probation. Yarnell stated that when arrested a dozen bad checks were found upon Dierksen's person.

SELF-DEFENSE PLEA.

Forty Mexican witnesses crowded Justice Young's court yesterday to testify in the case of Blas Monroy, who recently shot Juan Robles to death and severely wounded his brother, Narciso Robles, at Montebello. Attorney Tom Johnston, acting for Monroy, is making a fight on a plea of self-defense, corroborated by many witnesses. Others took the opposite view and accused Monroy of undue aggression. Detectives who have worked on the case assert that there existed a feud of long standing between the men. The examination will be continued today.

SCORNS WARNING; IS SORRY.

Man Arrested As Swindler, Pays Tribute to Police—Is Told Not to Come to This City.

A two-year chase that led from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, the trial leading through almost all the large cities of the United States, came to an end in this city yesterday when John Williams was arrested by Detective Zeigler.

Williams is wanted in Chicago to answer to a swindling charge. With Williams was John Anderson, Zeigler declares Anderson is also a confidence man. He will probably be arraigned in the Police Court today on a vagrancy charge.

"You boys here are live ones," remarked Williams, when taken to the Central Station. "They have been after me for two years, but they never caught up with me. Half a dozen times I've been arrested on suspicion in as many large eastern cities, but none of the dicks identified me.

"I was warned not to come to Los Angeles, that if I did, I'd be picked up. But I grew a bit careless, and thought I could wander around a few days in the crowds without detection."

DANE LIBRARY DEDICATION.

The Lane medical library of Stanford University will be dedicated at San Francisco on Sunday afternoon. Addresses will be delivered by Timothy Hopkins, president of the trustees, and President David Starr Jordan.

NO APPROVAL HERE.

The demand of the California Furniture Company for a sum in excess of $33,000, alleged to be due as a balance from the county for furnishing the Hall of Records, was sent to the Supervisors yesterday without the approval of the District Attorney. It has been held up because the company is charged with collusion and fraud in the bidding and with having failed to fulfill adequately the terms of the contract.

Wear a Benjamin and Dress Better.

Let Us Overcoat You In a Benjamin

—The Best Clothes Contract you ever entered in all your life.

It is a fact amply justified by the garments. In fabrics—every yard of which is positively proven by severest tests; in tailoring technique—which is the dominant feature if they are to hold their shape. In style, where they are the criterion of the American market.

There is not a feature wherein Benjamin Clothes do not show their superiority, except in price, and there they are no higher than the average of good ready-for-service garments.
